Diaries, 1984-1997

James Lees-Milne, Michael Bloch, 2011-12-21 This final compilation from James Lees Milne's celebrated diaries covers the last fourteen years of his life when he was living on the Duke of Beaufort's Badminton estate. Old age and infirmity have not dimmed his sharpness, literary skill or interest in the world around him and his reflection on people, places and experiences are as vivid as ever. A tour of the Cotswolds makes him ruefully aware of the yuppie trends of the Thatcher era while he predicts that the New Labour victory will bring a descent into American style vulgarity and yob culture. Witty, waspish, poignant and candid, James Lees Milne's last diaries contain as much to delight as the first and confirm his reputation as one of the great commentators of his times. Modern British Bookplates William Elliott Butler, Darlene J. Nature's Engraver Jenny Uglow, 2007-06-12 A beautifully illustrated biography of Thomas Bewick 1753-1828, the man whose art helped shape the way we view the natural world. At the end of the eighteenth century Britain and much of the Western world fell in love with nature. Thomas Bewick's History of British Birds marked the moment the first field guide for ordinary people, illustrated with woodcuts of astonishing accuracy and beauty. But his work was far more than a mere guide for in the vivid vignettes scattered through the book Bewick captured the vanishing world of rural English life. In this superb biography Jenny Uglow tells the story of the farmer's son from Tyneside who influenced book illustration for a century to come. It is a story of violent change, radical politics, lost ways of life and the beauty of the wild, a journey to the beginning of our lasting obsession with the natural world.
