Monmonier,2018-12-01 Maps with the News is a lively assessment of the role of cartography in American journalism Tracing the use of maps in American news reporting from the eighteenth century to the 1980s Mark Monmonier explores why and how journalistic maps have achieved such importance A most welcome and thorough investigation of a neglected aspect of both the history of cartography and modern cartographic practice Mapline A well written scholarly treatment of journalistic cartography It is well researched thoroughly indexed and referenced amply illustrated Judith A Tyner Imago Mundi There is little doubt that Maps with the News should be part of the training and on the desks of all those concerned with producing maps for mass consumption and also on the bookshelves of all journalists graphic artists historians of cartography and geographic educators W G V Balchin Geographical Journal A definitive work on journalistic cartography Virginia Chipperfield Society of University Cartographers Bulletin Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications United States. Superintendent of Documents,1994 Memory Maps Mariko Asano Tamanoi,2008-10-31 Between 1932 and 1945 more than 320 000 Japanese emigrated to Manchuria in northeast China with the dream of becoming land owning farmers Following the Soviet invasion of Manchuria and Japan s surrender in August 1945 their dream turned into a nightmare Since the late 1980s popular Japanese conceptions have overlooked the disastrous impact of colonization and resurrected the utopian justification for creating Manchukuo as the puppet state was known This re remembering Mariko Tamanoi argues constitutes a source of friction between China and Japan today Memory Maps tells the compelling story of both the promise of a utopia and the tragic aftermath of its failure An anthropologist Tamanoi approaches her investigation of Manchuria s colonization and collapse as a complex history of the present which in postcolonial studies refers to the examination of popular memory of past colonial relations of power To mitigate this complexity she has created four memory maps that draw on the recollections of former Japanese settlers their children who were left in China and later repatriated and Chinese who lived under Japanese rule in Manchuria The first map presents the oral histories of farmers who emigrated from Nagano Japan to Manchuria between 1932 and 1945 and returned home after the war Interviewees were asked to remember the colonization of Manchuria during Japan s age of empire Hikiage mono autobiographies make up the second map These are written memories of repatriation from the Soviet invasion to some time between 1946 and 1949 The third memory map is entitled Orphans Voices It examines the oral and written memories of the children of Japanese settlers who were left behind at the war s end but returned to Japan after relations between China and Japan were normalized in 1972 The memories of Chinese who lived the age of empire in Manchuria make up the fourth map This map also includes the memories of Chinese couples who adopted the abandoned children of Japanese settlers as well as the children themselves who renounced their Japanese nationality and chose to remain in China In the final chapter Tamanoi considers theoretical questions of the state and the relationship between place voice and nostalgia She also attempts to integrate the four memory maps in the transnational space covering Japan and China Both fastidious in dealing with theoretical questions and engagingly written Memory Maps contributes not only to the empirical study of the Japanese empire and its effects on the daily lives of Japanese and Chinese but also to postcolonial theory as it applies to the use of memory U.S. Geological Survey Water-supply Paper,1982 Official Records ,1980 Locating the Moving Image Julia Hallam,Les Roberts,2021-12-22 Essays exploring the methodologies used by film scholars to develop a spatial history of the moving image Leading scholars in the interdisciplinary field of geo spatial visual studies examine the social experience of cinema and the different ways in which film production developed as a commercial enterprise as a leisure activity and as modes of expression and communication Their research charts new pathways in mapping the relationship between film production and local film practices theatrical exhibition circuits and cinema going creating new forms of spatial anthropology Topics include cinematic practices in rural and urban communities development of cinema by amateur filmmakers and use of GIS in mapping the spatial development of film production and cinema going as social practices Introduces some of the concrete ways practical mapping and GIS technologies help elaborate historical film projects The scope of many of these projects is breathtaking in scale Others embrace ethnographic methods that tell poignant individual stories Still others deftly merge qualitative and quantitative approaches As a whole the volume brings together disparate fields of study in interesting ways James Craine California State University Northridge This collection breaks new ground for cinema history Hallam and Roberts have gathered some of the foremost scholars who are mapping spatial histories of the moving image and the geographies of film production distribution and consumption Introducing new interdisciplinary methods and asking new questions Locating the Moving Image takes film studies into new territory beyond the boundaries of the text and its interpretation towards an understanding of the relationship between culture spatiality and place Richard Maltby Matthew Flinders Distinguished Professor of Screen Studies Flinders University Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1986: Department of Agricultural United States.
