Children, Nature and Cities Claire Freeman, Yolanda van Heezik, 2018-06-14 That children need nature for health and well being is widely accepted but what type of nature Specifically what type of nature is not only necessary but realistically available in the complex and rapidly changing worlds that children currently live in This book examines child nature definitions through two related concepts the need for connecting to nature and the processes by which opportunities for such contact can be enhanced It analyses the available nature from a scientific perspective of habitats species and environments together with the role of planning to identify how children in cities can and do connect with nature This book challenges the notion of a universal child and childhood by recognizing children s diverse life worlds and experiences which guide them into different and complex ways of interacting with the natural world Unfortunately not all children have the freedom to access the nature that is present in the cities where they live This book addresses the challenge of designing biodiverse cities in which nature is readily accessible to children

New Materialisms and Environmental Education David A. G. Clarke, Jamie Mcphie, 2023-07-24 New materialisms refers to a broad contemporary and significant movement of thought across the social sciences and cultural studies which attempts to re turn to renew or create alternative philosophies of matter Such philosophies spring from multiple sources but are in general an attempt to bring the indissolubility of the social and environmental more forcefully into our analytical frames and modes of inquiry and tackle a perceived over reliance on discourse and language in the so called post modern era of philosophy and social science This movement in thought is underlaid by and meets up with the climate and biodiversity crises and the nature of the human condition and modes of learning or becoming within the field of environmental education This volume brings together academics working at differing intersections of environmental education and new materialisms highlighting tensions knots and lines of flight across and for research practice and theory As such this collection draws on multiple interpretations and streams of thought within new materialisms and demonstrates their significance for those engaging with environmental education policy practice and research This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Environmental Education Research
