

subject before the Royal Irish Academy, which, as is greatly to be regretted, have not yet been printed, or even appeared in the Academy's published transactions.

Besides the four issues of printing set out in the following list, there were probably other works which must have been lost. For example, the earliest Irish Biblesophers (of I may call them so), Sir James Ware, tells us that Sir Henry Sidney, when Lord Deputy in Dublin, caused the Statutes of Ireland to be printed, though where is not stated. Now Sidney was six or seven times in office altogether, either as Lord Justice or Lord Deputy, namely, in 1556, 1557, 1558 (twice), 1563-7, 1568-1571, and finally in 1575-1578. He died in 1586. Of course, the printing of the Statutes prepared by Sidney may have been done in London; but, as will be observed from the foregoing data, Powell's press was at work here, and turning out excellent work in its native country during the earlier periods of Sidney's administration. It is at least possible, therefore, that this edition of the Statutes was printed and published here. Whatever happened to, or became of, Powell it would seem that his press and type remained here, for the letters and borders around the Irish poems printed in 1571 are unquestionably Powell's. Sir Richard Buxton, afterwards Lord Chancellor, in the preface to his edition of the Irish Statutes, printed here in 1791, refers to the earlier PRINTED Statutes, which had become so rare that even the judges had not always copies for reference.

No doubt also there were various proclamations printed in this country, at least in Queen Elizabeth's reign, though as far I have only traced five of these at present. A patient and careful search through the original volumes of State Papers in the Public Record Office, London, from the reign of Edward VI to 1600, would be fruitful in results, I believe.
