Popular representations of teachers and teaching are easy to take for granted precisely because they are so accessible and pervasive. Our lives are intertextual in the way lived experiences overlap with the stories of others presented to us through mass media. It is this set of connected narratives that we bring into classrooms and into discussions of educational policy. In this day and time with public education under siege by forces eager to deprofessionalize teaching and transfer public funds to benefit private enterprises, we ignore the dominant discourse about education and the patterns of representation that typify educator characters at our peril. This edited volume offers a fresh take on educator characters in popular culture and also includes important essays about media texts that have not been addressed adequately in the literature previously. The 15 chapters cover diverse forms from literary classics to iconic teacher movies to popular television to rock n roll. Topics explored include pedagogy through the lenses of gender, sexuality, race, disability, politics, narrative, archetypes, curriculum, teaching strategies, and liberatory praxis. The various perspectives represented in this volume come from scholars and practitioners of education at all levels of schooling. This book is especially timely in an era when public education in the United States is under assault from conservative political forces and undervalued by the general public. Contributors are Steve Benton, Naeemah Clark, Kristy Liles, Crawley, Elizabeth Currin, Mary M Dalton, Jill Ewing, Flynn, Chad E Harris, Gary Kenton, Mark A Lewis, Ian Parker, Renga, Stephanie Schroeder, Roslin Smith, Jeff Spanke, and Andrew Wirth. Library of Congress Catalog: Motion Pictures and Filmstrips Library of Congress, 1968. The Oxford Handbook of Applied Ethnomusicology Svanibor Pettan, Jeff Todd Titon, 2015. Applied studies scholarship has triggered a not so quiet revolution in the discipline of ethnomusicology. The current generation of applied ethnomusicologists has moved toward participatory action research involving themselves in musical communities and working directly on their behalf. The essays in The Oxford Handbook of Applied Ethnomusicology edited by Svanibor Pettan and Jeff Todd Titon theorize applied ethnomusicology, offer histories and detail practical examples with the goal of stimulating further development in the field. The essays in the book are all newly commissioned for the volume, reflect scholarship and data gleaned from eleven countries by over twenty contributors. Themes and locations of the research discussed encompass all world continents. The authors present case studies encompassing multiple places other than that discuss circumstances within a geopolitical unit, either near or far. Many of the authors consider marginalized peoples and communities; others argue for participatory action research. All are united in their interest in overarching themes such as conflict, education, archives, and the status of indigenous peoples and immigrants. A volume that at once defines its field, advances it, and even acts as a large scale applied ethnomusicology project in the way it connects ideas and methodology. The Oxford Handbook of Applied Ethnomusicology is a seminal contribution to the study of ethnomusicology, theoretical and applied. The Prevention Pipeline, 2000. The Musical Classroom Patricia Hackett, Carolyn A.
