COVER Missions and Unity Norman E. Thomas, 2010-11-01 This study is the first comprehensive history of the impact of the modern missionary movement on the understanding of and work toward Christian unity It tells stories from all branches of the church Roman Catholic Orthodox and Protestant in its many types conciliar evangelical Pentecostal and independent Part 1 Historical highlights the contribution of modern missions to Christian unity from William Carey and his antecedents and peers to present day missions Part 2 Ten Models of Unity takes an inductive approach to history asking not how should Christians cooperate but how has the missionary movement helped Christians to work together at the local national regional and global level Part 3 Wider Ecumenism broadens the evidence to include how the missions movement has helped not only institutional churches but also broader society to have concern for the unity of the entire human family Included here is the story of how the Protestant missionary movement influenced the forming of the United Nations as well as the drafting of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights The study also covers the movement's impact on Christian attitudes toward and relations with persons of other faiths Mission and Unity is the standard reference work in the field for persons studying modern history modern church history missions and ecumenics Practices of Dialogue in the Roman Catholic Church

Bradford E. Hinze, 2006-01-01 Christians and Muslims Jutta Sperber, 2017-04-24 No detailed description available for Christians and Muslims Power and Partnership Jonathan S. Barnes, 2013-05-10 While the concept of partnership between churches in the Global North and South has been an ecumenical goal for well over eight decades realizing relationships of mutuality solidarity and koinonia has been to say the least problematic Seeking to understand the dynamics of power and control in these relationships this work traces the history of how partnership has been lived out both as a concept and in practice It is argued that many of the issues that are problematic for partnerships today can find their antecedents during colonial times at the very beginnings of the modern missionary movement For those interested in pursuing cross cultural partnerships today understanding this history and recognizing the use as well as the misuse of power is crucial as we seek genuine relationships of care and friendship in our fractured and divided world Progress in Unity? Martien E. Brinkman, 1995 As an expert and lively tour guide Brinkman takes the reader through the breathtaking landscape of a half century of ecumenical dialogue The author makes an invaluable contribution by his deft selection of documents his thought provoking commentary on key issues and his keen discernment of the missionary challenge that faces the church of Christ as it travels on the road to greater visible unity the work is equally suitable for personal reading and for the college or seminary classroom A veritable feast for ecumenical and evangelical readers This work is a refreshing stimulus to reflection prayer and action for the unity and mission of the church in a troubled world George Vandervelde President of the North American Academy of Ecumenists Professor of Systematic Theology Institute for Christian Studies Toronto Canada One thing becomes clear from Martien Brinkman's book those who claim that the ecumenical movement went into a deadlock have not studied its results Most people suffer from a lack of memory when it comes to the history of ecumenical theology during the past 70 years This book provides medicine for ecumenical amnesia It deals especially with the Faith and Order Movement and Commission within the World Council of Churches There flows from Brinkman's book a whole new stream of an ecumenical theological tradition which is scarcely known even to academic theologians This tradition treats of such matters as Scripture and Tradition Faith and Sacraments Church World and Kingdom of God This book provides an excellent overview and in depth evaluation of the major currents in this developing ecumenical tradition It will certainly promote its reception in the churches and its study in the academy At the same time however it keeps an eye open for the difficulties and tensions of the dialogue between ecumenical and evangelical Christians and between the theological methods of the North and the South It will be difficult to find any more reliable study guide to the results of the multilateral ecumenical dialogues of the twentieth century Anton Houtepen Professor of Ecumenism University of Utrecht The Netherlands This book conceived as a study guide to the Faith and Order Movement does precisely what it sets out to do and does it well It brings the reader into close contact with the documents and studies published by this influential section of the World Council of Churches Such an inventory comes at the right time just as the Commission on Faith and Order takes stock after the World Conference of Santiago and under the guidance of a new director It is no secret that Faith and Order has been invited to reflect upon its future orientation The well documented and orderly survey which Prof Brinkman offers us here will certainly be of help in such a process Jos Vercruyssen S J Professor of Church History and Ecumenism Pontifical Gregorian University Rome

Shaking the Fundamentals Jan van Lin, 2016-08-09 The issue central to this study can be considered one of the most pressing facing the World Council of Churches today and in the decades to come and is much greater than that which confronted the International Mission Council in the years 1910 to 1938 The question answered in this study is what significance can the theology of religions as it developed between 1910 Edinburgh and 1938 Tambaram have for present day endeavours to develop a more common understanding and vision within the ecumenical movement as regards the theological problem of religious plurality This significance becomes clear in the conclusions and suggestions in the final chapter One of these conclusions is that classic Trinitarian theology and Pneumatology will be incapable of drawing the theology of religions out of the present impasse as long as traditional Christological models continue to exist within them A commemoration of the

Edinburgh meeting will undoubtedly be organized in 2010 and in view of this commemoration Dr van Lin suggests considering the possibility of starting a process of reflection on the World Council of Churches theology of religions similar to those on Baptism Eucharist and Ministry and Towards the Common Expression of the Apostolic Faith Today Given the fact that the study of religious plurality shakes the ecumenical movement to its foundations within the foreseeable futures serious thought has to be given to placing the study of the theology of religions on the agenda of Faith and Order within the World Council of Churches A New Mission Agenda M. Stephen, 2007 Christian Faith and Violence 2 , 2019-12-30 Volumes 10 and 11 of Studies in Reformed Theology consist of the texts written for the fifth international conference of the International Reformed Theological Institute IRTI which was dedicated to the theme Christian Faith and Violence Specific theological questions were at the core of the discussions e g what does violence imply for the doctrine of God How to deal with biblical stories and commands that often contain an overwhelmingly violent character What about applying christian ethics in situations of violence that we are exposed to What is our calling in situations of oppression and a longing for liberation and justice The Twentieth Century Gregory Baum, 1999-01-01 An examination of the impact of major historical events of the 20th century on the interpretation theologians have given of the Christian message Events include the World Wars the Russian Revolution the Great Depression Nazism the Holocaust welfare capitalism and the free market economy There follow reflections from a contemporary perspective on important cultural and religious developments of the 20th century
