An Image Darkly Forming Bani Shorter, 2015-08-11 Originally published in 1987 a well known Jungian analyst the late Bani Shorter writes here about how women are initiated into becoming themselves Her book was an important contribution to the field of analytical psychology at the time as well as to the increasingly popular study of women s spirituality In former times transitions from one stage of life to another were prepared for and marked by ritual initiation in modern times this necessity is overlooked and women s natural development is made more difficult as a consequence Through working in close therapeutic relationships with women Bani Shorter found that when challenged by crises and transitions in their lives today s women instinctively create rituals nevertheless to mark their journey towards maturation wholeness and meaning In this process they discover something of who they are and recognise dimensions of themselves which have been previously repressed and undreamed of The stories unfolded here can be a guide for all women through their own rites of passage

The Multicultural Imagination Michael Vannoy Adams, 2019-07-16 The Multicultural Imagination is a challenging inquiry into the complex interrelationship between our ideas about race and color and the unconscious Michael Vannoy Adams takes a fresh look at the contributions of psychoanalysis to a question which affects every individual who tries to establish an effective personal identity in the context of their received racial identity Adams argues that race is just as important as sex or any other content of the unconscious drawing on clinical case material from contemporary patients for whom race or color is a vitally significant social and political concern that impacts on them personally He does not assume that racism or colorism will simply vanish if we psychoanalyse them but shows how a non defensive ego and a self image that is receptive to other images can move us towards a more productive discourse of cultural differences Wide ranging in its references and scope this is a book that provokes the reader analyst or not to confront personally those unconscious attitudes which stand in the way of authentic multicultural relationships
