Radio Lucien:

The Language Archive and Other Plays Julia Cho, 2020-12-08 From whimsical comedies to nail biting chillers Julia Cho is one of the most versatile playwrights in the contemporary theatre scene For the past fifteen years her stunning plays have been performed all over the country Her works are both touching and challenging amusing and electric and this new anthology contains a captivating sampling of her widely lauded work Agnes Moorehead on Radio, Stage and Television Axel Nissen, 2017-12-14 In a career spanning six decades Agnes Moorehead 1900 1974 was perhaps unique among 20th century American actresses in making her name in four entertainment media radio theater film and television after age 40 Focusing on 25 of her most representative performances this retrospective analyzes her work on radio serials like Mayor of the Town 1942 1949 and Suspense 1942 1962 her stage productions of Don Juan in Hell and Gigi her television appearances on Bewitched and The Twilight Zone and her Emmy winning appearance on The Wild Wild West The author presents Moorehead's roles in the context of her personal life discusses her relationship with directors producers and other performers and provides little known facts about the productions Radio Relations Tiziano Bonini, Madalena Oliveira, Grażyna Stachyra, 2019-01-15 This volume gathers together revised versions of the papers presented at the ECREA Radio Research Section Conference held in Lublin Poland in September 2017 The book highlights what radio actually is a medium created to connect different places at a distance Subtle but pervasive simple but graceful radio builds affective relations either between listeners and the world or between listeners themselves The word relations is plural It suggests the idea that radio is both an economic activity related to technology production working routines and business and a cultural industry related to aesthetics art social interaction education and politics Since relations are relevantly human we can explore how radio appeals to personal commitment and can reinforce a sense of community too The unique value of this book lies both in erudite essays of Seán Street and Enrico Menduni world famous figures of radio research and in perspectives sketched by brilliant young radio practitioners and researchers The diverse views on radio communications from authors across the different regions of the world including Brazil Canada Italy Poland France Hungary Spain and the UK collected here will certainly inspire radio researchers media historians sociologists and journalism students The American Hebrew, 1928 Reframing remembrance Lisa Harper Campbell, 2021-11-09 Reframing remembrance examines films about the Nazi Occupation of France charting how this period has been commemorated and how it has affected the articulation of French national identity The book proposes that 1995 marked the beginning of a new approach to commemoration reflected by socio-political acts such as Jacques Chirac's July 1995 Vél d'Hiv speech and artistic acts most notably films set during the Occupation This is an approach that embraces critical engagement with history and its retelling With relevance to countries beyond France and events far removed from the Second World War Reframing remembrance highlights the need for ongoing honest remembrance and self-reflection as cultural representations of history continue to shape contemporary views about nations identities and their global responsibilities Jazz and Postwar French Identity Elizabeth Vihlen McGregor, 2016-06-23 In the context of a shifting domestic and international status quo that was evolving in the decades following World War II French audiences used jazz as a means of negotiating a wide range of issues that were pressing to them and to their fellow citizens Despite the fact that jazz was fundamentally linked to the multicultural through its origins in the hands of African American musicians happenings within the French jazz public reflected much about France's postwar society In the minds of many jazz was connected to youth culture but instead of challenging traditional gender expectations the music tended to reinforce long held stereotypes French critics musicians and fans contended with the reality of American superpower strength and often strove to elevate their own country's stature in relation to the United States by finding fault with American consumer society and foreign policy aims Jazz audiences used this music to condemn American racism and to support the American civil rights movement expressing strong reservations about the American way of life French musicians lobbied to create professional opportunities for themselves and some went so far as to create a union that endorsed preferential treatment for French nationals As France became more ethnically and religiously diverse due to immigration from Africa Asia and the Caribbean French jazz critics and fans noted the insidious appearance of racism in their own country and had to contend with how their own citizens would address the changing demographics of the nation even if they continued to insist that racism was more prevalent in the United States As independence movements brought an end to the French empire jazz enthusiasts from both former colonies and France had to reenvision their relationship to jazz and to the music's international audiences In these postwar decades the French were working to preserve a distinct national identity in the face of weakened global authority most forcefully represented by decolonization and American hegemony Through this originally African American music French listeners commentators and musicians participated in a process that both challenged and reinforced ideas about their own culture and nation The Enemy in Contemporary Film Martin Löschnigg, Marzena Sokołowska-Paryż, 2018-08-21 Culture and conflict inevitably go hand in hand The very idea of culture is marked by the notion of difference and by the creative fraught interaction between conflicting concepts and values The same can be said of all key ideas in the study of culture such as identity and diversity memory and trauma the translation of cultures and globalization dislocation and emplacement mediation and exclusion This series publishes theoretically informed original scholarship from the fields of literary and cultural studies as well as media visual and film studies It fosters an interdisciplinary dialogue on the multiple ways in which conflict supports and constrains the production of meaning on how conflict is represented how it relates to the past and projects the present and how it frames scholarship within the humanities Editors Isabel Capeloa Gil Catholic University of Portugal Lisbon Portugal Paulo de Medeiros University of Warwick UK Catherine Nesci University of California Santa Barbara USA Editorial Board Arjun Appadurai New York University Claudia Benthien Universität Hamburg Elisabeth Bronfen Universität Zürich Bishnupriya Ghosh University of
