A focal point of early childhood education is how young children build knowledge and the ways that practitioners parents and carers can help them to do so Many adults find it challenging to identify what knowledge young children are building and how they do so making it difficult to support young children s learning and development in the most effective ways This essential guide will help you to identify and develop young children s knowledge and understanding in early years settings not only in terms of statutory requirements but far beyond them Building Knowledge in Early Childhood Education draws on empirical research findings from the Young Children As Researchers YCAR project to examine everyday activities and reveal the means that young children use to build knowledge and understanding as well as exploring the similarities between learning behaviours in early childhood and adult life Interweaving everyday activities in practice with research and theory this book covers how young children construct knowledge learning problem solving and exploring concepts and conceptualising in early childhood evidence based decision making how young children behave as researchers Offering practical advice and suggestions to create opportunities that identify and facilitate young children s own constructions of knowledge and understanding this book is essential reading for practitioners students and all those interested in the theories surrounding young children as researchers Children's Books in Print ,1993 Philosophy, Learning and the Mathematics Curriculum Xuehui Xie,Phil Francis Carspecken,2019-02-18

Mathematics curriculums used in progressive classrooms of the United States and in classrooms of the People s Republic of China presuppose markedly different philosophies Xie and Carspecken reconstruct different assumptions operating implicitly within mathematics curriculums developed by the Ministry of Education in China and NCTM in the United States Each curriculum is constructed upon a deep structure holistically integrating presuppositions about the nature of the human self society learning processes language concepts human development freedom authority and the epistemology and ontology of mathematical knowledge Xie and Carspecken next present an extended discussion of the two main philosophical traditions informing these curriculums dialectical materialism in the case of the Chinese mathematics curriculum and Dewey s instrumental pragmatism in the case of NCTM Both philosophies were developed as movements out of Hegelian idealism while retaining the anti dualist and anti empiricist insights of Hegel s thought The history of dialectical materialism and Dewey s instrumentalism is carefully examined by the authors to identify both similarities and sharp differences in the resulting mature philosophies Drawing upon more recent philosophies of intersubjectivity Brandom Habermas and dialectical materialist psychologies Vygotsky Luria the authors conclude this book with arguments for overcoming the limitations of a purely instrumentalist framework and for expanding potentialities implicit within dialectical philosophies This book will be of value to a broad audience including mathematics educators philosophers curriculum theorists social theorists and those who work in comparative education and learning science
