Narration In Light Studies In Cinematic Point Of View:

Narration in Light George M. Wilson, 1986 As both theory and criticism Wilson's achievement in this book is substantial and important Alexander Sesonske Film Quarterly Narration in light George M. Wilson, 1988 Point of View in Plays Dan McIntyre, 2006-01-01 This is the first book length study of how point of view is manifested linguistically in dramatic texts It examines such issues as how readers process the shifts in viewpoint that can occur within such texts Using insights from cognitive linguistics the book aims to explain how the analysis of point of view in drama can be undertaken and how this is fruitful for understanding textual and discursal effects in this genre Following on from a consideration of existing frameworks for the analysis of point of view a cognitive approach to deixis is suggested as being particularly profitable for explaining the viewpoint effects that can arise in dramatic texts To expand on the large number of examples discussed throughout the book the penultimate chapter consists of an extended analysis of a single play This book is relevant to scholars in a range of areas including linguistics literary studies and cognitive science David Milch Jason Jacobs, 2019-10-17 This book is about the life and work of David Milch the writer who created NYPD Blue Deadwood and a number of other important US television dramas It provides a detailed account of Milch's journey from academia to the heights of the television industry locating him within the traditions of achievement in American literature over the past in order to evaluate his contribution to fiction writing It also draws on behind the scenes materials to analyse the significance of NYPD Blue Deadwood John From Cincinnati and Luck Contributing to academic debates in film television and literary studies on authorship the book will be of interest to fans of Milch's work as well as those engaged with the intersection between literature and popular television Cinema and Politics Asli Kotaman, Ahu Uğursoy, 2009-01-14 This volume presents varied approaches concerning the relation between cinema and politics which focus on policies eras countries mainstream and art cinema productions transnational examples changing narratives and identities Both cinema and politics have actors and directors for their scenes and in this sense their discourses intermingle The performances of the actors actresses in both arenas attract particular attention The actors directors and producers with hyphenated creolised hybrid identities such as German Turks directors of Balkan cinema or Italian filmmakers of Turkish origin give a wide and refreshing perspective to the discussion of Europe in the media What these mediated identities represent goes beyond the limits of the old Europe towards the different sensitivity of the New Europe Scholars and advanced students of Film Studies European Studies Identity Politics Migration Emigration and Gender Studies will find this volume of integral importance to their work

Reading Hollywood Deborah Thomas, 2019-07-25 This book examines the treatment of space and narrative in a selection of classic films including My Darling Clementine It's a Wonderful Life and Vertigo Deborah Thomas employs a variety of arguments in exploring the reading of space and its meaning in Hollywood cinema and film generally Topics covered include the importance of space in defining genre such as the necessity of an urban landscape for a gangster film to be a gangster film the ambiguity of offscreen space and spectatorship how an audience reads an unseen but inferred setting and the use of spatially disruptive cinematic techniques such as flashback to construct meaning The British New Wave B. F.

Taylor,2013-07-19 This book offers an opportunity to reconsider the films of the British New Wave in the light of forty years of heated debate By eschewing the usual tendency to view films like A Kind of Loving and The Entertainer collectively and include them in broader debates about class gender and ideology this book presents a new and innovative look at this famous cycle of British films For each film a re distribution of existing critical emphasis also allows the problematic relationship between these films and the question of realism to be reconsidered Drawing upon existing sources and returning to long standing and unchallenged assumptions about these films this book offers the opportunity for the reader to return to the British New Wave and decide for themselves where they stand in relation to the films An Invention Without a Future

James Naremore,2014-01-10 In 1895 Louis Lumi re supposedly said that cinema is an invention without a future James Naremore uses this legendary remark as a starting point for a meditation on the so called death of cinema in the digital age and as a way of introducing a wide ranging series of his essays on movies past and present These essays include discussions of authorship adaptation and acting commentaries on Howard Hawks Alfred Hitchcock Orson Welles Vincente Minnelli John Huston and Stanley Kubrick and reviews of more recent work by non Hollywood directors Pedro Costa Abbas Kiarostami Ra l Ruiz and Apichatpong Weerasethakul Important themes recur the relations between modernity modernism and postmodernism the changing mediascape and death of older technologies and the need for robust critical writing in an era when print journalism is waning and the humanities are devalued The book concludes with essays on four major American film critics James Agee Manny Farber Andrew Sarris and Jonathan Rosenbaum Hitchcock Susan Smith,2019-07-25 Susan Smith s treatment of the works of the most subtle of all film makers analyses the key elements of suspense humour and tone across the whole of the director s career Arguing that all three are central to our viewing experience the book demonstrates how Hitchcock s masterly integration of those elements is the key to his success as a film maker Examining in detail such films as Sabotage Notorious Rear Window Psycho Shadow of a Doubt Rope and The Birds amongst many others the book discusses the idea of the director as saboteur and the importance of the avoidance of clich in Hitchcock s narrative

Fantasy Film James Walters,2011-06-01 Fantasy Film proposes an innovative approach to the study of this most popular cinematic genre Engaging with the diversity of tones forms and styles that fantasy can take in the cinema the book examines the value and significance of fantasy across a wide range of key films This volume extends critical understanding beyond the often narrowly defined boundaries of what is seen as fantasy Fantasy Film uses key concepts in film studies such as authorship representation history genre coherence and point of view to interrogate the fantasy genre and establish its parameters A wide range of films are held up to close scrutiny to illustrate the discussion Moving from Alfred Hitchcock s dark thrillers to Vincente Minnelli s vibrant musicals from George M li s 1904 Voyage travers l impossible to the X Men series

the creative dexterity and excitement of film fantasy is evoked and explored The book will be invaluable to students and fans of the fantasy genre
