Nature As Landscape Dwelling And Understanding:

Nature as Landscape Kraft E. Von Maltzahn, 1994-10-18 Von Maltzahn focuses on how we experience aspects of nature in terms of their outer appearance such as landscape and contends that the naturalistic scientific tradition has taught us to divorce ourselves from the natural world to become impartial observers rather than participants He examines the nature of the human life world and describes the process of self deception that has led to the contemporary dismissal of that life world as merely subjective Drawing on phenomenology semiotics visual thinking gestalt psychology and Polanyi s arguments about tacit knowing he offers an alternative way of perceiving the natural world that would reunite humans and nature Given the current state of the global environment it is crucial that the debate on the relationship of human beings and nature take place on many levels Nature as Landscape Kraft Eberhard Von Maltzahn, Maltzahn, Kraft Eberhard Maltzahn, 1994

Nature as Landscape Maltzahn, Kraft Eberhard Maltzahn, 1994 The Political Economy of Nature R. Boardman, 2001-05-16 The Political Economy of Nature draws extensively on current insights from sociology ecology economics and earth science Robert Boardman pools these diverse resources to argue that the investigation of environmental issues raises complex theoretical questions which can only be answered through more sustained links between the natural and social sciences With global issues becoming an increasingly vital part of environmental debates Boardman shows how understanding of ecological problems can be increased in both International Relations and International Political Economy

Tree Cultures Paul Cloke, Owain Jones, 2020-07-12 The relationship between nature and culture has become a popular focus in social science but there have been few grounded accounts of trees Providing shelter fuel food and tools trees have played a vital role in human life from the earliest times but their role in symbolic expression has been largely overlooked For example trees are often used to express nationalistic feelings Germans drew heavily on tree and forest imagery in nation building and the idea of hearts of oak has been central to concepts of English identity Classic scenes of ghoulish trees coming to life and forests closing in on unsuspecting passers by commonly feature in the media In other instances trees are used to represent paradisaical landscapes and symbolize the ideologies of conservation and concern for nature Offering new theoretical ideas this book looks at trees as agents that co constitute places and cultures in relationship with human agency What happens when trees connect with human labour technology retail and consumption systems What are the ethical dimensions of these connections The authors discuss how trees can affect and even define notions of place and the ways that particular places are recognized culturally Working trees companion trees wild trees and collected or conserved trees are considered in relation to the dynamic politics of conservation and development that affect the values given to trees in the contemporary world Building on the growing field of landscape study this book offers rich insights into the symbolic and practical roles of trees It will be vital reading for anyone interested in the anthropology of landscape forestry conservation and development and for those concerned with the social science of nature Nature, Culture, and Big Old Trees Kit

Anderson, 2010-06-04 Big old trees inspire our respect and even affection The poet Walt Whitman celebrated a Louisiana live oak that was solitary in a wide flat space Uttering joyous leaves all its life without a friend a lover near Groves and alleys of live oaks remain as distinctive landscape features on Louisiana's antebellum plantations while massive individuals still cast their shade over churches graveyards parks and roads Cajuns have adopted the Evangeline Oak as one of their symbols And the attachment that Louisianians feel for live oaks is equaled by that of Guatemalans for ceibas the national tree of Guatemala Long before Europeans came to the Americas the ceiba tallest of all native species was the Mayan world tree the center of the universe Today many ceibas remain as centers of Guatemalan towns spreading their branches over the central plaza and marketplace In this compelling book Kit Anderson creates a vibrant portrait of the relationship between people and trees in Louisiana and Guatemala Traveling in both regions she examined and photographed many old live oaks and ceibas

and collected the stories and symbolism that have grown up around them She describes who planted the trees and why how the trees have survived through many human generations and the rich meanings they hold for people today Anderson also recounts the natural history of live oaks and ceibas to show what human use of the landscape has meant for the trees This broad perspective blending cultural geography and natural history adds a new dimension to our understanding of how big old trees and the places they help create become deeply meaningful even sacred for human beings

Onto-Ethologies Brett Buchanan, 2008-10-22 German biologist Jakob von Uexküll focused on how an animal through its behavioral relations both impacts and is impacted by its own unique environment Onto Ethologies traces the influence of Uexküll s ideas on the thought of Martin Heidegger Maurice Merleau Ponty and Gilles Deleuze as they explore how animal behavior might be said to approximate but also differ from human behavior It is the relation between animal and environment that interests Heidegger Merleau Ponty and Deleuze and yet it is the differences in their approach to Uexküll and to concepts such as world body and affect that prove so fascinating This book explores the ramifications of these encounters including how animal life both broadens and deepens the ontological significance of their respective philosophies

Nature and Social Theory Adrian

Franklin,2002 This book asks the questions can Man be separated from Nature Is it valid to seek to control Nature It argues that the firm modern boundaries between nature and culture have been breached and pulls together new strands of thinking about nature which suggest that humanity and nature have never been separate The argument is developed through a critical discussion of the Romantic ideal of pure nature unsullied by humanity and largely confined to fragile margins in need of protection and more recent discourses which identify nature with environment and cast man in the role of a polluter and destroyer

Spatial Humanities Technology, Mythology and the Search for Meaning Douglas Francis, 2023-11-15 This book offers a big picture look at the evolution of Western thought on technology by focusing on seven periods when there was a paradigm shift in perspective A techno myth is used to identify shape and capture the beliefs of each era Drawing from philosophy literature social sciences physical sciences mythology and cultural history the book brings to life the ideas of the great thinkers and the ancient myths What their message tells us is that we have failed to learn from the mistakes of the past We have allowed technology to take control of our lives and narrowed our thinking to a one dimensional materialistic perspective We have become prisoners in Max Weber s metaphoric iron cage But they also tell us how to free ourselves by humanizing technology so that humans are in control which is explored in depth in this book Sacred Landscapes in Antiquity Ralph Haussler, Gian Franco Chiaia, 2020-07-31 From generation to generation people experience their landscapes differently Humans depend on their natural environment it shapes their behavior while it is often felt that deities responsible for both natural benefits and natural calamities such as droughts famines floods and landslides need to be appeased We presume that in many societies lakes rivers rocks mountains caves and groves were considered sacred Individual sites and entire landscapes are often associated with divine actions mythical heroes and etiological myths Throughout human history people have also felt the need to monumentalize their sacred landscape But this is where the similarities end as different societies had very different understandings believes and practices The aim of this new thematic appraisal is to scrutinize carefully our evidence and rethink our methodologies in a multi disciplinary approach More than 30 papers investigate diverse sacred landscapes from the Iberian peninsula and Britain in the west to China in the east They discuss how to interpret the intricate web of ciphers and symbols in the landscape and how people might have experienced it We see the role of performance ritual orality textuality and memory in people s sacred landscapes A diachronic view allows us to study how landscapes were rewritten adapted and redefined in the course of time to suit new cultural political and religious understandings not to mention the impact of urbanism on people s understandings A key question is how was the landscape manipulated transformed and monumentalized especially the colossal investments in monumental architecture we see in certain socio historic contexts or the creation of an alternative humanmade seemingly non natural landscape with perfectly astronomically aligned buildings that define a cosmological order Sacred Landscapes therefore aims to analyze the complex links between landscape religiosity and society developing a dialectic framework that explores sacred landscapes across the ancient world in a dynamic holistic contextual and historical perspective Landscape and the Ideology of Nature in Exurbia K. Valentine Cadieux, Laura Taylor, 2013-05-07 This book explores the role of the ideology of nature in producing urban and exurban sprawl It examines the ironies of residential development on the metropolitan fringe where the search for nature brings residents deeper into the world from which they are imagining their escape of Federal Express technologically mediated communications global supply chains and the anonymity of the global marketplace and where many of the central features of exurbia very low density residential land use monster homes and conversion of forested or rural land for housing contribute to the very problems that the social and environmental aesthetic of exurbia attempts to avoid The volume shows how this contradiction to live in the green landscape and to protect the green landscape from urbanization gets caught up and represented in the ideology of nature and how this ideology in turn constitutes and is constituted by the landscapes being urbanized

Habel, 2016-11-16 In 2015 a conference on Rediscovering the Spiritual in God's Creation was held at the Serafino winery complex in the McLaren Vale region of South Australia The aim of the conference was not to seek consensus but to survey the landscape with a view to intentional responsible action in caring for God's creation Delegates were challenged to recognize their own worldviews and to widen their horizons to encompass the enormity of the transcendence and immanence of God's presence in all creation A group of leading international scholars and experts in the fields of science ecology theology and ethics participated in a multidisciplinary conversation on the spiritual in creation with the aim of discovering fresh horizons with regard to creation care liturgy justice and discipleship within the Christian community The chapters in this volume reflect the diversity of perspectives summarized in The Serafino Declaration which was crafted towards the end of the conference This declaration which opens the volume outlines a range of views relating to the presence of the spiritual in creation views that are both traditional and radical This volume highlights the current concern over ecological destruction and finds sources of inspiration in the deepest roots of our traditions and forms of spirituality to sustain efforts towards custodianship of the land and care for God's creation Contributors David Rhoads Paul Santmire Denis Edwards Bob White Heather Eaton Ernst Conradie Vicky Balabanski Celia Deane Drummond Mark Worthing Emily Colgan Dianne Rayson Anne Gardner Mark Liederbach Patricia Fox Anne Elvey Mick Pope

Unsettling Nature Taylor Eggan, 2022-03-24 The German poet and mystic Novalis once identified philosophy as a form of homesickness More than two centuries later as modernity's displacements continue to intensify we feel Novalis's homesickness more than ever Yet nowhere has a longing for home flourished more than in contemporary environmental thinking and particularly in eco phenomenology If only we can reestablish our sense of material enmeshment in nature so the logic goes we might reverse the degradation we humans have wrought and in saving the earth we can once again dwell in the nearness of our own being Unsettling Nature opens with a meditation on the trouble with such ecological homecoming narratives which bear a close resemblance to narratives of settler colonial homemaking Taylor Eggan demonstrates that the Heideggerian strain of eco phenomenology along with its well trod categories of home dwelling and world produces uncanny effects in settler colonial contexts He reads instances of nature's defamiliarization not merely as psychological phenomena but also as symptoms of the repressed consciousness of coloniality The book at once critiques Heidegger's phenomenology and brings it forward through chapters on Willa Cather D H Lawrence Olive Schreiner Doris Lessing and J M Coetzee Suggesting that alienation may in fact be natural to the human condition and hence something worth embracing instead of repressing Unsettling Nature concludes with a speculative proposal to transform eco phenomenology into exo phenomenology an experiential mode that engages deeply with the alterity of others and with the self as its own Other
