Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1980      Books in Series ,1985 Vols for 1980 issued in three parts
Series Authors and Titles      Intuitions of Justice and the Utility of Desert Paul H. Robinson,2013-05-23 Research suggests that people of all demographics have nuanced and sophisticated notions of justice Intuitions of Justice and the Utility of Desert sketches the contours of a wide range of lay judgments of justice touching many if not most of the issues that penal code drafters or policy makers must face      Powers of the Prosecutor in Criminal Investigation Karolina Kremens,2021-03-26 This comparative analysis examines the scope of prosecutorial powers at different phases of criminal investigation in four countries the United States Italy Poland and Germany Since in all four the number of criminal cases decided without trial is constantly increasing criminal investigation has become central in the criminal process The work asks who should be in charge of this stage of the process Prosecutors have gained tremendous powers to influence the outcome of the criminal cases including powers once reserved for judges In a system in which the role of the trial is diminishing and the significance of criminal investigation is growing this book questions whether the prosecutor s powers at the early stage of the process should be enhanced Using a problem oriented approach the book provides a parallel analysis of each country along five possible spheres of prosecutorial engagement commencing criminal investigation conducting criminal investigation undertaking initial charging decisions imposing coercive measures and discontinuing criminal investigation Using the competing adversarial inquisitorial models as a framework the focus is on the prosecutor as a crucial figure in the criminal process and investigation The insights of this book will be of interest and relevance to students and academics in criminal justice criminology law and public policy as well as policymakers government officials and others interested in legal reform

The Constitutional Dimension of European Criminal Law Ester Herlin-Karnell,2012-05-31 Criminal law is one of the most rapidly changing areas of contemporary EU law and integration The Treaty of Lisbon has elevated it to a central place in the constitution of the EU within the dynamic area of freedom security and justice The phenomenon of EU criminal law as such is however far from new but has developed on an ad hoc basis not least as a result of the case law of the European Court of Justice Central to the Court s reasoning in this area has been the principle of effectiveness A main theme running through the book is therefore the role of the axiom of effectiveness which is critically examined with particular attention to its use by the European Court of Justice in recent leading cases This book explores the constitutional principles underlying it both those determining the substantive values it embodies and those determining its scope and extent Other chapters consider the phenomenon of preventative criminalisation at EU level and the protection of subsidiarity and proportionality in EU criminal law The balance between effective EU action proper control of competence and adequate protection of individual rights is of growing importance as EU criminal law expands but as this book suggests has not yet been fully articulated or entrenched by the institutions of the EU      Prosecution of Politicide in Ethiopia Marshet Tadesse Tessema,2018-09-26

This book investigates the road map or the transitional justice mechanisms that the Ethiopian government chose to confront the gross human rights violations perpetrated under the 17 years rule of the Derg the dictatorial regime that controlled state power from 1974 to 1991. Furthermore the author extensively examines the prosecution of politicalicide or genocide against political groups in Ethiopia. Dealing with the violent conflict massacres repressions and other mass atrocities of the past is necessary not for its own sake but to clear the way for a new beginning. In other words ignoring gross human rights violations and attempting to close the chapter on an oppressive dictatorial past by choosing to let bygones be bygones is no longer a viable option when starting on the road to a democratic future. For unaddressed atrocities and a sense of injustice would not only continue to haunt a nation but could also ignite similar conflicts in the future. So the question is what choices are available to the newly installed government when confronting the evils of the past. There are a wide array of transitional mechanisms to choose from but there is no one size fits all mechanism. Of all the transitional justice mechanisms namely truth commissions lustration amnesty prosecution and reparation the Ethiopian government chose prosecution as the main means for dealing with the horrendous crimes committed by the Derg regime. One of the formidable challenges for transitioning states in dealing with the crimes of former regimes is an inadequate legal framework by which to criminalize and punish egregious human rights violations. With the aim of examining whether or not Ethiopia has confronted this challenge the book assesses Ethiopia's legal framework regarding both crimes under international law and individual criminal responsibility. This book will be of great relevance to academics and practitioners in the areas of genocide studies international criminal law and transitional justice. Students in the fields of international criminal law transitional justice and human rights will also find relevant information on the national prosecution of politicalicide in particular and the question of confronting the past in general. Marshet Tadesse Tessema is Assistant Professor of the Law School College of Law and Governance at Jimma University in Ethiopia and Postdoctoral Fellow of the South African German Centre University of the Western Cape in South Africa.

Accountability for International Humanitarian Law Violations: The Case of Rwanda and East Timor Mohamed Othman, 2005-12-10. The main objective of this book is to make available to an informed audience a legal and policy oriented study on accountability for serious human rights and international humanitarian law violations. It is an attempt to share the lessons learnt in accountability for atrocity crimes as conducted by the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda (ICTR) and the United Nations Transitional Administration in East Timor (UNTAET). The former established subsequent to egregious atrocities that took place in 1994 and the latter following the massive outburst of violence in 1999. The book is based on two cases: Rwanda and East Timor. It is expected that it will serve as reference literature to both the legal community and policy makers on accountability for heinous international crimes. As the international community and States following serious human rights and international humanitarian law violations have painfully come to terms with their obligations to bring to justice persons in high offices or leadership positions de jure or de facto alleged to have committed such crimes, it has also become imperative that beginners' mistakes be avoided. When the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia (ICTY) was established in 1993 and the ICTR in 1994 and commenced their pioneering mandates, there was no template on which the prosecution of individuals most responsible or with the greatest responsibility could be cast. Accountability had to be experimental.

Evidence Andrew L.-T. Choo, 2018. Andrew Choo's Evidence provides a lucid and concise account of the principles of the law of civil and criminal evidence in England and Wales. Critical and thought-provoking, it is the ideal text for undergraduate law students.

The 'Contextual Elements' of the Crime of Genocide Nasour Koursami, 2018-02-10. This book examines the position of contextual elements as a constitutive element of the legal definition of the crime of genocide and determines the extent to which an individual genocidaire is required to act within a particular genocidal context. Unlike other books in the field of the study of the crime of genocide, this book captures the nuance and the complex issues of the debate by providing book-length comprehensive examination of the position of contextual elements in light of the evolution of genocide as a concept and the literal legal definition of the crime of genocide which expressly characterized the crime with only the existence of an individualistic intent to destroy a group. With scholars of international criminal law, students, researchers, practitioners in the field, and international criminal tribunals in mind, the author tackles many of the issues raised on the position of contextual elements in both academic literature and judicial decisions. Nasour Koursami is the Director of Applied Research and a Lecturer at the National School of Administration in Chad. He studied law at Cardiff and Bristol Universities and holds a Ph.D. in International Law from the University of Edinburgh.
