Dover and the Great War John Benjamin Firth, 1919 Killing the Enemy Adam Leong Kok Wey, 2015-09-28 During World War II the British formed a secret division the SOE or Special Operations Executive in order to support resistance organisations in occupied Europe It also engaged in targeted killing the assassination of enemy political and military leaders The unit is famous for equipping its agents with tools for use behind enemy lines such as folding motorbikes miniature submarines and suicide pills disguised as coat buttons But its activities are now also gaining attention as a forerunner to today's extra legal killings of wartime enemies in foreign territory for example through the use of unmanned drones Adam Leong's work evaluates the effectiveness of political assassination in wartime using four examples Heydrich's assassination in Prague Operation Anthropoid the daring kidnap of Major General Kreipe in Crete by Patrick Leigh Fermor the failed attempt to assassinate Rommel known as Operation Flipper and the American assassination of General Yamamoto The Fleet that Jack Built William Jameson, 2004 This volume not only provides biographies on nine great admirals each complete in itself but at the same time it links them together so that the book is a piece of naval history British Policy and Strategy towards Norway, 1941-45 C. Mann, 2012-11-19 After the German occupation of 1940 Britain was forced to reassess its relationship with Norway a country largely on the periphery of the main theatres of the Second World War Christopher Mann examines British military policy towards Norway concentrating on the commando raids deception planning and naval operations Wielding the Dagger Mark D. Karau, 2003-10-30 In August 1914 Admiral Alfred von Tirpitz convinced the German armed forces to create a new unit called the MarineDivision Flandern to garrison the Belgian coastline and prepare naval bases in for the implementation of a naval guerrilla war against Great Britain The Germans called their strategy Kleinkrieg or little war and they intended to whittle away at British naval superiority by using their submarines and destroyers Later expanded into the MarineKorps the unit soon found itself in the middle of a land war as well What had been intended as a garrison unit found itself on the frontlines when the war stalemated The British had traditionally seen Belgium as a dagger pointed at the throat of England and the Royal Navy feared what use the Germans might make of the position The result was an active naval campaign in the English Channel Karau brings to light the contributions of the MarineKorps Flandern a force often neglected by historians He examines the role of the MarineKorps in both land and naval wars and reaffirms the increasingly important role played by aircraft in the Flanders theater If Belgium was a weapon pointed at the British throat were the Germans properly equipped to wield the dagger      World War II Spencer C. Tucker,2016-09-06

The Mountbatten Report, New Edition John Ainsworth-Davis, Ami de Creighton, 2014-12-29 John Ainsworth Davis JAD was a British WWII Naval agent Spy Assassin working directly for Prime Minister Winston Churchill Commissioned by Lord Louis Mountbatten this report is JAD's very personal account of his growing up on the Chartwell estate as Desmond Morton's Godson and his subsequent grooming to become one of WWII's most controversial secret agents. It also touches on JAD's introduction into privileged British and German society through his father Jack, a British Olympic Gold medalist, and his father's close friend, the German Ambassador to London, Joachim von Ribbentrop. Ribbentrop later became Hitler's trusted Foreign Minister and was one of the first Nazis to be hanged at Nuremberg in 1946. JAD speaks candidly of his experiences of love, war, and betrayal up to early 1945. The Mountbatten Report is the prelude to Operation JAMES BOND (OPJB), a highly covert 1945 British op in which JAD assisted Commander Ian Fleming RNVR in the rescue of Hitler's handler and money man, Martin Bormann.

Churchill and Fisher

A vivid study of the politics and stress of high command, this book describes the decisive roles of young Winston Churchill as political head of the Admiralty during the First World War. Churchill was locked together in a perilous destiny with the ageing British Admiral Jacky Fisher, the professional master of the British Navy and the creator of the enormous battleships known as Dreadnoughts. Upon these Titans at the Admiralty rested British command of the sea at the moment of its supreme test: the challenge presented by the Kaiser's navy under the dangerous Admiral Alfred von Tirpitz. Churchill and Fisher had vision, genius, and energy, but the war unfolded in unexpected ways. There were no Trafalgars, no Nelsons. Press and Parliament became battlegrounds for a public expecting decisive victory at sea. An ill-fated Dardanelles adventure by ships alone, as Churchill determined on top of the Zeppelin raids on Britain, brought about Fisher's departure from the Admiralty, in turn bringing down Churchill. They spent the balance of the war in the virtual wilderness. This dual biography, based on fresh and thorough appraisal of the Churchill and Fisher papers, is a story for any military history buff. It is about Churchill's and Fisher's war: how each fought it, how they waged it together, and how they fought against each other, face to face or behind the scenes. It reveals a strange and unique pairing of sea lords who found themselves facing Armageddon and seeking to maintain the primacy of the Royal Navy, the guardian of trade, the succour of the British peoples, and the shield of Empire.
