or the big bang theory of modern physics myth is metaphor mirroring our deepest sense of ourselves in relation to existence itself Now in The World of Myth Leeming provides a sweeping anthology of myths ranging from ancient Egypt and Greece to the Polynesian islands and modern science We read stories of great floods from the ancient Babylonians Hebrews Chinese and Mayans tales of apocalypse from India the Norse Christianity and modern science myths of the mother goddess from Native American Hopi culture and James Lovelock's Gaia Leeming has culled myths from Aztec Greek African Australian Aboriginal Japanese Moslem Hittite Celtic Chinese and Persian cultures offering one of the most wide ranging collections of what he calls the collective dreams of humanity More important he has organized these myths according to a number of themes comparing and contrasting how various societies have addressed similar concerns or have told similar stories In the section on dying gods for example both Odin and Jesus sacrifice themselves to renew the world each dying on a tree Such traditions he proposes may have their roots in societies of the distant past which would ritually sacrifice their kings to renew the tribe In The World of Myth David Leeming takes us on a journey not through a maze of falsehood but through a marvellous world of metaphor metaphor for the story of the relationship between the known and the unknown both around us and within us Fantastic tragic bizarre sometimes funny the myths he presents speak of the most fundamental human experience a part of what Joseph Campbell called the wonderful song of the soul's high adventure Myths of the World Michael Jordan, 1993 The Myth of Continents Martin W.
