Nature Of Hunting:

Going Wild Jan E. Dizard, 1994 Pivoting on a recent controversy over a proposed deer hunt on the largest public watershed in Massachusetts sociologist Dizard explores how different people think of nature He interviewed resource managers animals rights advocates hunters and environmentalists and discovered that those who supported the hunt thought nature was chaotic and dangerous and had to be managed and those who opposed it thought nature was fragile and should be left alone Paper edition unseen 12 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Southern Hunting in Black and White Stuart A. Marks, 1991 For many Southern men living in or close to rural landscapes hunting is a passion But it is not a timeless activity in a cultural void Whether pursuers of fox or raccoon deer or rabbits quail or dove Southern hunters reveal for Stuart Marks complex patterns of male bonding social status and relationships with nature Marks who has written two outstanding books on hunting in Africa was born and has long lived in the South Examining Southern hunting from frontier times through the antebellum era to the present day he shows it to be a litmus test of rural identity Drawing on the latest anthropological theory statistical sources extensive interviews and historical research Marks has crafted a multifaceted account of Southern hunting Relations of race property gender and region appear in fresh guises in this innovative and intriguing study The portrayal of the contemporary state of hunting is especially interesting revealing both the continuities with the past and the new pressures on the sport Virginia Quarterly Review The Nature of Endangerment in India Ezra Rashkow, 2023-01-30 This book is a study of the concepts of endangerment and extinction Examining interlinking discourses of biological and cultural diversity loss in western and central India it problematizes the long history of human endangerment and extinction discourse Hunting - Philosophy for Everyone Nathan Kowalsky, 2011-01-14 Hunting Philosophy for Everyone presents a collection of readings from academics and non academics alike that move beyond the ethical justification of hunting to investigate less traditional topics and offer fresh perspectives on why we hunt The only recent book to explicitly examine the philosophical issues surrounding hunting Shatters many of the stereotypes about hunting forcing us to rethink the topic Features contributions from a wide range of academic and non academic sources including both hunters and non hunters Nature and Nation Jeyamalar Kathirithamby-Wells, 2005-10-31 Nature and Nation explores the relations between people and forests in Peninsular Malaysia where the planet s richest terrestrial eco system met head on with the fastest pace of economic transformation experienced in the tropical world It engages the interplay of history culture science economics and politics to provide a holistic interpretation of the continuing relevance of forests to state and society in the moist tropics Malaysia has long been singled out for emulation by developing nations an accolade contradicted in recent years by concerns over its capital rather than poverty driven forest depletion The Malaysian case supports the call for re appraisal of entrenched prescriptions for development that go beyond material needs Book cover The Nature of Empires and the Empires of Nature Karl S. Hele, 2013-09-28 Drawing on themes from John MacKenzie

s Empires of Nature and the Nature of Empires 1997 this book explores from Indigenous or Indigenous influenced perspectives the power of nature and the attempts by empires United States Canada and Britain to control it It also examines contemporary threats to First Nations communities from ongoing political environmental and social issues and the efforts to confront and eliminate these threats to peoples and the environment It becomes apparent that empire despite its manifestations of power cannot control or discipline humans and nature Essays suggest new ways of looking at the Great Lakes watershed and the peoples and empires contained within it The Nature of Heritage Lynn Meskell,2011-08-26

The Nature of Heritage The New South Africa is unique in revealing the conflicts inherent in preserving both natural and cultural heritage by examining the archaeological ethnographic and economic evidence of a nation s attempts to master its past and its future Provides a classic example of how nations attempt to overcome a negative heritage through past mastering of their histories Evaluates the continuing dominance of nature and conservation over concerns for cultural heritage Employs ethnographic and archaeological methodologies to reveal how the past is processed into a new national heritage Identifies heritage as therapy exemplified in the strategy for repairing legacies of racial and ethnic difference in post apartheid South Africa Highlights the role of archaeological heritage sites national parks and protected areas in economic development and social empowerment Explores how nature trumps culture and the global implications of the new configurations of heritage Civilizing Nature Bernhard Gissibl,Sabine Höhler,Patrick Kupper,2012-11-01

National parks are one of the most important and successful institutions in global environmentalism Since their first designation in the United States in the 1860s and 1870s they have become a global phenomenon The development of these ecological and political systems cannot be understood as a simple reaction to mounting environmental problems nor can it be explained by the spread of environmental sensibilities Shifting the focus from the usual emphasis on national parks in the United States this volume adopts an historical and transnational perspective on the global geography of protected areas and its changes over time It focuses especially on the actors networks mechanisms arenas and institutions responsible for the global spread of the national park and the associated utilization and mobilization of asymmetrical relationships of power and knowledge contributing to scholarly discussions of globalization and the emergence of global environmental institutions and governance

Nature, God and Humanity Richard L. Fern,2002-04-04 Nature God and Humanity clarifies the task of forming an ethics of nature thereby empowering readers to develop their own critical faith based ethics Calling on original thought provoking analyses and arguments Richard L Fern frames a philosophical ethics of nature assesses it scientifically finds support for it in traditional biblical theism and situates it culturally Though defending the moral value of beliefs affirming the radical Otherness of God and human uniqueness this book aims not to compel the adoption of any particular ethic but rather illumine the contribution diverse forms of inquiry make to an ethics of nature How does philosophy clarify moral conviction What does science tell us about nature Why does religious faith matter Rejecting the illusion of a single rationally compelling ethics

Fern answers these questions in a way that fosters both agreement and disagreement allowing those holding conflicting ethics of nature to work together for the common good

A View to a Death in the Morning Matt Cartmill,1999-06

Searches out the origins allure of the myth of Man the Hunter Shows us how hunting has figured in the western imagination from the myth of Artemis to the tale of Bambi how its evolving image has reflected our own view of ourselves Takes us back through literature history to other versions of the hunting hypothesis By delving further into the history of hunting from its promotion as a maker of men builder of character to its image as an aristocratic pastime charged with ritual eroticism Cartmill shows how the hunter has always stood between the human domain the wild his status changing with cultural conceptions of that boundary

The Politics of Nature and Science in Southern Africa Maano Ramutsindela,Giorgio

Miescher,Melanie Boehi,2016-09-12 This book brings together recent and ongoing empirical studies to examine two relational kinds of politics namely the politics of nature i e how nature conservation projects are sites on which power relations play out and the politics of the scientific study of nature These are discussed in their historical and present contexts and at specific sites on which particular human environment relations are forged or contested This spatio temporal juxtaposition is lacking in current research on political ecology while the politics of science appears marginal to critical scholarship on social nature Specifically the book examines power relations in nature related activities demonstrates conditions under which nature and science are politicised and also accounts for political interests and struggles over nature in its various forms The ecological socio political and economic dimensions of nature cannot be ignored when dealing with present day environmental issues Nature conservation regulations are concerned with the management of flora and fauna as much as with humans Various chapters in the book pay attention to the ways in which nature science and politics are interrelated and also co constitutive of each other They highlight that power relations are naturalised through science and science related institutions and projects such as museums botanical gardens wetlands parks and nature reserves

Kindred Nature Barbara T. Gates,1998 Centers on what a number of British Victorian and Edwardian women said and did in the name of nature what part they played in the cultural reconstruction of nature that transpired in the years just proceeding the publication of Darwin s major work and in the wake of the Darwinian revolution Introduction

The Culture of Hunting in Canada is about a pivotal but little studied aspect of Canadian history culture and society It covers elements of the history of hunting from the pre colonial period until the present in all parts of Canada featuring essays by practitioners and scholars of hunting and by pro and anti hunting lobbyists The result crosses the boundaries between scholarship and personal reflection and between academia and advocacy The essays collected here address important historical and contemporary issues regarding the culture and practice of hunting Topics include hunting identities conservation and its relationship to hunting tensions between hunters and non hunters and between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal hunting groups hunting ethics debates over hunting practices and regulations animal rights and gun control The discussion involves consideration of the social political and economic context as well as class and racial tensions between sport hunters and subsistence hunters The Culture of Hunting in Canada makes an unprecedented contribution to the study of hunting in Canada and its role in our culture It will appeal to sociologists anthropologists and historians of hunting culture wildlife biologists natural resource managers and environmentalists and not least hunters and anyone interested in the culture of hunting Nature Sir Norman Lockyer,1877 The Nature-study

Review ,1922 Encyclopedia of Animal Rights and Animal Welfare Marc Bekoff,Carron A. Meaney,2013-12-16 Human beings responsibility to and for their fellow animals has become an increasingly controversial subject This book provides a provocative overview of the many different perspectives on the issues of animal rights and animal welfare in an easy to use encyclopedic format Original contributions from over 125 well known philosophers biologists and psychologists in this field create a well balanced and multi disciplinary work Users will be able to examine critically the varied angles and arguments and gain a better understanding of the history and development of animal rights and animal protectionist movements around the world Outstanding Reference Source Best Reference Source The Routledge Companion to Environmental Ethics Benjamin Hale,Andrew Light,Lydia Lawhon,2022-07-29 Written for a wide range of readers in environmental science philosophy and policy oriented programs The Routledge Companion to Environmental Ethics is a landmark comprehensive reference work in this interdisciplinary field Not merely a review of theoretical approaches to the ethics of the environment the Companion focuses on specific environmental problems and other concrete issues Its 65 chapters all appearing in print here for the first time have been organized into the following eleven parts I Animals II Land III Water IV Climate V Energy and Extraction VI Cities VII Agriculture VIII Environmental Transformation IX Policy Frameworks and Response Measures X Regulatory Tools XI Advocacy and Activism The volume not only explains the nuances of important core philosophical positions but also cuts new pathways for the integration of important ethical and policy issues into environmental philosophy It will be of immense help to undergraduate students and other readers coming up to the field for the first time but also serve as a valuable resource for more advanced students as well as researchers who need a trusted resource that also offers fresh policy centered approaches Decolonizing Nature William Adams,Martin

Mulligan,2012-04-27 British imperialism was almost unparalleled in its historical and geographical reach leaving a legacy of entrenched social transformation in nations and cultures in every part of the globe Colonial annexation and government were based on an all encompassing system that integrated and controlled political economic social and ethnic relations and required a similar annexation and control of natural resources and nature itself Colonial ideologies were expressed not only in the progressive exploitation of nature but also in the emerging discourses of conservation At the start of the 21st century the conservation of nature is of undiminished importance in post colonial societies yet the legacy of colonial thinking endures What should conservation look like today and what indeed whose ideas should it be based upon Decolonizing Nature explores the influence of the colonial legacy on contemporary conservation and on ideas about the relationships between people politics and nature in countries and cultures that were once part of the British Empire It locates the historical development of the theory and practice of conservation at both the periphery and the centre firmly within the context of this legacy and considers its significance today It highlights the present and future challenges to conservationists of contemporary global neo colonialism The contributors to this volume include both academics and conservation practitioners They provide wide ranging and insightful perspectives on the need for and practical ways to achieve new forms of informed ethical engagement between people and nature

Tourism, Recreation and Regional Development Jean-Christophe Dissart,Jeffrey Dehez,Jean-Bernard Marsat,2016-03-03 What factors contribute to tourism and recreation development How can we characterise stakeholder rationales and organisation modes to enhance tourism resources and foster tourism and recreation services To what extent do tourism and recreation contribute to regional development What changes are taking place in terms of new destinations stakeholders policy objectives Bringing together scholars from the fields of planning economics sociology management studies and geography this book examines cross cutting issues in tourism and recreation with the aim of developing an extended view of leisure time Focusing mainly on France with comparison to the experience of Northern and Southern European countries and North America it combines a diverse range of case studies to address issues such as contrasting rural dynamics changing public policies sustainable development imperatives evolving user behaviour and increasingly diverse recreation activities and stakeholder organisation Specific topics are highlighted such as the role of social capital or culture as factors of recreation development resort organisation from international and experience based perspectives and the usefulness of the capability approach to evaluate tourism impacts on local development Emphasising policy recommendations to help public or collective action on the issues and presenting emerging trends in the field this book should be of interest to students scholars and stakeholders in tourism recreation planning and management Tropical

Nature Guillaume Blanc,Mathieu Guérin,Grégory Quenet,2025-03-01 Across Africa and South East Asia the impulse to protect nature often dovetails with the domination of local people From mass displacement to severe restrictions on land use and daily acts of violence conservation work risks reproducing Eurocentric modes of colonialism and worsening the effects of the climate crisis In this insightful and wide ranging study of the colonial history of conservation Tropical Nature seeks to provide a much needed history of the Global South from its own perspective Comparing case studies ranging from Ali Bongo s Gabon to the postcolonial African itinerary of the agronomist Arthur Bunting this volume advances a small scale global history that deciphers the relations binding human societies to the non human world
