Presenting The Past Britain 1750 1900 Presenting The Past:

Re-presenting the Past Ann-Marie Gallagher, Cathy Lubelska, Louise Ryan, 2014-06-11 Feminist history continues to change the way history is written and in doing so changes our view of the past The authors of this collection explore how issues of sexuality class nationalism and colonialism informed the ways in which women were represented and continue to be represented in history They show the ways in which women have been excluded silenced and misrepresented in stories of the past and how women s lives have been distorted or simplified in conventional historical accounts Together they suggest fresh ways of approaching women s history and use examples of work in new areas of research such as women s health and leisure in order to demonstrate the effectiveness of the various methodologies being proposed Echoing Events Tina van der

Vlies, 2022-12-12 Echoing Events questions the perpetuation actualization and canonization of national narratives in English and Dutch history textbooks wide reaching media that tendentially inspire a sense of meaning memory and thus also identity The longitudinal study begins in the 1920s when the League of Nations launched several initiatives to reduce strong nationalistic visions in textbooks and ends in the new millennium with the revival of national narratives in both countries The analysis shows how and why textbook authors have narrated different histories which vary in terms of context epoch and place as echoing events by using recurring plots and the same combinations of historical analogies This innovative and original study thus investigates from a new angle the resistance of national narratives to change Climate: Present, Past and Future (Routledge Revivals) H. H. Lamb, 2013-09-05 First published in 1977 the second volume of Climate Present

Past and Future covers parts 3 and 4 of Professor Hubert Lamb s seminal and pioneering study of climatology Part 3 provides a survey of evidence of types of climates over the last million years and of methods of dating that evidence Through the earlier stages of the Earth s development the book traces what is known of the various geographies presented by the drifting continents and indicates what can be learnt about climatic regimes and the causes of climatic change From the last ice age to the present our knowledge of the succession of climates is summarized indicating prevailing temperatures rainfalls wind and ocean current patterns where possible Part 4 considers events during the fifteen years prior to the book s initial publication leading on to the problems of estimating the most probable future course of climatic development and the influence of Man s activities on climate Alongside the reissue of volume 1 this Routledge Revival will be essential reading for anyone interested in both the causes and workings of climate and in the history of climatology itself Albion's People John Rule, 2014-06-11 This second volume of John Rule s major two volume portrait of Georgian England is a comprehensive and authoritative survey of eighteenth century society incorporating the exciting new research findings of recent years It deals in turn with the upper class middling sort and lower orders with popular education religion and culture with standards of living in town and country and with crime punishment and protest The book which is as rich and varied as the age it explores ends with an assessment of continuity and change across the century Navigating the Old English Poor Law Peter Jones, Steven

King,2020-12-24 At the heart of this book are the stories in their own words of ordinary people who fell into need and required the help of the local state in the early nineteenth century We read their hopes fears detailed experiences of illness and aspects of material conditions across a spectrum from nakedness and starvation to homelessness and eviction

Empire as the Triumph of Theory Edward Beasley,2005 A key addition to our understanding of the Victorian era British Empire this book looks at the founders of the Colonial Society and the ideas that led them down the path to imperialism

The Climate of Europe: Past, Present and Future H. Flohn,R. Fantechi,1984-07-31 The Formation of College English Thomas P. Miller,1997 In the middle of the eighteenth century English literature composition and rhetoric were introduced almost simultaneously into colleges throughout the British cultural provinces Professorships of rhetoric and belles lettres were established just as print was reaching a growing reading public and efforts were being made to standardize educated taste and usage The provinces saw English studies as a means to upward social mobility through cultural assimilation In the educational centers of England however the introduction of English represented a literacy crisis brought on by provincial institutions that had failed to maintain classical texts and learned languages Today as rhetoric and composition have become reestablished in the humanities in American colleges English studies are being broadly transformed by cultural studies community literacies and political controversies Once again English departments that are primarily departments of literature see these basic writing courses as a sign of a literacy crisis that is undermining the classics of literature The Formation of College English reexamines the civic concerns of rhetoric and the politics that have shaped and continue to shape college English

Nationalism in the Age of the French Revolution Otto Dann, John Dinwiddy, 1988-01-01 It has been almost a truism of European history that the French Revolution gave a great stimulus to the growth of modern nationalism This collection of original essays in English sets out to examine in detail for the first time in what ways and for what reasons the era of the Revolution did see major developments in this respect in various parts of Europe

Britain 1750-1900 Keith Worrall, Paul Grey, 2002 Crime History and Histories of Crime Clive Emsley, 1996 When is a crime a crime or an act condoned by a significant portion of society When is a criminal a criminal or a revolutionary or a national hero As the chapters in this collection make clear what constitutes criminal activity varies to a degree among different societies and at different moments in a society s history In this wide ranging work major historians of criminology and penology examine aspects of crime and criminal justice from medieval Western Europe to modern day Canada In addition to examining crime the judicial system and punishment in various societies the chapters look at the evolution of police systems as societies urbanize and undergo population changes Together these chapters look at many key questions concerning the modern study of criminal behavior As such the volume will be of great interest to researchers and scholars of the history of crime Era of Emancipation Brian A. Jenkins,1988 Despite the 1800 Act of Union Ireland was not an integral part of the United Kingdom Its viceregal government the breadth and depth of its poverty and the extent persistence and savagery of peasant violence marked it as distinct This distinction was emphasized by Ireland s Protestant ascendancy in an overwhelmingly Catholic population In his examination of British administration in Ireland from 1812 to 1830 Brian Jenkins focuses on the Catholic issue which dominated Britain s Irish agenda during this period He argues that the British government attempted within the context of the time to govern Ireland in a civilized and enlightened way The Oxford Handbook of the History of Crime and Criminal Justice Paul Knepper,Anja

Johansen,2016 The Oxford Handbook of the History of Crime and Criminal Justice provides a systematic and comprehensive examination of recent developments across criminology and criminal justice Chapters examine methodological and theoretical approaches to criminology on going debates and controversies and contemporary issues such as drug trafficking terrorism and the intersections of gender race and class in the context of crime and punishment By a Flash and a Scare John E. Archer,1990 Drawing on intensive research in the local records of Norfolk and Suffolk this detailed study identifies and examines the three most serious crimes of protest arson animal maiming and poaching in nineteenth century East Anglia Showing that this rural society was shaped by terror and oppression Archer analyzes the climate of unrest discontent and desperation and offers an important contribution to our understanding of life in the nineteenth century countryside

Marianne Farningham Linda Wilson,2008-07-01 Marianne Farningham has been called one of the most influential female members of the nineteenth century Baptist community yet her name a familiar one in evangelical households during the later nineteenth century is virtually unknown to us today Marianne who wrote for the Christian press over a period of fifty years both reflected and shaped aspects of popular Nonconformity through her poetry prose and biographies She covered topics as varied as the theology of hell and votes for women This investigation explores major aspects of Marianne s many faceted life and thought and discusses her views of women s roles her educational work her public life for example as a popular lecturer and her spirituality Informed by Marianne s life and writings it challenges a number of stereotypes of Victorian evangelicalism including assumptions about evangelical women and the relationship between Evangelicalism and feminism It is a significant contribution to the history of Victorian Nonconformity The Making of the Modern Police, 1780-1914, Part I Vol 3 Paul Lawrence,Francis Dodsworth,Robert M Morris,2021-12-24 Over six volumes this edited collection of pamphlets government publications printed ephemera and manuscript sources looks at the development of the first modern police force It will be of interest to social and political historians criminologists and those interested in the development of the detective novel in nineteenth century literature This is Part I Volume 3
