Leadership: Research and Practice Selladurai, Raj, Carraher, Shawn, 2014-03-31 Leaders represent a necessary part of any organizational structure and leadership styles can vary greatly between individuals. Servant leadership is one such leadership style which is helping individuals guide and encourage others within their organization. Servant Leadership: Research and Practice explores the concept of rethinking the leader-subordinate relationship structure through the dissolution of an authoritarian leadership style. This book supports current and future leaders through relevant discussions on methodologies and tools in support of servant leadership and is designed for use by business managers, executives, scholars, and upper-level students.

Crisis Prevention and Intervention in the Classroom Victoria B. Damiani, 2011-05-16 Crisis intervention materials designed specifically for classroom teachers are still scarce and their role in crisis prevention and intervention continues to be one for which teachers must take the initiative to educate themselves. With updates in crisis intervention programming and legislation, integration of recent research on school shootings and other forms of school violence, and the addition of such topics as cyberbullying, relational aggression, and the needs of military families, this second edition of Crisis Prevention and Intervention in the Classroom further widens teachers' perspectives on school crises and puts them in a better position to prevent and cope with these events.

Trauma Through a Child's Eyes Peter A. Levine, Ph.D., Maggie Kline, 2010-05-18 What parents, educators, and health professionals can do to recognize, prevent, and heal childhood trauma from infancy through adolescence by the author of Waking the Tiger. Trauma can result not only from catastrophic events such as abuse, violence, or loss of loved ones, but from natural disasters and everyday incidents like auto accidents, medical procedures, divorce, or even falling off a bicycle. At the core of this book is the understanding of how trauma is imprinted on the body, brain, and spirit, often resulting in anxiety, nightmares, depression, physical illnesses, addictions, hyperactivity, and aggression. Rich with case studies and hands-on activities, Trauma Through a Child's Eyes gives insight into children's innate ability to rebound with the appropriate support and provides their caregivers with tools to overcome and prevent trauma. Trauma Through a Child's Eyes creates its own mold in a way that everyone concerned with the health and happiness of children will be grateful for. Gabor Maté, MD, author of Hold On to Your Kids.

Crisis Intervention Alan A. Cavaola, Joseph E. Colford, 2017-10-24 Crisis Intervention takes into account various environments and populations across the lifespan to provide students with practical guidelines for managing crises. Drawing on over 25 years of relevant experience, authors Alan A. Cavaola and Joseph E. Colford cover several different types of crises frequently encountered by professionals in medical, school, work, and community settings. Models for effectively managing these crises are presented along with the authors' own step-by-step approach: the Listen-Assess-Plan-Commit (LAPC) model, giving students the freedom to select a model that best fits their personal style or a given crisis. Future mental health professionals will gain the knowledge, skills, and confidence to help their clients manage the crises they will encounter in their day-to-day lives.

Victims of Violent Crime Diane L. Green, Albert R. Roberts, 2008-06-23 Over the past two decades violent crime has become one of the most serious domestic problems in the United States Approximately 13 million people nearly 5% of the U S population are victims of crime every year and of that approximately one and a half million are victims of violent crime Ensuring quality of life for victims of crime is therefore a major challenge facing policy makers and mental health providers Helping Victims of Violent Crime grounds victim assistance treatments in a victim centered and strengths perspective The book explores victim assistance through systems theory the holistic notion of examining the client in his her environment and a key theoretical underpinning of social work practice The basic assumption of systems theory is homeostasis A crime event causes a change in homeostasis and often results in disequilibrium The victim's focus at this point is to regain equilibrium Under the systems metatheory coping crisis and attribution theories provide a good framework for victim centered intervention Stress and coping theories posit that three factors determine the state of balance perception of the event available situational support and coping mechanisms Crisis theory offers a framework to understand a victim's response to a crime The basic assumption of crisis theory asserts that when a crisis occurs people respond with a fairly predictable physical and emotional pattern The intensity and manifestation of this pattern may vary from individual to individual Finally attribution theory asserts that individuals make cognitive appraisals of a stressful situation in both positive and negative ways These appraisals are based on the individual's assertion that they can understand predict and control circumstances and result in the victim's assignment of responsibility for solving or helping with problems that have arisen from the crime event In summary these four theories can delineate a definitive model for approach to the victimization process It is from this theoretical framework that Treating Victims of Violent Crime offers assessments and interventions with a fuller understanding of the victimization recovery process The book includes analysis of victims of family violence child abuse elder abuse partner violence as well as stranger violence sexual assault homicide and terrorism Making A Spectacle Megan Ruby, Michelle Angelo-Rocha, Mark Hickey, Vonzell Agosto, 2020-10-01 This book edition offers a collection of scholarship and reflections that goes beyond theoretical conversations This volume helps reignite a dialogue not only by scholars but also by educators activists and students who believe in inclusive and equal access to education for all individuals regardless of race ethnicity immigration status gender sexuality religion and other identities In this volume the authors examine curriculum and pedagogy as a tool for recovery from political trauma and healing They used this as an opportunity to confront some of the politically shameful situations affecting educational environments homes neighborhoods enclaves and regions marked by socioeconomic inequality The authors of Making a Spectacle present wide open questions How are educators and school leaders learning to interact with one another students their families and community while facing increased mass school shootings police violence racial profiling unequal access to education and basic needs during a pandemic COVID 19 and other forms of sociopolitical stress influenced by discrimination institutional racism and White nationalism What curricular and pedagogical geographies are educators and students afforded through which to process their emotional responses to ecological or political activities witnessed in schools and their surrounding areas These chapters and reflections perspectives represent a diversity of positionalities within critical intersections of power and privilege as they relate to identity culture and curriculum and social justice schools and society
