Narrating History, Developing Doctrine Bradford E. Hinze, 1993 Bradford E Hinze offers a comprehensive comparative investigation of the theologies of Reformed theologian Friedrich Schleiermacher 1768 1834 and Catholic Johann Sebastian Drey 1777 1853 Although they represented different theological traditions both theologians contributed to the emergence of doctrinal development as a theological principle Particular attention is paid to the effect of metaphor and narrative patterns especially as these informed Schleiermacher's and Drey's understanding of historiography hermeneutics and the tasks of theology The book concludes with a review of specific doctrines the two theologians judged to be in need of criticism reform and development

In Defense of Doctrine Rhyne R. Putman, 2015 In In Defense of Doctrine is an apologetic for the ongoing constructive theological task in Protestant and Evangelical traditions It suggests that doctrinal development can be explained as a hermeneutical phenomenon and that insights from hermeneutical philosophy and the philosophy of language can aid theologians in constructing explanatory theses for particular theological problems associated with the facts of doctrinal development Joining the recent call to theological interpretation of Scripture Putman provides a constructive model that forwards a descriptive and normative pattern for reading Scripture and theological tradition together
