Narrative Theology in Early Jewish Christianity William Richard Stegner, 1989 Spine title Narrative theology Includes bibliographical references

Turmoil, Trauma and Tenacity in Early Jewish Literature Nicholas P. L. Allen, Jacob J. T. Doedens, 2022-08-01 This volume is written in the context of trauma hermeneutics of ancient Jewish communities and their tenacity in the face of adversity i e as recorded in the MT LXX Pseudepigrapha the Deuterocanonical books and even Cognate literature In this regard its thirteen chapters are concerned with the most recent outputs of trauma studies They are written by a selection of leading scholars associated to some degree with the Hungaro South African Study Group Here trauma is employed as a useful hermeneutical lens not only for interpreting biblical texts and the contexts in which they were originally produced and functioned but also for providing a useful frame of reference As a consequence these various research outputs each in their own way confirm that an historical and theological appreciation of these early accounts and interpretations of collective trauma and its implications perceived or otherwise is critical for understanding the essential substance of Jewish cultural identity As such these essays are ideal for scholars in the fields of Biblical Studies particularly those interested in the Pseudepigrapha the Deuterocanonical books and Cognate literature

New Narratives for Old Anthony Briggman, Ellen Scully, 2022-06-17 Guilds and conferences have grown up around historical theology yet no volume has ever been dedicated to the definition and illustration of the method undergirding historical theology This volume both defines and illustrates the methodology of historical theology especially as it relates to the study of early Christianity and situates historical theology among other methodological approaches to early Christianity including confessional apologetics constructive theology and socio cultural history Historical theology as a discipline stands in contrast to these other approaches to the study of early Christianity In contrast to systematic or constructive approaches it remains essentially historical with a desire to elucidate the past rather than speak to the present In contrast to socio historical approaches it remains essentially theological with a concern to value and understand the full complexity of the abstract thought world that stands behind the textual tradition of early Christian theology Moreover historical theology is characterized by the methodological presupposition that unless good reason exists to think otherwise the theological accounts of the ancient church articulate the genuine beliefs of their authors The significance of this volume lies in the methodological definition it offers The strength of this volume lies in the fact that its definition of the historical method of studying theology is not the work of a single mind but that of over twenty respected scholars many of whom are leaders in the field The volume begins with an introductory essay that orients readers to various approaches to early Christian literature it moves to two technical essays that define the historical method of studying early Christian theology and then it illustrates the practice of this method with more than twenty essays that cover a period stretching from the first century to the dawn of the seventh

Narratives about Jews among Muslims in Norway Vibeke Moe Bjørnbekk, 2024-06-17 What is the nature of Muslim Jewish relations in Europe today Based on qualitative interview data this book explores narratives about Jews among Muslims in Norway Drawing on culturally embedded narratives as well as personal experiences interviewees reflect on the relationship between Jews and Muslims The interreligious exchange between Islam and Judaism is as old as Islam Today the Arab Israeli conflict has become an important frame of reference in the public discourse on Muslim Jewish relations The narratives presented in this book delineate shifting community boundaries and identifications that transcend dichotomised notions of Muslims versus Jews The analysis shows how Jewish history in Europe and the history of modern antisemitism serve as interpretative keys in the narratives used for explaining the situation of the Muslim minority today Furthermore the book demonstrates how interviewees perceptions of society s attitudes toward Muslim and Jewish experiences also strongly influence their perceptions of Muslim Jewish relations

A Narrative Theology of the New Testament Timo Eskola, 2015-07-21

Focusing on the metanarrative of exile and restoration Timo Eskola claims that a post liberal narrative New Testament theology is both consistent and explanative Combining a post New Quest perspective on Jesus with an eschatological reading of Paul the author states that Jesus temple criticism aims at restoration eschatology Jesus starts a priestly community that expects God s jubilee to begin with Jesus work and proceed with the preaching of the new gospel The reception of this message in the post Easter church results in resurrection Christology that proclaims Jesus Davidic kingship on God s throne of glory Both Paul and Jewish Christian teachers later present Christ s community as a new temple where believers serve the Lord as priests of the new covenant Furthermore restoration eschatology provides a new basis for understanding Paul s contrast with the words of the law and his teaching of justification

Passion, Persecution, and Epiphany in Early Jewish Literature Nicholas Peter Legh Allen, Pierre J. Jordaán, József Zsengellér, 2020-04-08 This volume examines Jewish literature produced from c 700 B C E to c 200 C E from a socio theological perspective In this context it offers a scholarly attempt to understand how the ancient Jewish psyche dealt with times of extreme turmoil and how Jewish theology altered to meet the challenges experienced The volume explores various early Jewish literature including both the canonical and apocryphal scripture Here reference is often made to a divine epiphany a moment of unexpected and prodigious revelation or insight as a response to abuse suffering and passion Many of the chapters deal with these issues in relation to the Antiochan crisis of 169 to 164 B C E in Judea one of the more notable periods of oppression This watershed event appears to have served as a catalyst for the new apocalyptic texts which were produced up until c 200 C E and which reflect a new theological dynamic in Judaism one that informed subsequent Christianity and Rabbinic Judaism Passion Persecution and Epiphany in Early Jewish Literature will be of interest to anyone working on the Bible both Masoretic and LXX and early Jewish literature as well as students of Jewish history and the Levant in the classical period

Early Christian Interpretation of the Scriptures of Israel Craig A. Evans, James A. Sanders, 1997-09-01 This book explores the ways in which early Christian writers and communities from late antiquity through the New Testament period interpreted the scriptures of Israel as they sought to understand Jesus and the Gospel in relation to God's revelation and past acts in history. These essays represent work on the growing edge of studies of the relationship of the Old Testament to the New Testament. The contents authored by both veteran and younger scholars treat methods and canons: Jesus and the Gospels and Acts and the Epistles. Rabbinic Theology and Jewish Intellectual History Meir Seidler, 2013. Rabbi Loew the Maharal of Prague remains one of the most influential and prolific Jewish thinkers of his time. Widely considered one of the fathers of Hassidic thought and a harbinger of Modern Jewish philosophy, his life and work have retained their influence and remain prevalent today. Adopting a multi-disciplinary approach, this book ranges from an analysis of the historical background to Maharal's thought to examining the relevance of this thought in the modern era, before addressing the popular cultural and folkloristic reception of Maharal's impact on modern Western culture. This book presents a new understanding of familiar material and will be an invaluable asset to students and scholars of Modern and Early Modern Jewish History and Intellectual thought. A Guide to Early Jewish Texts and Traditions in Christian Transmission Gabriele Boccaccini, Lorenzo DiTommaso, David Hamidovic, Michael E. Stone, 2019-10-14. The Jewish culture of the Hellenistic and early Roman periods established a basis for all monotheistic religions, but its main sources have been preserved to a great degree through Christian transmission. This Guide is devoted to problems of preservation, reception, and transformation of Jewish texts and traditions of the Second Temple period in the many Christian milieus from the ancient world to the late medieval era. It approaches this corpus not as an artificial collection of reconstructed texts, a body of hypothetical originals, but rather from the perspective of the preserved materials examined in their religious, social, and political contexts. It also considers the other non-Christian channels of the survival of early Jewish materials, including Rabbinic, Gnostic, Manichaean, and Islamic. This unique project brings together scholars from many different fields in order to map the trajectories of early Jewish texts and traditions among diverse later cultures. It also provides a comprehensive and comparative introduction to this new field of study while bridging the gap between scholars of early Judaism and of medieval Christianity. Israel in the Wilderness Kenneth E. Pomykala, 2008-03-31. This collection of essays examines how stories from the biblical narrative of Israel in the Wilderness (Exodus 16, Deuteronomy 34) were interpreted by later Jewish and Christian writers (ca. 400 BCE–500 CE). Stories such as those about manna and water from a rock, the Golden Calf incident, Korah's rebellion, and the death of Moses provided later Jewish and Christian writers with a treasure trove of material for reflection and interpretation. Whereas individual essays investigate how particular literary works such as Ben Sira, Qumran documents, New Testament writings, the Apostolic Fathers, and Targums appropriated the biblical text, taken together, the essays form an exercise in uncovering the hermeneutical imagination of interpreters during formative periods of Jewish and Christian thought. This volume will be valuable to those interested in ancient Judaism and early Christianity, the history of interpretation of the Hebrew Bible, and the hermeneutical appropriation of sacred texts.
