Prisoners On Purpose A Peacemakers Guide To Jails And Prisons:

Prisoners on Purpose Samuel H. Day, 1989 Kingdom to Commune Patricia Appelbaum, 2009-03-01 American religious pacifism is usually explained in terms of its practitioners ethical and philosophical commitments Patricia Appelbaum argues that Protestant pacifism which constituted the religious center of the large scale peace movement in the United States after World War I is best understood as a culture that developed dynamically in the broader context of American religious historical and social currents Exploring piety practice and material religion Appelbaum describes a surprisingly complex culture of Protestant pacifism expressed through social networks iconography vernacular theology individual spiritual practice storytelling identity rituals and cooperative living Between World War I and the Vietnam War she contends a paradigm shift took place in the Protestant pacifist movement Pacifism moved from a mainstream position to a sectarian and marginal one from an embrace of modernity to skepticism about it and from a Christian center to a purely pacifist one with an informal flexible theology The book begins and ends with biographical profiles of two very different pacifists Harold Gray and Marjorie Swann Their stories distill the changing religious culture of American pacifism revealed in Kingdom to Commune The Missile Next Door Gretchen Heefner, 2012-09-10 In the 1960s the Air Force buried 1 000 ICBMs in pastures across the Great Plains to keep U S nuclear strategy out of view As rural civilians of all political stripes found themselves living in the Soviet crosshairs a proud Plains individualism gave way to an economic dependence on the military industrial complex that still persists today Peace Movement Organizations and Activists in the U.S. John Lofland, Victoria Lee Johnson, Pamela Kato, 1991 Here is the most comprehensive compilation and analytic classification of book length publications on the immense upwelling of peace activism that occurred in the United States during the 1980 s It is an indispensable reference addition to the bookshelf of all researchers of peace movements in the United States Focusing on the post World War II years with particular attention to the 1980 s this volume is an extensive bibliography of books categorized into six categories by theory transcenders educators intellectuals politicians protestors and prophets Peace Movement Organizations and Activists in the United States An Analytic Bibliography is an indispensable tool for researchers and students of peace movements from several disciplines including history political science security studies sociology and international relations Crossing the Line Rosalie G. Riegle, 2013-01-01 Of course let us have peace we cry but at the same time let us have normalcy let us lose nothing let our lives stand intact let us know neither prison nor ill repute nor disruption of ties There is no peace because there are no peacemakers There are no makers of peace because the making of peace is at least as costly as the making of war at least as exigent at least as disruptive at least as liable to bring disgrace and prison and death in its wake Daniel Berrigan No Bars to Manhood More than sixty five peacemakers have contributed oral narratives to this compelling history of those who say no to war making in the strongest way possible by engaging in civil disobedience and paying the consequences in jail or prison Crossing the Line gives voice to often neglected social history and provides provocative stories of actions trials and imprisonment This fascinating volume serves as an excellent supplement to conventional histories Almost all the storytellers here are people of faith or are inspired by those who live by faith Many work at conventional careers some do full time peacemaking by living in Catholic Worker houses or in the Jonah House community several are priests and nuns who minister worldwide Also featured are three resisters prominent in War Resisters League history From World War II conscientious objectors to contemporary activists these narrators have refused to be helpless in the face of a violent world and have said with their bodies that they do not accept the status quo of permanent war and war preparation In short the voices illustrate hope at a time when it seems in short supply Doing Time for Peace Rosalie G. Riegle, 2021-04-30 In this compelling collection of oral histories more than seventy five peacemakers describe how they say no to war making in the strongest way possible by engaging in civil disobedience and paying the consequences in jail or prison These courageous resisters leave family and community and life on the outside in their efforts to direct U S policy away from its militarism Many are Catholic Workers devoting their lives to the works of mercy instead of the works of war They are homemakers and carpenters and social workers and teachers who are often called faith based activists They speak from the left of the political perspective providing a counterpoint to the faith based activism of the fundamentalist Right In their own words the narrators describe their motivations and their preparations for acts of resistance the actions themselves and their trials and subsequent jail time We hear from those who do their time by caring for their families and managing communities while their partners are imprisoned Spouses and children talk frankly of the strains on family ties that a life of working for peace in the world can cause The voices range from a World War II conscientious objector to those protesting the recent war in Iraq The book includes sections on resister families the Berrigans and Jonah House the Plowshares Communities the Syracuse Peace Council and Catholic Worker houses and communities The introduction by Dan McKanan situates these activists in the long tradition of resistance to war and witness to peace Political Prisoners and Trials James R. Bennett, 1995 Arranged by country this text includes articles from journals pamphlets organizational reports and books on political prisoners and their trials Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1991 The Cumulative Book Index ,1990 A world list of books in the English language The Lessons of Nonviolence Tom H. Hastings, 2015-01-09 Beginning back in the waning days of the Civil Rights movement through the objection to the war in Vietnam and on to the current global peace movement this is a personal and professional account offered for the reader curious about whether and how nonviolence works Topics include Gandhian nonviolence radical disarmament war poverty and peace prosperity and movement building
