Kaps,2000 Although introductions to courses in finance exist for a variety of fields Robert W Kaps provides the first text to address the subject from an aviation viewpoint

Relying on his vast experience twenty plus years in the airline industry and more than thirty years in aviation Kaps seeks not only to prepare students for careers in the aviation field but also to evoke in these students an excitement about the business. Specifically he shows students how airlines airports and aviation are financed. Each chapter contains examples and illustrations and ends with suggested readings and references. Following his discussion of financial management and accounting procedures Kaps turns to financial management and sources of financial information. Here he discusses types of business organizations corporate goals business ethics maximizing share price and sources of financial information. Kaps also covers debt markets financial statements air transport sector revenue generation and air transport operating cost management including cost administration and labor costs fuel and landing fees and rentals. He describes in depth air transport yield management systems and airport financing including revenues ownership operations revenue generation funding allocation of Air Improvement Program funds bonds and passenger facility charges. Kaps concludes with a discussion of the preparation of a business plan which includes advice about starting and running a business. He also provides two typical business plan outlines. While the elements of fiscal management in aviation follow generally accepted accounting principles many nuances are germane only to the airline industry. Kaps provides a basic understanding of the principles that are applicable throughout the airline industry.
