Blewett, 2008-12-30 In this companion volume to his 1995 bibliography of the same title Daniel Blewett continues his foray into the vast literature of military studies As did its predecessor it covers land air and naval forces primarily but not exclusively from a U S perspective with the welcome emergence of small wars from publishing obscurity In addition to identifying relevant organizations and associations Blewett has gathered together the very best in chronologies bibliographies biographical dictionaries indexes journals abstracts glossaries and encyclopedias each accompanied by a brief descriptive annotation This work remains a pertinent addition to the general reference collections of public and academic libraries as well as special libraries government documents collections military and intelligence agency libraries and historical societies and museums Military Occupations in the Age of Self-Determination James Gannon, 2008-07-30 This book offers a perspective decidedly different from that of the Bush Administration and its neoconservative supporters Since the United Nations embraced the right of national self determination in 1945 the historical odds have been unfavorable to great powers that impose military occupations on smaller nations This point is bolstered by the evidence from history and is particularly pertinent to the American occupation of Iraq where a robust insurgency has delayed projected successes by the administration and wartime planners Drawing on historical antecedents to the occupation of Iraq Gannon examines events such as the British Struggles in Palestine French enterprises in Algeria the Soviet debacle in Afghanistan and other instances in which occupying powers to demonstrate the struggles and failures of occupying powers in the face of determined insurgencies Since the United Nations adopted the principle of national self determination in 1945 great powers like the United States that occupy smaller nations like Iraq lose more often than not when confronted with credible insurgencies The evidence is taken from recent history the Zionist victory over Britain in Palestine and the defeats of France in Algeria America in Vietnam the Soviet Union in Afghanistan and Israel in Lebanon On the surface these outcomes seem perverse powerful modern armies brought down by rag tag rebels The explanation comes from the types of warfare fought Great powers are equipped to fight other great powers in great battles over large territory Rebels fight shadow wars neutralizing the fire power and mobility of the occupying army Insurgencies continue for years allowing political considerations to come into play including propaganda international pressure and the stream of dead and wounded returning from the war zone The home front turns against the war and new policymakers conclude that the nation s interests are best served by getting out History is not an exact science so the judgment here is expressed in probability not certainty witness the British defeat of insurgencies in Malaya and Kenya before giving up these colonies and the four decades old Israeli occupation and partial colonization of the West Bank

New Zealand's Vietnam War Ian McGibbon, 2014-06-18 This landmark publication provides a comprehensive and authoritative account of New Zealand's involvement in the Vietnam War and will remain the standard reference work on the subject for decades. Its publication completes the programme of official war histories that began in 1945. Ian McGibbon's primary focus is what New Zealand did in South Vietnam. He traces in detail the operations carried out by New Zealand forces and seeks to illuminate the experience of New Zealand soldiers fighting in a guerrilla war. The command structure, logistic support and operational context of fighting within a primarily Australian framework are all covered. He addresses controversial aspects such as friendly fire incidents, atrocity allegations and veterans' grievances including Agent Orange. Maori participation in V Force was substantial and its impact is assessed. Although the book is inevitably weighted towards the military, the efforts of civilians in South Vietnam are also covered in depth. The surgical team operated from 1963 until their evacuation from Qui Nhon just days before North Vietnamese columns entered the city. Not forgotten are the efforts of courageous civilians like Sister Mary Laurence and of Red Cross volunteers to alleviate misery among refugees. The book also describes the dramatic end of New Zealand's involvement in South Vietnam with the surgical team and the New Zealand Embassy evacuated by RNZAF Bristol Freighters just before the communist victory. Finally, McGibbon surveys the war's troubled aftermath culminating in the Prime Minister's apology to veterans in 2008. SEAL! Michael J. Walsh, Greg Walker, 1994. Here is the extraordinary story of a veteran of 26 years of combat with the Navy's most elite special force, the legendary SEALs, including five tours of Vietnam, one in the top secret PHOENIX program. Walsh's exploits stand alone as the pinnacle of daring and sacrifice in the history of the SEALs. Stories from Those Who Fought in America's Special Ops Amie Jane Leavitt, 2016-08. Details the history of U.S. Special Operations using firsthand accounts.

This bibliography is a listing of selected unclassified government and commercially produced motion picture films, videotapes and related audiovisual materials that support the teaching of American military history. It is designed to serve as a resource tool to assist instructors within the TRADOC Military History Education Program. Partial contents: General Military history; Military technology; Military Commanders and personalities; Unit histories; Colonial America to 1861; Civil War and Spanish American War; World War I and between the wars; World War II; Korean War and the Cold War; Vietnam War to the Present; Hollywood Films. Congressional Record United States. Congress, 2002. Leave No Man Behind George Galdorisi, Thomas Phillips, 2009-01-16. Beginning with the birth of combat aircraft in World War I and the early attempts to rescue warriors trapped behind enemy lines, Leave No Man Behind chronicles in depth nearly one hundred years of combat search and rescue. CSAR. All major U.S. combat operations from World War II to the early years of the Iraq War are covered, including previously classified missions and several Medal of Honor winning operations. Authors George Galdorisi and Tom Phillips, both veteran U.S. Navy helicopter pilots, highlight individual acts of heroism while telling the big picture story of the creation and development of modern CSAR. Although individual missions have their successes and failures, CSAR as an institution would seem beyond reproach an obvious necessity The organizational history of CSAR however is not entirely positive The armed services particularly the U S Air Force and Navy have a tendency to cut CSAR at the end of a conflict leaving no infrastructure prepared for the next time that the brave men and women of our armed forces find themselves behind enemy lines The final chapter has not yet been written for U S combat search and rescue but in view of the life saving potential of these forces an open and forthright review of U S military CSAR plans and policies is long overdue Beyond the exciting stories of heroic victories and heartrending defeats Leave No Man Behind stimulates debate on this important subject
