Prey Of The Chameleon:

Predator & Prey Mallikarjun B. Mulimani, 1901 The red haired emerald green eyed Irish American is waiting to die on a mountain top under a starlit sky in front of a blazing fire surrounded by his three imaginary friends the moth the chameleon and the eagle As he phlegmatically looks back at the adventurous globe trotting life he has led his diary entries which he had penned during the course of his journey take us through the important milestones in his life What could have possibly led him to where he is now Why is he contemplating suicide Will he take the final plunge Predator Prey looks at life as Yin Yang It artistically and philosophically explores psychology humanity God and ultimately space time and the universe with the aim of making sense of what we call life

Predator & Prey, The Global Structure of Visual Space Tarow Indow, 2004 The space we see around us is the end product of a long series of processes physical physiological and cognitive It is a highly structured perceptual entity In contrast to the fact that most studies of visual perception are concerned with local phenomena in this visual space the main purpose of this book is to discuss the global structure of visual space The physical space which surrounds us is of Euclidean structure but its perceived image is not necessarily structured in that way Problems such as why the sky appears as a vault and why the horizon is located at eye level are discussed in the book
