Nature And The Godly Empire Science And Evangelical Mission In The Pacific 1795 185:

Nature and the Godly Empire Sujit Sivasundaram,2005-11-17 A study of the relations between nineteenth century science and Christianity The Making of British Anthropology, 1813-1871 Efram Sera-Shriar,2016-08-03 Victorian anthropology has been derided as an armchair practice distinct from the scientific discipline of the twentieth century But the observational practices that characterized the study of human diversity developed from the established sciences of natural history geography and medicine Sera Shriar argues that anthropology at this time went through a process of innovation which built on scientifically grounded observational study Far from being an evolutionary dead end nineteenth century anthropology laid the foundations for the field based science of anthropology today Exhibiting the Empire John McAleer,John M. MacKenzie,2017-03-01 Exhibiting the empire considers how a whole range of cultural products from paintings prints photographs panoramas and popular texts to ephemera newspapers and the press theatre and music exhibitions institutions and architecture were used to record celebrate and question the development of the British Empire It represents a significant and original contribution to our understanding of the relationship between culture and empire Written by leading scholars from a range of disciplinary backgrounds individual chapters bring fresh perspectives to the interpretation of media material culture and display and their interaction with history Taken together this collection suggests that the history of empire needs to be in part at least a history of display and of reception This book will be essential reading for scholars and students interested in British history the history of empire art history and the history of museums and collecting Knowledge Production, Pedagogy, and Institutions in Colonial India I. Sengupta,D. Ali,2011-05-09 This volume seeks to revise the Saidian analytical framework which dominated research on the subject of colonial knowledge for almost two decades which emphasized colonial knowledge as a series of representations of colonial hegemony It seeks to contribute to research in the field by analyzing knowledge in colonial India as a dynamic process Training Laborers for His Harvest Baiyu Andrew Song,2015-04-01 In this project Baiyu Andrew Song explores the mentorship of China s first ordained indigenous evangelist Liang Fa 1789 1855 by Scottish Presbyterian missionary William Milne 1785 1822 in the early nineteenth century The biblically and contextually informed model of mentorship Milne employed is examined in detail which is placed in the historical setting of Milne and Liang s time This project is particularly important in that it pioneers historical study in the area of the early protestant church history in China specifically in regard to William Milne Islands and the British Empire in the Age of Sail Douglas Hamilton,John McAleer,2021-06-17 Islands are not just geographical units or physical facts their importance and significance arise from the human activities associated with them The maritime routes of sailing ships the victualling requirements of their sailors and the strategic demands of seaborne empires in the age of sail as well as their intrinsic value as sources of rare commodities meant that islands across the globe played prominent parts in imperial consolidation and expansion This volume examines the various ways in which islands and groups of islands

contributed to the establishment extension and maintenance of the British Empire in the age of sail Thematically related chapters explore the geographical topographical economic and social diversity of the islands that comprised a large component of the British Empire in an era of rapid and significant expansion Although many of these islands were isolated rocky outcrops they acted as crucial nodal points providing critical assistance for ships and men embarked on the long distance voyages that characterised British overseas activities in the period Intercontinental maritime trade colonial settlement and scientific exploration and experimentation would have been impossible without these oceanic islands They also acted as sites of strategic competition contestation and conflict for rival European powers keen to outstrip each other in developing and maintaining overseas markets plantations and settlements The importance of islands outstripped their physical size the populations they sustained or their individual economic contribution to the imperial balance sheet Standing at the centre of maritime routes of global connectivity islands offer historians of the British Empire fresh perspectives on the intercontinental communication commercial connections and territorial expansion that characterised that empire Pacific Futures Warwick Anderson, Miranda Johnson, Barbara Brookes, 2018-11-30 How when and why has the Pacific been a locus for imagining different futures by those living there as well as passing through What does that tell us about the distinctiveness or otherwise of this sea of islands Foregrounding the work of leading and emerging scholars of Oceania Pacific Futures brings together a diverse set of approaches to and examples of how futures are being conceived in the region and have been imagined in the past Individual chapters engage the various and sometimes contested futures yearned for unrealized and even lost or forgotten that are particular to the Pacific as a region ocean island network destination and home Contributors recuperate the futures hoped for and dreamed up by a vast array of islanders and outlanders from Indigenous federalists to Lutheran improvers to Cantonese small business owners making these histories of the future visible In so doing the collection intervenes in debates about globalization in the Pacific and how the region is acted on by outside forces and postcolonial debates that emphasize the agency and resistance of Pacific peoples in the context of centuries of colonial endeavor With a view to the effects of the slow violence of climate change the volume also challenges scholars to think about the conditions of possibility for future thinking at all in the midst of a global crisis that promises cataclysmic effects for the region Pacific Futures highlights futures conceived in the context of a modernity coproduced by diverse Pacific peoples taking resistance to categorization as a starting point rather than a conclusion With its hospitable approach to thinking about history making and future thinking one that is open to a wide range of methodological epistemological and political interests and commitments the volume will encourage the writing of new histories of the Pacific and new ways of talking about history in this field the region and beyond Knowing Global Environments Jeremy Vetter, 2011 Knowing Global Environments brings together nine leading scholars whose work spans a variety of environmental and field sciences including archaeology agriculture botany climatology ecology evolutionary biology oceanography ornithology and tidology Collectively their essays explore the history of the field sciences through the lens of place practice and the production of scientific knowledge with a wide ranging perspective extending outwards from the local to regional national imperial and global scales The book also shows what the history of the field sciences can contribute to environmental history especially how knowledge in the field sciences has intersected with changing environments and addresses key present day problems related to sustainability such as global climate biodiversity oceans and more Contributors to Knowing Global Environments reveal how the field sciences have interacted with practical economic activities such as forestry agriculture and tourism as well as how the public has been involved in the field sciences as field assistants students and local collaborators Age of Entanglement Kris

Manjapra,2014-01-06 Age of Entanglement explores the patterns of connection linking German and Indian intellectuals from the nineteenth century to the years after the Second World War Kris Manjapra traces the intersecting ideas and careers of philologists physicists poets economists and others who shared ideas formed networks and studied one another's worlds Moving beyond well rehearsed critiques of colonialism this study recasts modern intellectual history in terms of the knotted intellectual itineraries of seeming strangers Collaborations in the sciences arts and humanities produced extraordinary meetings of German and Indian minds Meghnad Saha met Albert Einstein Stella Kramrisch brought the Bauhaus to Calcutta and Girindrasekhar Bose began a correspondence with Sigmund Freud Rabindranath Tagore traveled to Germany to recruit scholars for a new university and Himanshu Rai worked with Franz Osten to establish movie studios in Bombay These interactions Manjapra argues evinced shared responses to the hegemony of the British empire Germans and Indians hoped to find in one another the tools needed to disrupt an Anglocentric world order As Manjapra demonstrates transnational encounters are not inherently progressive From Orientalism to Aryanism to scientism German Indian entanglements were neither necessarily liberal nor conventionally cosmopolitan often characterized as much by manipulation as by genuine cooperation Explorations in the Icy North Nanna Katrine Lüders Kaalund,2021-05-11

Science in the Arctic changed dramatically over the course of the nineteenth century when early scattered attempts in the region to gather knowledge about all aspects of the natural world transitioned to a more unified Arctic science under the First International Polar Year in 1882 The IPY brought together researchers from multiple countries with the aim of undertaking systematic and coordinated experiments and observations in the Arctic and Antarctic Harsh conditions intense isolation and acute danger inevitably impacted the making and communicating of scientific knowledge At the same time changes in ideas about what it meant to be an authoritative observer of natural phenomena were linked to tensions in imperial ambitions national identities and international collaborations of the IPY Through a focused study of travel narratives in the British Danish Canadian and American contexts Nanna Katrine Lüders Kaalund uncovers not only the transnational nature of Arctic exploration but also how the publication and reception of literature about it shaped an extreme environment its explorers and their scientific practices She reveals how far beyond the metropole in the vast area we understand today as the North American and

Greenlandic Arctic explorations and the narratives that followed ultimately influenced the production of field science in the nineteenth century

The Routledge History of Western Empires Robert Aldrich, Kirsten McKenzie, 2013-12-04 The Routledge History of Western Empires is an all new volume focusing on the history of Western Empires in a comparative and thematic perspective. Comprising of thirty three original chapters arranged in eight thematic sections the book explores European overseas expansion from the Age of Discovery to the Age of Decolonisation. Studies by both well known historians and new scholars offer fresh accessible perspectives on a multitude of themes ranging from colonialism in the Arctic to the scramble for the coral sea from attitudes to the environment in the East Indies to plans for colonial settlement in Australasia. Chapters examine colonial attitudes towards poisonous animals and the history of colonial medicine evangelisation in Africa and Oceania colonial recreation in the tropics and the tragedy of the slave trade. The Routledge History of Western Empires ranges over five centuries and crosses continents and oceans highlighting transnational and cross cultural links in the imperial world and underscoring connections between colonial history and world history. Through lively and engaging case studies contributors not only weigh in on historiographical debates on themes such as human rights religion and empire and the taproots of imperialism but also illustrate the various approaches to the writing of colonial history. A vital contribution to the field.

Zeitalter der Verflechtungen Kris Manjappa, 2022-07-18 Age of Entanglement erforscht die Muster die deutsche und indische Intellektuelle vom 19. Jahrhundert bis in die Jahre nach dem Zweiten Weltkrieg verbinden. Kris Manjappa zeichnet die sich berschneidenden Ideen und Karrieren von Philologen Physikern Dichtern Wirtschaftswissenschaftlern und anderen nach die Ideen austauschten Netzwerke bildeten und die Welten des anderen studierten. Bei der gut einstudierten Kolonialismuskritik hinaus rekonstruiert diese Studie die moderne Geistesgeschichte im Sinne der verknüpften intellektuellen Reiserouten scheinbar fremder Menschen. Die Zusammenarbeit in den Wissenschaften Künsten und Geisteswissenschaften führte zu außergewöhnlichen Begegnungen zwischen deutschen und indischen Köpfen. Meghnad Saha traf Albert Einstein Stella Kramrisch brachte das Bauhaus nach Kalkutta und Girindrasekhar Bose begann eine Korrespondenz mit Sigmund Freud. Rabindranath Tagore reiste nach Deutschland um Gelehrte für eine neue Universität zu rekrutieren und Himanshu Rai arbeitete mit Franz Osten zusammen um in Bombay Filmstudios einzurichten. Diese Interaktionen so Manjappa zeigten gemeinsame Reaktionen auf die Hegemonie des britischen Imperiums. Deutsche und Indianer hofften in einander die Werkzeuge zu finden die nötig waren um eine anglozentrische Weltordnung zu stürzen. Wie Manjappa zeigt sind transnationale Begegnungen nicht von Natur aus fortschrittlich. Vom Orientalismus über den Arianismus bis hin zum Szientismus waren die deutsch indischen Verstrickungen weder notwendigerweise liberal noch konventionell kosmopolitisch oft ebenso sehr durch Manipulation wie durch echte Kooperation gekennzeichnet. Die Übersetzung dieses Buches wurde mit Mitteln des Ministeriums für Wissenschaft Forschung und Kunst Baden Württemberg gefördert und ausgezeichnet.
