Myths And Memories Of The Nation:

Myths and Memories of the Nation Anthony D. Smith, 1999 Nations and nationalism remain powerful phenomena in the contemporary world Why do they continue to inspire such passion and attachments Myths and Memories of the Nation explores the roots of nationalism by examining the myths symbols and memories of the nation through a ethno symbolic approach The book reveals the continuing power of myth and memory to mobilise define and shape people and their destinies It examines the variety and durability of ethnic attachments and national identities and assesses the contemporary revival of ethnic conflicts and nationalism The book analyses the depth of ethnic attachments and the persistence of nations to this day

Myths and Memories of the Easter Rising Jonathan Githens-Mazer, 2006 This book examines the political transformation and radicalisation of Ireland between the outbreak of the First World War August 1914 and Sinn Féin's landslide electoral victory in December 1918 It argues through a novel application of theories of ethno symbolism and social movement theory that the myths memories and symbols of the Irish nation formed the basis for interpretation of the events of the Easter Rising and that this interpretation stimulated members of the Irish nation to support radical nationalism The book calls this phenomenon the Cultural Trigger Point Through an examination of a variety of sources the book traces in particular the impact of the Great War on cultural and religious nationalism and its role in the rise of radical Irish nationalism

Restless Travellers Antonio José Miralles Pérez, 2011-08-08 The first part of this book deals with Britain's imperial age its militants and its critics The selection of works generates a large field of debate explored using traditional or innovative approaches The 19th century is presented as a time for writers J E Aylmer E Marryat Norris G A Henty Conan Doyle who tell stories of Europeans venturing forth into uncivilised regions of the world where they meet other races But writers of a different outlook are also considered Before the twilight of Empire women were born in England Virginia Woolf and in Ireland Elizabeth Bowen who would use the ductile means of literature to narrate journeys into the female self instead of masculine tales set in distant lands The imperial experience is a subject of concern and reflection with special interest when authored by natives of former colonies such as Michael Ondaatje's Hindu Sirk hero in The English Patient and the Nigerian girls in some of Patience Agbabi's poems The idea of travelling into or out of the culture to which one apparently belongs and the contradictory feelings such an experience causes pervades the writer's mind and the ensuing narrative The second part can be regarded as a North American miscellany mostly devoted to the African culture although also dealing with European heritage In order to recognise Asian and South American influences as well authors such as Fred Wah Ariel Dorfman and Julia Alvarez have been included Black literature is represented by two 19th century writers Mary Ann Shadd and Martin R Delany who remind us of the fight against slavery and segregation and the path to equality Various 20th century writers Toni Morrison Ernest Gaines Harryette Mullen August Wilson address the African Americans quest for identity presented by some as a journey southwards away from the place of birth or an unsatisfactory life and in search of self knowledge in the land of their forefathers These journeys provide materials for different genres and tones enabling readers to examine the aspirations and fears of a community whose contribution to the history and literature of America has stimulated continuous study The two parts of the book are connected by the underlying discussion of essential conflicts that have occupied travellers traversing imperial spaces or experiencing foreign lands as well as travellers who instead of exotic adventures or romantic sojourns want to settle in a new country be accepted by a nation their ancestors did not know or exercise rights they were denied on their native soil

Ah Q Archaeology Paul B. Foster,2006-01-01 Ah Q Archaeology concretely situates Lu Xun s critique of national character vis a vis metanarratives of nationalism and modernity through a close examination of his works in their historical context Paul B Foster uses a discursive approach to tie together Lu Xun s major theme of national character critique and its fate in China s tumultuous twentieth century

The roots of nationalism Lotte Jensen,2016-04-15 This collection brings together scholars from a wide range of disciplines to offer perspectives on national identity formation in various European contexts between 1600 and 1815 Contributors challenge the dichotomy between modernists and traditionalists in nationalism studies through an emphasis on continuity rather than ruptures in the shaping of European nations in the period while also offering an overview of current debates in the field and case studies on a number of topics including literature historiography and cartography

The Nation in History Anthony D. Smith,2000 An expert in the field analyzes the major debates between historians and social scientists on the nature and development of ethnic communities nations and nationalism In concise accessible prose Anthony D Smith provides a probing account of the leading assumptions and explanations of nationalism in different historical epochs Ranging broadly over the contributions and divergent perspectives of historians political scientists sociologists anthropologists and others who have contributed to these fundamental debates Smith codifies the most cogent responses that have been offered to three defining issues in this area the nature and origin of the nation and nationalism and the role of nations and nationalism in historical and especially recent social change Using the examples of Persia Israel and Greece for long term illustrations Smith also discusses ethnic and national identities in France Germany England Yugoslavia and elsewhere to illuminate the uses and the meaning of alternative theories and ends with a convincing case for the value of his own ethno symbolist approach

On Ruins of Empire George Mirsky,1997-01-21 This study sponsored by the MacArthur Foundation and the London School of Economics and Political Science analyzes the ethnopolitical situation in Russia and the other republics of the former Soviet Union particularly the southern tier states Respected Russian scholar Georgiy Mirsky provides an insider s look at the historical nature of the Russian and Soviet empires the development of ethnic and nationalistic identities within those empires and the present day situation with regard to hot and cold ethnic conflicts within and around Russia This important work will be of interest to scholars and policymakers in comparative politics international relations and Russian and Slavic studies

North Over South Susan-Mary Grant,2000-07-31 In most studies of nationalism the United States is curiously ignored or is examined only during its colonial and republican periods But it was the Civil War argues Susan Mary Grant that truly formed the American nation by unifying the states once and for all abolishing slavery and setting the country on the path to modernity In light of this says Grant the antebellum period was the crucial phase of American national construction In North Over South Grant offers an original and controversial interpretation of a much discussed but poorly understood period of American history Despite the attention generally given to Southern nationalism Grant focuses on what Northerners thought about the South and how their beliefs created a distinct outlook a Northern nationalism based on opposition to things Southern Grant identifies Northern views of the South between 1830 and 1856 and examines how they developed how they changed and how they were used by the Republican Party in its first national election campaign She demonstrates that the Republicans employed negative images of the South to transform Northern regionalism into a self styled American nationalism at the same time transforming the South into a region antithetical to the nation In support of this thesis Grant examines attitudes toward the South expressed by writers travelers and politicians Focusing on works of such prominent writers as Ralph Waldo Emerson William Cullen Bryant and Horace Mann she shows that the North used the South as a negative point of reference against which to define its own hence American identity effectively excluding the South from full participation in the process of American national construction This provocative study links the process of national construction in America with recent studies of European nationalism and fills a gap in the historiography of North South relations One of the first scholars to relate new theories of national construction to America Grant shows that the United States has more in common with the European experience than is often acknowledged and offers a unique and illuminating perspective on the process of American nation building Her book will be required reading for anyone interested in antebellum America and the origins of the Civil War scholars of nationalism ethnicity and global conflict Repositioning Race Sandra L. Barnes,Zandria F. Robinson,Earl Wright II,2014-04-10 In Repositioning Race leading African American sociologists assess the current state of race theory racial discrimination and research on race in order to chart a path toward a more engaged public scholarship They contemplate not only the paradoxes of Black freedom but also the paradoxes of equality and progress for the progeny of the civil rights generation in the wake of the election of the first African American US president Despite the proliferation of ideas about a postracial society the volume highlights the ways that racial discrimination persists in both the United States and the African Diaspora in the Global South allowing for unprecedented African American progress in the midst of continuing African American marginalization
