

An aerial photograph of a body of water, likely a harbor or bay, with a grid of white buoys or markers. The water is a deep blue, and the sky is a lighter blue with some white clouds. The grid of buoys is arranged in a rectangular pattern, with some buoys appearing as small white dots and others as larger, more complex structures. The overall scene is a high-angle, wide-area view of the water and its markings.

Naming The Afternoon Poems:

Naming the Afternoon Julia Johnson, 2002 The collection focuses on images and feelings and has an underlying sense of urgency to name the passing moment which is over in an instant BOOK JACKET Spinoza's Overcoat Subhash Jaireth, 2020-02-01 It starts to rain as I step out of my hotel So begins Subhash Jaireth's striking collection of essays on the writers and their writing that have enriched his own life The works of Franz Kafka Marina Tsvetaeva Mikhail Bulgakov Paul Celan Hiromi Ito Dutch philosopher Baruch Spinoza and others ignite in him the urge to travel both physically and in spirit almost like a pilgrim to the places where such writers were born or died or wrote In each essay a new emotional plane is reached revealing enticing connections As a novelist poet essayist and translator born into a multilingual environment Jaireth truly understands the power of words across languages and their integral connections to life of the body and the spirit Drawing on years of research translation and travel Spinoza's Overcoat and its illuminations of loss mortality and the reverie of writing will linger with readers Eloquent and original Jaireth's meditations on the lives of poets are full of astonishing details tender connections and the magnificent melancholy of devotion to words Encompassing matters of translation love mortality and homage this is a rare model of what might be called literary philosophy and an utter joy and surprise for anyone interested in the reading and writing life GAIL JONES author of The Death of Noah Glass Subhash Jaireth was born in India Between 1969 and 1978 he spent nine years in Russia studying geology and Russian literature In 1986 he migrated to Australia He has published writing in Hindi English and Russian and his novel After Love Transit Lounge 2012 was published in Spain in 2018 The Poet's Craft A. F. Scott, 2012-03-29 This volume was first published in 1957 and was intended as an appreciation of poetry based on the study of authors corrected manuscripts revised published versions transpositions of prose into verse and contrasted translations A F Scott divides his study into five sections the first section has photographs of manuscript poems by twenty four poets The second section presents for comparison the first published version of eight well known poems with the revisions published later A brief history of the changes is given so that the making of some of the poems can be followed over the years The third section gives six poems with the source used by the poet for his poem The fourth section gives 34 poetical versions of twelve originals The fifth and final section contains 120 poems paired for contrast and comparison unsigned and with a specific critical subject suggested for each pair Interpreting Texts Kim Ballard, 2013-04-15 Part of the Routledge A Level English Guides series this title focuses on developing the skills needed to successfully interpret texts and covers key aspects of the area including discourse intertextuality and theoretical approaches

JOHN BUCHAN - Ultimate Collection: 28 Novels & 40+ Short Stories (Including Poems, War Writings, Essays, Biographies & Memoirs) - Illustrated John Buchan, 2024-01-11 In the expansive anthology JOHN BUCHAN Ultimate Collection readers are invited into the multifaceted world of John Buchan an author whose works intricately blend adventure mystery and historical reflection This comprehensive collection features 28 novels and over 40 short stories showcasing

Buchan's prose characterized by rich detail and a vigorous narrative flow. His writing emerges from the literary context of early 20th century British literature showcasing themes of nationalism, heroism, and the complexity of human character, often set against the backdrop of war and political turmoil. John Buchan, born in 1875, was not only a novelist but also a politician and a soldier. His diverse experiences as a public servant and his experiences during World War I profoundly shaped his literary voice. Buchan's deep understanding of the human psyche, upbringing in Northern Scotland, and his engagement with the pressing social issues of his time have culminated in works that reflect both personal and national narratives, illustrating the individual in the grand sweep of history. This ultimate collection is a treasure trove for enthusiasts of historical adventure and deep character studies. Readers seeking to explore the intersections of fiction and historical events will find Buchan's works compelling. Whether you are a longtime admirer or newly discovering his writing, this beautifully illustrated anthology is an indispensable addition to any literary library.

The Atlantic Index Supplement. A List of Articles, with Names of Authors Appended, Published in "The Atlantic Monthly," [1857]-1901. Including Also a List of the Authors Represented, with Their Contributions Arranged in Chronological Order, 1889 The Poetry of James Wright

Andrew Elkins, 1991. In The Poetry of James Wright, the author traces Wright's formal evolution and concentrates on his consistent themes: the artist's role in society, the artist's search for poetic and personal identities, the power of poetry as fortification against the onslaughts of time, and the definition of a good and humane action. Charting the poet's evolution from his first book The Green Wall to the last collections This Journey, Elkins discusses one major book in each chapter, explicating the more important poems in detail and explaining how each volume is part of a progression from youthful imitator to mature innovator. Wright's individual struggle, taking place as it did in the last half of the 20th century in America, dramatizes the central problems of the creative individual in a late industrial society who is trying to turn a life into art. Wright worked in the great tradition of the adamant individualists in our literary heritage, and like all of his formidable ancestors, he refused to trust the socialized self he found attached to his soul; he refused to be diminished or circumscribed by any society's definition of himself. The effect of reading and studying his complete work is the recognition that Wright is a major 20th century American poet whose apparent simplicity and occasional sentimentality can obscure the complexity and maturity of his courageous confrontation with the problems of living and writhing in contemporary America. The Virginia Quarterly Review, 2002
