ABSTRACT

The purposes of this research were to study the behavior of watching news programs of people in the northern part of Thailand, attitude towards programming and content of narrating news programs, and compare the expectations and satisfaction of people in the northern part of Thailand towards watching a narrating news program. This research is quantitative research, with a comparative study of sports and entertainment news to watch news programs using questionnaires as a research tool. The research population consists of 1,600 people living in the north of Thailand with ages 15 and above. Data were analyzed using descriptive statistics and t-test (Independent Sample t-test and Pair sample t-test). The results revealed that most of the samples used to watch narrating news program on television, both on weekdays and holidays between 18.01 - 21.00 hrs which had the frequency of watching narrating news program every day. The narrating news program viewed because the language is easy to understand, and the reliability of the news programs is at a medium level. The results of the study also revealed that the sample group has an attitude towards program planning and contents of narrating news programs at a high level; the expectation was more significant than the satisfaction with the viewing of narrating news programs, which were the statistically significant difference at the 0.05. Entertainment and sports news have different attitudes towards programming and content of narrating news programs with statistically significant at the 0.05 level (P-value = 0.00), but the expectations and satisfaction are not different. While both types of news, sample groups were less satisfied with the narrating news programs than expected.

Introduction

In the digital era, the combination of the internet of thing (IOT) makes all technologies connected to networks with systematically for exchanging and sharing to each other both industry and business section. Furthermore, the society problem solving and how to spend the life is the reason why people has changed which is reflected by the behavior of using the internet. Especially, all the activities process has been activated through the mobile device due to the convenience, such as purchasing the product through online (E-Commerce), approaching the data, and using the social media (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and so on) [1]. From the behavior of using the internet of Thai people in 2019 found that Thai people used the internet (1 hour 22 minutes per day) which was longer than the previous year about 17 minutes. The behavior of using the internet for work/study (About 9 hours 52 minutes), using the internet on holiday (About 11 hours 38 minutes). (Office of National Digital Economy and Society Commission, 2019). [2] It can be seen that the pattern of watching TV program has been changed due to the variety selection, but most people are still watch the live TV program from the TV station (More than 84.90%) which the on demand watching rate has increased more than 15.10% (Thailand National Frequency Allocation, 2019). Considering into the detail found that most people watched the news TV program. Nevertheless, in order to open the opportunity for those entrepreneurs who want to step into the television industry, there was the setting of the first broadcasting master plan (2012-2016). [3] In the strategy 5.2 which is the strategy for the regulating of audio broadcasting and television broadcasting services, [4] the issue was the transforming from analog to digital and changing from the frequency concession to the license system. With high digital technologies cause the increasing of the TV channel, and terminated the monopoly system in television enterprise. However, the processing from the above statement affects the television entrepreneurs to focus the business factor for driving their enterprises, and it makes more competitive in the market since the principal of doing the business is advertising, and there are more than 20 channels in the digital TV. In the end, this causes the quality of TV program. All TV channels need to survive in their business, some of them might do something out of the regulations in order to convince people to watch, some of them put on the air with inappropriate content, presented the fake news (most of the fake news are the entertainment and the sport program).

The research is interested in studying and exploring the opinions of those people who watch the narrating news program. The researcher realize the importance of the region difference, so the researcher survey in the northern part of Thailand for studying the context. Because the northern part was the first region where people were getting into the elderly society, and the birth rate is at low level which will cause to the increasing of the age of dependency. In addition to, the researcher found that the family structure in the northern part has changed from extended family to nuclear family, and the size is smaller because the immigration for studying or working in the city and the divorce problem. It diminished the strength of the family institution and also lessen the role of taking care and creating the ethics for the family members.

Narrating The News:

Narrating the News Karen Roggenkamp, 2005 Due to a burgeoning print marketplace during the late nineteenth century urban newspapers felt pressure to create entertaining prose that appealed to readers drawing on popular literary genres such as travel adventures detective tales and historical romances as a way of framing the news for readers Using current events for their source documents reporters fashioned their own dramas based on those that readers recognized from a broadly drawn literary culture The desire to spin attractive popular tales sometimes came at the expense of factual information This novel commercialized and sensationalistic style of reporting called new journalism was closely tied to American fiction In Narrating the News Karen Roggenkamp examines five major stories featured in three respected New York newspapers during the 1890s the story of two antebellum hoaxes Nellie Bly's around the world journey Lizzie Borden's sensational trial Evangelina Cisneros's rescue from her Spanish captors and the Janet Cooke Jimmy's World scandal to illustrate how new journalism manipulated specific segments of the literary marketplace on vital topics in literary and cultural studies gender expansionism realism and professionalization Unlike previously published studies of literature and journalism which focus only on a few canonical figures Roggenkamp looks at part of the history of mass print communications more generally exposing the competitive and reinforcing interplay between specific literary genres and their journalistic revisions Narrating the News provides an original significant contribution to the fields of literature journalism history and cultural studies

Writing for Broadcast News Charles Raiteri, 2006 Writing for Broadcast News makes the storytelling elements that comprise a broadcast news story whether for radio or TV immediately accessible and understandable to beginning broadcast writers and journalism students Its step by step approach defines the parts necessary to structuring a story with a clear beginning middle and end by establishing a definite framework into which the anchor lead the reporter narrative and the actualities or sound bites fit to form a seamless compelling whole Starting with the idea that people are most interested in people no matter what the issue this instructive book emphasizes the human element and shows how to put a face on the story at the earliest possible moment It uses student report case histories to allow beginners to more easily learn the journalistic process and how to maintain its integrity and also features quizzes exercises based on actual news stories and critical evaluation checklists Writing for Broadcast News gives practical advice to guide aspiring broadcast reporters and writers toward becoming effective storytellers Data and Narrative in News Media Hai L. Tran,2025-09-30 Bringing together research from across media and psychology disciplines this book provides an understanding of the impact of using qualitative and quantitative forms of evidence in the news Drawing on previous studies with seemingly contradictory conclusions the author proposes an integrative framework that explains the differential roles of data and narrative in evidence based communication as well as the potential for their combination Bridging theory and practice this book delves into the specific conditions and key factors influencing information processing combining interdisciplinary scholarship from fields of media effects persuasion and cognitive psychology It emphasizes the importance of incorporating numerical and story elements into journalism through scientific methods underlining the effects on audience responses according to cognitive experiential theory Written accessibly and weaving in contemporary examples and data from around the world this book expands our understanding of why certain qualitative and quantitative forms of evidence turn out to be in effective translating these findings into take away lessons to inform more thoughtful news writing and production Data and Narrative in News Media is a versatile resource for researchers and scholars with an interest in media effects and the presentation of news The Dissemination of News and the Emergence of Contemporaneity in Early Modern Europe Brendan Maurice Dooley,2010 Modern communications allow the instant dissemination of information and images creating a sensation of virtual presence or contemporaneity at events that occur far away But how were time and space conceived before modernity When did this begin to change in Europe To help answer such questions this volume looks at the exchange of information and the development of communications networks at the dawn of journalism when widespread public and private networks first emerged for the transmission of political news The collection offers the first panoramic view of the way stories were born grew and matured during their transmission from source to source from country to country The results published here suggest that a continent wide network including manuscript and print for the transmission of stories from place to place existed and was effective Narrative and Media Rosemary Huisman,Julian Murphet,Anne Dunn,2006-01-26 Narrative and Media first published in 2006 applies narrative theory to media texts including film television radio advertising and print journalism Drawing on research in structuralist and post structuralist theory as well as functional grammar and image analysis the book explains the narrative techniques which shape media texts and offers interpretive tools for analysing meaning and ideology Each section looks at particular media forms and shows how elements such as chronology character and focalization are realized in specific texts As the boundaries between entertainment and information in the mass media continue to dissolve understanding the ways in which modes of story telling are seamlessly transferred from one medium to another and the ideological implications of these strategies is an essential aspect of media studies

Controversy as News Discourse Peter A. Cramer, 2011-06-17 This book presents a constitutive approach to controversy based on a discourse analysis of news texts focusing on the role of journalists as participants who shape public controversy for readers Drawing data from the Reuters Corpus the project identifies formulas that journalists use in reporting controversy and draws conclusions about how these serve professional and textual functions and how they shape public controversy as a natural historical and pragmatic event While the traditions of dialectic and rhetoric have focused on the prescriptive aim of training participants to resolve controversies in philosophical dialogue or public debate settings this orientation has tended to preempt questions about where controversy is located and how it is shaped This project contributes to descriptive ethnographic research about controversy using discourse analysis to address a problem in argumentation

Everyman News Michele Weldon, 2008 Examines how newspapers have changed over the past few years becoming story papers Comparing 850 stories story approaches and unofficial sourcing in twenty American newspapers from 2001 and 2004 Weldon reveals a shift toward features over hard news along with an increase in anecdotal or humanistic approaches to all stories Provided by publisher

Narrative Across Media Marie-Laure Ryan, 2004-01-01 Narratology has been conceived from its earliest days as a project that transcends disciplines and media The essays gathered here address the question of how narrative migrates mutates and creates meaning as it is expressed across various media Dividing the inquiry into five areas face to face narrative still pictures moving pictures music and digital media Narrative across Media investigates how the intrinsic properties of the supporting medium shape the form of narrative and affect the narrative experience Unlike other interdisciplinary approaches to narrative studies all of which have tended to concentrate on narrative across language supported fields this unique collection provides a much needed analysis of how narrative operates when expressed through visual gestural electronic and musical means In doing so the collection redefines the act of storytelling Although the fields of media and narrative studies have been invigorated by a variety of theoretical approaches this volume seeks to avoid a dominant theoretical bias by providing instead a collection of concrete studies that inspire a direct look at texts rather than relying on a particular theory of interpretation A contribution to both narrative and media studies Narrative across Media is the first attempt to bridge the two disciplines

Handbook of Research on Narrative Interactions Yilmaz, Recep, 2021-01-29 Our understanding of the concept of narrative has undergone a significant transformation over time particularly today as new communication technologies are developed and popularized As new narrative genres are born and old ones undergo great change by the minute a thorough understanding can shed light on which storytelling elements work best in what format That deep understanding can then help build strong satisfying stories The Handbook of Research on Narrative Interactions is an essential publication that examines the relationships between types of narratives in a shifting and widening scope of storytelling forms While highlighting a wide range of topics including contemporary culture advertising and transmedia storytelling this book is ideally designed for media professionals content creators advertisers entrepreneurs researchers academicians and students Pandemics, Publics, and Narrative Mark Davis, Davina Lohm, 2020-03-02 Research suggests that future influenza pandemics are inevitable as strains of the virus mutate in new ways With this uncomfortable reality in mind this book examines how the general public experienced the 2009 H1N1 influenza virus outbreak by bringing together stories about individuals perception of their illness as well as reflections on news vaccination social isolation and other infection control measures The book also charts the story telling of public life including the be alert not alarmed messages from the beginning of the outbreak through to the narratives that emerged later when the virus turned out to be less serious than initially thought Providing unprecedented insight into the lives of ordinary people faced with the specter of a potentially lethal virus and drawing on currents in sociocultural scholarship of narrative illness narrative and narrative medicine Pandemics Publics and Narrative develops a novel public health narrative approach of interest to health communicators and researchers across the social and health sciences The War Correspondance of the "Daily News", 1877: with a Connecting Narrative Forming a Continuous History of the War Between Russia and Turkey to the Fall of Kars ,1878 Security, Disinformation and Harmful Narratives: RT and Sputnik News Coverage about Sweden Maria Hellman, 2024-06-29 It is a well known fact both among scholars of propaganda and disinformation and among political leaders that Sputnik and RT are using their news coverage for disinformation purposes to harm Western and European societies Following the Russian invasion of Ukraine which enhanced the security threat by disinformation the EU decided to ban these two media Against this backdrop the study asks what the disinformation about Sweden in Sputnik and RT looked like prior to the ban It should be noted that both channels still publish news for a European audience by way of VPN and other pathways It is done by way of a narrative approach which means that the analyses seek to trace what stories that were told and how The study thus analyzes the narrative logic of propaganda and disinformation narratives promulgated by Russian state sponsored media platforms Sputnik and RT and aim to show how these media have sought to denigrate Sweden This is an open access book Epistemology of News Frame Xiao Wei, 2019-12-17 Frame analysis has long been an active field in journalism and communication but there are many chaotic ambiguous definitions and duplicated studies This book combines subjective philosophy with empirical research to fully explore what news framing is and how a media organization s news frame is constructed Topics discussed include connotation and composition facts and sources functions and effects construction and updates competition and negotiation presenting as a whole a clear and systematic epistemological framework and providing inspiration for news frame researchers media practitioners and the public to understand the role of the news media In addition the book also examines and analyses empirical cases from different countries and regions including particular emphasis on frame analysis in China which can help foreign readers better understand Chinese media reports

Narrative Factuality Monika Fludernik, Marie-Laure Ryan, 2019-12-16 The study of narrative the object of the rapidly growing discipline of narratology has been traditionally concerned with the fictional narratives of literature such as novels or short stories But narrative is a transdisciplinary and transmedial concept whose manifestations encompass both the fictional and the factual In this volume which provides a companion piece to Tobias Klauk and Tilmann Koppes Fiktionalität Ein interdisziplinäres Handbuch the use of narrative to convey true and reliable information is systematically explored across media cultures and disciplines as well as in its narratological stylistic philosophical and rhetorical dimensions At a time when the notion of truth has come under attack it is imperative to reaffirm the commitment to facts of certain types of narrative and to examine critically the foundations of this commitment But because it takes a background for a figure to emerge clearly this book will also explore nonfactual types of narratives thereby providing insights into the nature of narrative fiction that could not be reached from the narrowly literary perspective of early narratology

Unreliable Narration and Trustworthiness Vera Nünning, 2015-02-24 Though the phenomenon known as unreliable narration or narrative unreliability has received a lot of attention during the last two decades narratological research has mainly focused on its manifestations in narrative fiction particularly in homodiegetic or first person narration Except for film forms and functions of unreliable narration in other genres media and disciplines have so far been relatively neglected The present volume redresses the balance by directing scholarly attention to disciplines and domains that narratology has so far largely ignored It aims at initiating an interdisciplinary approach to and debate on narrative unreliability exploring unreliable narration in a broad range of literary genres other media and non fictional text types contexts and disciplines beyond literary studies Crossing the boundaries between genres media and disciplines the volume acknowledges that the question of whether or not to believe or trust a narrator transcends the field of literature The issues of unreliability and untrustworthiness play a crucial role in many areas of human life as well as a wide spectrum of academic fields ranging from law to history and from psychology to the study of culture

Beginning the Good News Francis J. Moloney, 2006-12-01 Beginning the Good News Francis Moloney provides a narrative critical reading of Mark 1:1-13 Matthew 1:2 Luke 1:2 and John 1:1-18 to illustrate that the readings of the Gospels set up a tension in the reader who learns from the beginning but still cannot rest satisfied The Gospels beginnings promise the reader the great prize of understanding later

The Power of Data ZHANG Chao, 2023-08-04 This book is a theoretical work on data journalism production that drills down the models narratives and ethics From idea to concept and then to a widespread innovative trend data journalism has become a new global paradigm facilitating the transformation to focus on data convergence and intelligence Drawing on various theoretical resources of communication narratology ethics management literature and art

game studies and data science this book explores the cutting edge issues in current data journalism production It critically analyzes crucial topics including the boundary generalization of data journalism data science methodology the illusion of choice in interactive narratives the word image relationship in data visualization and pragmatic objectivity and transparency in production ethics Provided with a toolbox of classic examples of global data journalism this book will be of great value to scholars and students of data journalism or new media data journalists and journalism professionals interested in the areas
