

Ralph Ellison: The Next Fifty Years

Ronald A. T. Judy

When Jonathan Arac and I sat down in my dining room four years ago in July 1999—at his strong suggestion, I must say—we could have and perhaps dared to imagine much of what was to transpire in the imminent future of the world, particularly in the two months just prior to the November 2001 conference we were planning. That July dining room discussion was a moment in a continuing, albeit sporadic, conversation about Ralph Ellison that Jonathan and I had been having for some years since I first came to the University of Pittsburgh in 1993. Over time, the focus of our conversation became the significance of Ellison's work in the formation of American intelligence during the postwar period just after the Second World War.

"The formation of American intelligence during the postwar period." How absurd that phrase sounds today, and so appropriately American in its absurdity. An absurdity whose import is aptly articulated in the mercurial consolidation in the last five years of the past century of Ralph Ellison's stature as a novelist and essayist. Evidence of this was to be found in the 1993 New Yorker profile commemorating Ellison's eightieth birthday, and in the 1995 publication of the Modern Library Collected Essays. The cul-

Contemporary works of art that remodel the canon not only create complex hybrid and plural products but also alter our perceptions and understanding of their source texts This is the dual process referred to in this volume as refraction that the essays collected here set out to discuss and analyse by focusing on the dialectic rapport between postmodernism and the canon What is sought in many of the essays is a redefinition of postmodernist art and a re examination of the canon in the light of contemporary epistemology Given this dual process this volume will be of value both to everyone interested in contemporary art particularly fiction drama and film and also to readers whose aim it is to promote a better appreciation of canonical British literature

Ethics and ethnicity in the Literature of the United States María Frías Rudolphi, Jose Liste Noya, Begoña Simal González, 2011-11-28

L'ètica es pot definir com la relació amb l'altre la resposta obligatòria a un altre que precedeix qualsevol norma específica de conducta moral una relació ètica primordial que s'estableix com a base de qualsevol codi ètic o moral particular Quan aquest altre es particularitza com a l'altre ètic com es veu afectada en la seua mateixa articulació aquesta concepció de l'ètica

L'ètnicitat com a concepte unificador Existeix una ètica de l'ètnicitat Pel contrari l'ètica ètnica El mateix ètic d'all ètic redueix de cap manera l'ètic d'actuació d'all ètic En una cultura com la dels Estats Units fundada sobre una ètica individualista de caràcter paradoxalment universalitzant que es veu qüestionada constantment per les pròpies restriccions imposades a la singularitat ètica dels seus molts altres aquestes preguntes semblen especialment pertinents Els assaigs d'aquest volum demostren implícitament que aquestes preguntes no tenen respostes definitives perquè es tracta de termes el·lipsis conceptuals dels quals es refereix a all singular i diferent a les singularitats obstinadament no generalitzables de l'altre La literatura diversa dels Estats Units ens proporciona el terreny textual propici per aquesta conjunció d'all ètic i ètic Com ho demostra el panorama transhistòric d'aquests assaigs aquesta contestació intrínseca a la pròpia literatura donada la seua explicitació de l'all altre i a la vegada la seua participació en la domesticació d'aquest mateix altre La literatura dels Estats Units amb les seues demandes de pluralitat discursiva històricament determinades i amb les seues generalitzacions totalitzants i transcendents esdevé un corpus on destaca l'articulació d'aquest doble moviment La conjunció d'all ètic amb all ètic evita el tancament de l'aperturisme ètic ja que un enfocament ètic qüestiona la temptació de l'ètica cap a l'abstracció mentre que l'impuls ètic ens manté alerta davant la constitució universalitzant i estereotipada de les identitats ètiques

Ralph Ellison Ronald A. T. Judy, Jonathan Arac, 2003 While Ralph Ellison is perhaps best known for his novel Invisible Man he was also a significant twentieth century intellectual having authored numerous essays and papers that shaped thought on subjects from jazz to liberalism Ralph Ellison The Next Fifty Years gathers outstanding scholars in the fields of American and African American studies to engage Ellison's theoretical and critical writings Several essays in this collection focus on an area of Ellison's thinking that has yet to be adequately scrutinized his study of and writing about music specifically jazz and the blues

Although not a systematic philosopher of music Ellison exhibited the seriousness and rigor associated with the critical musical writings of Theodor Adorno and Edward Said Other essays in this special issue examine salient questions raised by Ellison's work including the nature of the connection between the novel and the democratic mind Vietnam and the crisis of liberal society and the problematic of modernism and freedom Ralph Ellison addresses the ways in which Ellison's writings about art were also efforts to think about and discuss political agency Contributors Jonathan Arac Kevin Bell Adam Gussow Ronald A T Judy Robert O Meally Donald E Pease Barry Shank Hortense Spillers Kenneth Warren Alexander G Weheliye John Wright

Ralph Ellison's Invisible Man Harold Bloom, Sterling Professor of Humanities Harold Bloom, 2009 Presents a collection of interpretations of Ralph Ellison's novel Invisible man

Black Odysseys Justine McConnell, 2013-06-20 This book explores works from Africa and the African diaspora which respond to the Homeric Odyssey As a founding text of the Western canon and as a homecoming trope and quest for identity the Odyssey has inspired writers who are simultaneously striving against and appropriating the very forms which had been used to oppress them

Post/Colonialism and the Pursuit of Freedom in the Black Atlantic Jerome C Branche, 2018-01-19 Post Colonialism and the Pursuit of Freedom in the Black Atlantic is an interdisciplinary collection of essays of wide historical and geographic scope which engages the legacy of diaspora colonialism and slavery The contributors explore the confrontation between Africa's forced migrants and their unwelcoming new environments in order to highlight the unique individual experiences of survival and assimilation that characterized Atlantic slavery As they focus on the African or Afro diasporan populations under study the chapters gauge the degree to which formal independence coming out of a variety of practices of opposition and resistance lasting centuries in some cases has translated into freedom security and a good life By foregrounding Hispanophone Lusophone and Francophone African and Afro descendant concerns over and against an often Anglo centric focus in the field the book brings a more representative approach to the area of diaspora or Black Atlantic studies offering a more complete appreciation of Black Atlantic cultural production across history and across linguistic barriers

The Critical Situation Robert T. Tally Jr, 2023-03-14 The Critical Situation Vexed Perspectives in Postmodern Literary Studies comprises a selection of essays that register the situatedness of critical theory and practice amid various intellectual institutional and cultural contexts This book offers examples of situated criticism which in turn are concerned with the ways in which literary and cultural criticism are and have been situated in relation to a variety of ideological and institutional structures including those of world literature American studies spatial literary studies cultural critique globalization and postmodernity These structures influence the ways that criticism is practiced and due recognition of their continuing effects is crucial to the success of any meaningful critical practice in the twenty first century

Off Beat Jan Hein Hoogstad, Birgitte Stougaard Pedersen, 2013-08-01 Off Beat Pluralizing Rhythm draws attention to rhythm as a tool for analyzing various cultural objects In fields as diverse as music culture nature and economy rhythm can be seen as a phenomenon that both connects and divides It suggests a certain measure with which people practices and cultures may comply Yet for this very reason rhythm can also function as a field of exclusion contestation and debate In that respect rhythm possesses an underestimated meaning creating potential Whereas its connecting force is often accentuated in the aesthetic political and commercial usage of the term the divisive aspect of rhythm is at least as important This volume wants to rid rhythm of its harmless nearly esoteric reputation as a cosmic unifier by understanding it in the light of the contemporary medial turn In the present collection of essays we have encouraged approaches that combine political aesthetic musical and theoretical dimensions of rhythm Jan Hein Hoogstad is Assistant Professor in Comparative Literature and Cultural Analysis at the University of Amsterdam the Netherlands Birgitte Stougaard Pedersen is Associate Professor in the Section for Aesthetics and Culture Department of Aesthetics and Communication Aarhus University Denmark

Gramsci in the World Roberto M. Dainotto, Fredric Jameson, 2020-07-27 Antonio Gramsci's Prison Notebooks have offered concepts categories and political solutions that have been applied in a variety of social and political contexts from postwar Italy to the insurgencies of the Arab Spring The contributors to Gramsci in the World examine the diverse receptions and uses of Gramscian thought highlighting its possibilities and limits for understanding and changing the world Among other topics they explore Gramsci's importance to Caribbean anticolonial thinkers like Stuart Hall his presence in decolonial indigenous movements in the Andes and his relevance to understanding the Chinese Left The contributors consider why Gramsci has had relatively little impact in the United States while also showing how he was a major force in pushing Marxism beyond Europe especially into the Arab world and other regions of the Global South Rather than taking one interpretive position on Gramsci the contributors demonstrate the ongoing relevance of his ideas to revolutionary theory and praxis Contributors Alberto Burgio Cesare Casarino Maria Elisa Cevalco Kate Crehan Roberto M Dainotto Michael Denning Harry Harootunian Fredric Jameson R A Judy Patrizia Manduchi Andrea Scapolo Peter D Thomas Catherine Walsh Pu Wang Cosimo Zene

Critical Zone 3 Douglas Kerr, Q.S. Tong, Shouren Wang, 2009-02-01 Despite globalizing forces whether economic political or cultural there remain conspicuous differences that divide scholarly communities How should we understand and respond to those discursive gaps among different traditions and systems of knowledge production Critical Zone is a book series in cultural and literary studies that is concerned with current critical debates and intellectual preoccupations in the humanities The series aims to improve understanding across cultures traditions discourses and disciplines and to produce international critical knowledge Critical Zone is an expression of timely collaboration among scholars from Hong Kong mainland China the United States and Europe and conceived as an intellectual bridge between China and the rest of the world The second volume of Critical Zone as does its predecessor consists of two parts The first part includes original essays that deal with the concept and practice of empire as a collective response to the question of how imperial formations and operations in the past and at present should be examined in a larger context of international politics and how historical imperialism may be considered in relation to the conditions of our time Part II includes two sets of translations of essays first published in Chinese about two recent debates in China one on the canonicity of Lu Xun and the other on the problem of how to reform Peking University in the context of globalization These two groups of translations are led by review essays that contextualize the debates

Albert Murray and the Aesthetic Imagination of a Nation Barbara A. Baker, 2010-06-29 This is the first book length study of the writings work and life of Renaissance man and Alabama native Albert Murray The collection consists of essays and interviews written by prominent scholars of African American literature jazz and Albert Murray that illustrate Murray s place as a central figure in African American arts and letters and as an American cultural pioneer Book jacket Seen and

Unseen Marc Lamont Hill, Todd Brewster, 2022-05-03 A riveting exploration of how the power of visual media over the last few years has shifted the narrative on race and reignited the push towards justice by the author of the worthy and necessary The New York Times Nobody Marc Lamont Hill and the bestselling author and acclaimed journalist Todd Brewster With his signature clear and courageous Cornel West voice Marc Lamont Hill and New York Times bestselling author Todd Brewster weave some of the most pivotal recent moments in the country s racial divide the killings of George Floyd and Ahmaud Arbery and the harassment of Christian Cooper into their historical context In doing so they reveal the common thread between these harrowing incidents video recordings and the immediacy of technology has irrevocably changed our conversations about race and in many instances tipped the levers of power in favor of the historically disadvantaged Drawing on the powerful role of technology as a driver of history identity and racial consciousness Seen and Unseen asks why after so much video confirmation of police violence on people of color it took the footage of George Floyd to trigger an overwhelming response of sympathy and outrage In the vein of The New Jim Crow and Caste Seen and Unseen incisively explores what connects our moment to the history of race in America but also what makes today different from the civil rights movements of the past and what it will ultimately take to push social justice forward Revisiting the Sixties Laura Bieger, Christian

Lammert, 2013-11 The Vietnam War the Cuban Missile Crisis the Civil Rights Movement and the Summer of Love the 1960s were one of the most turbulent decades in US history These years launched an unprecedented public debate over the meaning of America dividing US society in deep and troubling ways Yet despite the passage of time the contemporary crises in the American way of life and the political system that sustain it might well make one wonder to what degree are we still living on the outskirts of the 60s By examining crucial events trends and individuals from the civic social political intellectual cultural and economic spheres across a range of disciplines this volume offers a nuanced and pluralist account of the longest decade in America Society and Culture in the Slave South J. William Harris, 2013-02-01 Combining established work with that of recent provocative scholarship on the antebellum South this collection of essays puts students in touch with some of the central debates in this dynamic field It includes substantial excerpts from the work of Eugene Genovese and Elizabeth

Fox Genovese who lay out the influential interpretation of the South as a paternalistic society and culture and contributions from more recent scholars who provide dissenting or alternative interpretations of the relations between masters and slaves and men and women The essays draw on a wide range of disciplines including economics psychology and anthropology to investigate the nature of plantation and family life in the South Explanatory notes guide the reader through each essay and the Editor's introduction places the work in its historiographical context

The Indignant Generation Lawrence P. Jackson, 2021-10-12 Recovering the lost history of a crucial era in African American literature The Indignant Generation is the first narrative history of the neglected but essential period of African American literature between the Harlem Renaissance and the civil rights era The years between these two indispensable epochs saw the communal rise of Richard Wright Gwendolyn Brooks Ralph Ellison Lorraine Hansberry James Baldwin and many other influential black writers While these individuals have been duly celebrated little attention has been paid to the political and artistic milieu in which they produced their greatest works With this commanding study Lawrence Jackson recalls the lost history of a crucial era Looking at the tumultuous decades surrounding World War II Jackson restores the indignant quality to a generation of African American writers shaped by Jim Crow segregation the Great Depression the growth of American communism and an international wave of decolonization He also reveals how artistic collectives in New York Chicago and Washington fostered a sense of destiny and belonging among diverse and disenchanted peoples As Jackson shows through contemporary documents the years that brought us Their Eyes Were Watching God Native Son and Invisible Man also saw the rise of African American literary criticism by both black and white critics Fully exploring the cadre of key African American writers who triumphed in spite of segregation The Indignant Generation paints a vivid portrait of American intellectual and artistic life in the mid twentieth century

Left of the Color Line Bill V. Mullen, James Smethurst, 2012-01-01 This collection of fifteen new essays explores the impact of the organized Left and Leftist theory on American literature and culture from the 1920s to the present In particular the contributors explore the participation of writers and intellectuals on the Left in the development of African American Chicano Chicana and Asian American literature and culture By placing the Left at the center of their examination the authors reposition the interpretive framework of American cultural studies Tracing the development of the Left over the course of the last century the essays connect the Old Left of the pre World War II era to the New Left and Third World nationalist Left of the 1960s and 1970s as well as to the multicultural Left that has emerged since the 1970s Individual essays explore the Left in relation to the work of such key figures as Ralph Ellison T S Eliot Chester Himes Harry Belafonte Amrico Paredes and Alice Childress The collection also reconsiders the role of the Left in such critical cultural and historical moments as the Harlem Renaissance the Cold War and the Black Arts Movement of the 1960s and 1970s The contributors are Anthony Dawahare Barbara Foley Marcial Gonzlez Fred Ho William J Maxwell Bill V Mullen Cary Nelson B V Olgun Rachel Rubin Eric Schocket James Smethurst Michelle Stephens Alan Wald and Mary Helen Washington

American

Culture in the 1950s Martin Halliwell, 2007-03-13 This book provides a stimulating account of the dominant cultural forms of 1950s America fiction and poetry theatre and performance film and television music and radio and the visual arts Through detailed commentary and focused case studies of influential texts and events from Invisible Man to West Side Story from Disneyland to the Seattle World's Fair from Rear Window to The Americans the book examines the way in which modernism and the cold war offer two frames of reference for understanding the trajectory of postwar culture The two core aims of this volume are to chart the changing complexion of American culture in the years following World War II and to provide readers with a critical investigation of the 1950s The book provides an intellectual context for approaching 1950s American culture and considers the historical impact of the decade on recent social and cultural developments Encyclopedia of African American Religions Larry G. Murphy, J. Gordon Melton, Gary L. Ward, 2013-11-20 Preceded by three introductory essays and a chronology of major events in black religious history from 1618 to 1991 this A-Z encyclopedia includes three types of entries Biographical sketches of 773 African American religious leaders 341 entries on African American denominations and religious organizations including white churches with significant black memberships and educational institutions Topical articles on important aspects of African American religious life e.g. African American Christians during the Colonial Era Music in the African American Church Making the Detective Story American J.K. Van Dover, 2010-04-19 This critical text examines the fiction of Earl Derr Biggers S.S. Van Dine and Dashiell Hammett during a crucial half decade when they transformed the detective story The characters they created including Charlie Chan Philo Vance and the Continental Op represented a new style of detective solving crimes in fresh ways Their successes would push crime and detective fiction in startling and rejuvenating directions Topics covered include the highbrow detective the ethnic detective the exploitation of contemporary sensations and the exploitation of women Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here
