Savage, 2004-12-02 Dr Savage seeks to understand the apostle Paul s apparently contradictory description of his ministry in 2 Corinthians as one in which power is manifested through weakness When I am weak then I am strong This paradox becomes intelligible when it is understood that Paul s critics were influenced by a perspective which was the exact opposite of his they imbibed the self exalting outlook of their contemporary world while he embraced the self emptying gospel of Christ Drawing from archaeological data on first century Corinth this study is unique in establishing both the secular underpinnings of Paul s paradoxical language and the devastating critique which that language offers on the general outlook of the first century Paul emerges as a radical foil to the spirit of the age Imaginative Love in John

Tilborg,2021-08-30 This study examines love in John s Gospel It attempts to answer the question in what way love in the Johannine Gospel receives its narratively imaginative stature John s Gospel develops a love story which is different from any other narrative Much attention is given to the cultural contextualisation as well as to the narrative and imaginative textualisations of the various love relationships In this Jesus relationship with his beloved disciple plays a central role The study concludes that all other love relationships the relationship of Jesus with his father mother brothers and sisters with John the Baptist with Peter and the other disciples with particular women and men derive their colour and content from this specific relationship

Worshipping a Crucified Man Jeremy Hudson,2021-08-26 By the mid second century Christian writers were engaging in debates with educated audiences from non Jewish Graeco Roman cultural backgrounds A remarkable feature of some of the texts from this period is how extensively they refer to the Jewish scriptures even though those scriptures were unfamiliar to non Jewish Graeco Romans In Worshipping a Crucified Man Jeremy Hudson explores for the first time why this should have been so by examining three works by Christian converts originally educated in Graeco Roman traditions Justin Martyr s First Apology Tatian s Oratio and Theophilus of Antioch s Ad Autolycum Hudson considers their literary strategies their use of quotations and allusions and how they present the Jewish scriptures all against the background of the Graeco Roman literary culture familiar to both authors and audiences The scriptures are presented as a critically defining feature of Christianity instrumental in shaping the way the new religion presented itself as it strove to engage with and challenge the cultural traditions of the Graeco Roman world Συγγράμματα. (Suggrámmata)

W den Boer,2023-08-21 Συγγράμματα. (Suggrámmata) Willem Den Boer,1979 Peasant-Citizen and Slave Ellen Meiksins Wood,2015-11-03 The controversial thesis at the center of this study is that despite the importance of slavery in Athenian society the most distinctive characteristic of Athenian democracy was the unprecedented prominence it gave to free labor Wood argues that the emergence of the peasant as citizen juridically and politically independent accounts for much that is remarkable in Athenian political institutions and culture From a survey of historical writings of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries the focus of which distorted later debates Wood goes on to take issue with recent arguments such as those of G E M de Ste Croix about the importance of slavery in agricultural production The social political and cultural influence of the peasant citizen is explored in a way which questions some of the most cherished conventions of Marxist and non Marxist historiography
