Robot Vision International Workshop on Robot Vision, 2001

Robot Vision Gerald Sommer, Reinhard Klette, 2008-01-29 In 1986 B. K. P. Horn published a book entitled Robot Vision which actually discussed a wider field of subjects basically addressing the field of computer vision but introducing robot vision as a technical term. Since then the interaction between computer vision and research on mobile systems often called robots e.g. in an industrial context but also including vehicles such as cars, wheelchairs, tower cranes, and so forth, established a diverse area of research today known as robot vision. Robot vision or more general robotics is a fast growing discipline already taught as a dedicated teaching program at university level. The term robot vision addresses any autonomous behavior of a technical system supported by visual sensoric information. While robot vision focusses on the vision process, visual robotics is more directed toward control and automatization. In practice, however, both fields strongly interact. Robot Vision 2008 was the second international workshop counting a 2001 workshop with identical name as the first in this series. Both workshops were organized in close cooperation between researchers from New Zealand and Germany and took place at The University of Auckland New Zealand. Participants of the 2008 workshop came from Europe, USA, South America, the Middle East, the Far East, Australia, and of course from New Zealand.
