Speaking Out Tanya Serisier, 2018-11-19 This is the first critical study of feminist practices of speaking out in response to rape This book argues that feminist anti rape politics are characterised by a belief in the transformative potential of women s personal narratives of sexual violence The political mobilisation of these narratives has been an incredibly successful strategy but one with unresolved ethical questions and political limitations The book explores both the successes and the unresolved questions through feminist archival materials published narratives of sexual violence and mass media and internet sources It argues that that a rethinking of the role and place of women s stories and the politics of speaking out is vital for a rethinking of feminist politics around sexual violence and key to fresh approaches to combating this violence

Radical Feminism Today Denise Thompson, 2001-04-06 Radical Feminism Today offers a timely and engaging account of exactly what feminism is and what it is not Denise Thompson questions much of what has come to be taken for granted as feminism and points to the limitations of implicitly defining feminism in terms of women gender difference or race gender class She challenges some of the most widely accepted ideas about feminism and in doing so opens up a number of hitherto closed debates allowing for the possibility of moving those debates further global Reclaim the Night March When Women Ask the Questions Marilyn Jacoby Boxer, 2001-09-28 In When Women Ask the Questions Marilyn Boxer traces the successes and failures of women's studies, examines the field's enduring impact on the world of higher education and concludes that the rise of women's studies has challenged the university in the same way that feminism has challenged society at large. Drawing on her experiences as a historian, feminist, academic administrator and former chair of a women's studies program, Boxer observes that by working for justice and for changes necessary to make the attainment of justice a practical possibility, women's studies ensures that women are heard in the processes and places where knowledge is created, taught and preserved. The intellectual transformation behind the emergence of women's studies, Boxer concludes, is one of historic proportions. Like other great moments in human experience, it has given rise to a flowering of art, literature and science and to the challenging of previously accepted authorities of text and tradition.

Radical Reproductive Justice Loretta Ross, Erika Derkas, Whitney Peoples, Lynn Roberts, Pamela Bridgewater, 2017-10-16 Expanding the social justice discourse surrounding reproductive rights to include issues of environmental justice, incarceration, poverty, disability and more, this crucial anthology explores the practical applications for activist thought migrating from the community into the academy. Radical Reproductive Justice assembles two decades of work initiated by SisterSong Women of Color Health Collective, creators of the human rights-based reproductive justice framework to move beyond polarized pro-choice/pro-life debates. Rooted in Black feminism and built on intersecting identities, this revolutionary framework asserts a woman's right to have children, to not have children and to parent and provide for the children they have. The book is as revolutionary and revelatory as it is vast.

Rewire Radical Feminism Barbara A. Crow, 2000-02 Crow, women's studies U of Calgary, attempts to retrieve the lost history of North American radical feminists, a group to be distinguished from mainstream feminism by their critique of the entire structure of society in spite of anti-feminist attempts to label all feminists radical. She presents a collection of essays, manifestos, position papers and newsletters drawn mainly from the Lesbian Herstory Archives, the Redstockings Archives and the Barnard College Special Collections, thus limiting the material to the East Coast, covering the years 1967 to 1975. Most of the documents are organized topically under the headings: lesbianism, heterosexuality, children, race and class. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc, Portland, OR.

Radical-Relational Perspectives in Transactional Analysis Psychotherapy Karen Minikin, 2023-09-21 Radical-Relational Perspectives in Transactional Analysis Psychotherapy assesses various forms of oppression in current historical and personal perspectives and considers the impact this has on the development and sustenance of the psyche. Within this book, Minikin reformulates the ideas of Radical Psychiatry for the contemporary community and both honours the historical legacy of including the social and political in transactional analysis and offers a critique of Eurocentrism in traditional relational perspectives. Through personal and clinical illustrations, Minikin encourages those in the TA community to move topics such as diversity from the margins to the centre when working with patients and to integrate the political with traditional relational perspectives. Constructing Human Trafficking Jennifer K. Lobasz, 2018-07-31 Human trafficking has come to be seen as a growing threat and transnational advocacy networks opposed to human trafficking have succeeded in establishing trafficking as a pressing political problem The meaning of human trafficking however remains an object of significant and heated contestation This project draws upon feminist and poststructuralist international relations theories to offer a genealogy of U S neo abolitionism The analysis examines activist campaigns legislative and policy debates and legislation surrounding human trafficking and the Trafficking Victims Protection Act in order to argue that the dominant US framing of trafficking as prostitution and sex slavery is not as hegemonic as scholars and activists commonly argue In fact constructions of human trafficking have become more amenable to reconfiguration paradoxically in large part because of Evangelical attempts to widen the frame This is an empirically novel and theoretically rich account of an urgent transnational issue of concern to activists voters and policymakers around the globe
