Everyone Can Write Peter Elbow, 2000-01-27 With Writing without Teachers OUP 1975 and Writing with Power OUP 1995 Peter Elbow revolutionized the teaching of writing His process method and its now commonplace free writing techniques liberated generations of students and teachers from the emphasis on formal principles of grammar that had dominated composition pedagogy This new collection of essays brings together the best of Elbow's writing since the publication of Embracing Contraries in 1987 The volume includes sections on voice the experience of writing teaching and evaluation Implicit throughout is Elbow's commitment to humanizing the profession and his continued emphasis on the importance of binary thinking and nonadversarial argument The result is a compendium of a master teacher's thought on the relation between good pedagogy and good writing it is sure to be of interest to all professional teachers of writing and will be a valuable book for use in composition courses at all levels The Open Hand Barry M. Kroll, 2013-11-15 Based on five years of classroom experimentation The Open Hand presents a highly practical yet transformational philosophy of teaching argumentative writing In his course Arguing as an Art of Peace Barry Kroll uses the open hand to represent an alternative approach to argument asking students to argue in a way that promotes harmony rather than divisiveness and avoiding conventional conflict based approaches Kroll cultivates a bodily investigation of noncombative argument offering direct pedagogical strategies anchored in three modalities of learning conceptual procedural kinesthetic and contemplative and projects activities assignments informal responses and final papers for students Kinesthetic exercises derived from martial arts and contemplative meditation and mindfulness practices are key to the approach with Kroll specifically using movement as a physical analogy for tactics of arguing Collaboration mediation and empathy are important yet overlooked values in communicative exchange This practical engaging and accessible guide for teachers contains clear examples and compelling discussions of pedagogical strategies that teach students not only how to write persuasively but also how to deal with personal conflict in their daily lives The Empathic Healer Michael J. Bennett, 2001-03-23 The author establishes a new foundation for the use and value of clinical empathy that is based on a distinction between treatment and healing and a model for using psychotherapy as a component of an organized system of care focused attuned to the patient's presenting motive and consistent with our understanding of the relationship between mind and brain Beyond Postprocess and Postmodernism Theresa Jarnagi Enos, Keith D. Miller, Jill McCracken, 2003-01-30 In this collection of original essays editors Theresa Enos and Keith D Miller join their contributors a veritable who's who in composition scholarship in seeking to illuminate and complicate many of the tensions present in the field of rhetoric and composition The contributions included here emphasize key issues in past and present work setting the stage for future thought and study The book also honors the late Jim Corder a major figure in the development of the rhetoric and composition discipline In the spirit of Corder's unfinished work the contributors to this volume absorb probe stretch redefine and interrogate classical modern and postmodern rhetorics and challenge their limitations Beyond Postprocess and Postmodernism: Essays on the Spaciousness of Rhetoric will be of interest to scholars teachers and students in rhetoric and composition English and communication studies Offering a provocative discussion of postprocess composition theories and pedagogies and postmodern rhetorics as well as the first thorough consideration of Jim Corder's contributions this work is certain to influence the course of future study and research Christian and Critical English Language Educators in Dialogue Mary Shepard Wong, Suresh Canagarajah, 2009-06-25 This volume critically examines how English language teaching professionals wrestle with ideological pedagogical and spiritual dilemmas as they seek to understand the place of faith in education Encyclopedia of Rhetoric and Composition Theresa Enos, 2013-10-08 First Published in 1996 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Theorizing Composition Mary Kennedy, 1998-06-25 The last 25 years have witnessed extraordinary growth in the academic specialization variously described as composition studies or rhetoric and composition. What was noticeable about the field in its infancy was a preoccupation with practice, a lack of emphasis on theory, and an exclusive reliance on the writing process. As its disciplinary status has grown, the field has become far more theoretical. Composition studies has expanded its focus, reconceptualized the writing process, and embraced a wide range of critical perspectives. The result of this change is that terms such as poststructuralism, social construction, gender, and genre, which were largely unknown in 1965, now dominate discussion. This reference book is a guide to the multiplicity of theories that have emerged to form the disciplinary foundation of composition studies. The volume consists of 66 entries, each of which is written by an expert contributor and focuses on a particular theory or group of theories. While the entries show how various individuals have contributed to theoretical movements, very few concentrate on the work of a single theorist. Each entry first provides a critical summary of a particular theory or group of theories, including key elements, basic concepts, and claims, and information about seminal or particularly influential works. It then reviews the theory's critical reception in composition studies and discusses its significance in the field. The bibliography at the end of each entry lists primary texts and major scholarship related to the theory and provides additional suggestions for further reading. The volume closes with a selected bibliography of important works.

Communication and Lonergan Thomas J. Farrell, Paul A. Soukup, 1993. Essays about communication and the thought of Canadian Jesuit philosopher and theologian Bernard Lonergan. The Centrality of Style Mike Duncan, Star Medzerian. Vanguri, 2013-04-07. In The Centrality of Style, editors Mike Duncan and Star Medzerian. Vanguri argue that style is a central concern of composition studies, even as they demonstrate that some of the most compelling work in the area has emerged from the margins of the field.

Genre in the Classroom Ann M. Johns, 2001-11-01. For the first time, the major theoretical and pedagogical approaches to genre and related issues of social construction are presented in a single volume, providing an overview of the state of the art for practitioners in applied linguistics, ESL, EFL, pedagogies, rhetoric, and composition studies around the world. Unlike volumes that present one theoretical stance, this book attempts to give equal time to all theoretical and pedagogical camps. Included are chapters by authors from the Sydney School, the New Rhetoric, and English for Specific Purposes, as well as contributions from other practitioners who pose questions that cross theoretical lines. Genre in the Classroom includes all of the major theoretical views of genre that influence pedagogical practice, takes an international approach, drawing from all parts of the world in which genre theory has been applied in the classroom: Australia, Canada, Hong Kong, the Middle East, the United States. It features contributors who are all both theorists and classroom practitioners, lending credibility and authenticity to the arguments, combines theory and practice in every chapter, showing how particular theoretical views influence classroom practice, grounds pedagogical practices in their own regional and theoretical histories, openly discusses problems and questions that genre theory raises, and presents some of the solutions suggested, and offers a concluding chapter that argues for two macro genres and with responses to this argument by noted genre theorists from three theoretical camps

Undoing Whiteness in the Classroom Virginia Lea, Erma Jean Sims, 2008 Counterpoints publishes the most compelling and imaginative books being written in education today Grounded on the theoretical advances in criticalism feminism and postmodernism in the last two decades of the twentieth century Counterpoints engages the meaning of these innovations in various forms of educational expression Committed to the proposition that theoretical literature should be accessible to a variety of audiences the series insists that its authors avoid esoteric and jargonistic languages that transform educational scholarship into an elite discourse for the initiated Distance Working Kari Kay Kruempel, 2004 Moments of Meeting

Kenneth N. Cissna, Rob Anderson, 2012-02-01 Moments of Meeting tells the story of a uniquely important event in twentieth century intellectual history the 1957 public dialogue of philosopher Martin Buber and psychotherapist Carl Rogers and explores the practical implications of that event for contemporary social and cultural theory Supported by original historical research close textual analysis and a variety of interviews the book illuminates the careers theories and practices of two of the last century's foremost scholars of dialogue while it clarifies what they shared in common Following a careful case study of the Buber Rogers public conversation about the dynamics of dialogue itself the authors conclude that public dialogue cannot be built primarily upon skillful technique Instead we must support settings and attitudes that enable unique moments of meeting Living Rhetoric and Composition Duane H. Roen, Stuart C. Brown, Theresa Jarnagi Enos, 1998-11-01 This collection of the stories of scholars who have found a lifelong commitment to the teaching of writing includes the professional histories of 19 rhetoricians and compositionists who explain how they came to fall in love with the written word and with teaching Their stories are filled with personal anecdotes some funny some touching some m Argument in Composition

John Ramage, Micheal Callaway, 2009-09-14 ARGUMENT IN COMPOSITION provides access to a wide range of resources that bear on the teaching of writing and argument The ideas of major theorists of classical and contemporary rhetoric and argument from Aristotle to Burke Toulmin and Perelman are explained and elaborated especially as they inform pedagogies of argumentation and composition Language and Image in the Reading-Writing Classroom Kristie S.

Fleckenstein, Linda T. Calendrillo, Demetrice A. Worley, 2002-02 Explores role of imagery in lang thought culture specifically the importance of imagery in meaning the connections between imagery lang Offers teachers specific research theory based strategies for integrating imagery into the teaching of Difficult Empathy and Rhetorical Encounters Eric

Leake, 2023-08-04 Difficult Empathy takes up the question of empathy as fundamentally a rhetorical concern focusing on the ways we encounter and understand one another in what we read and write hear and say The book centres around the argument that empathy as a rhetorical event occurs not simply in the minds of individuals but as a product of the rhetorical situations practices cultures and values in which we engage Rather than identifying empathy as a cure all or jettisoning the concept altogether the author acknowledges empathy's potential as well as its limitations by focusing on what makes empathy a hard and ultimately worthwhile practice This nuanced and original study will interest scholars working at the intersection of rhetoric and composition with empathy as well as those studying empathy in fields such as critical and cultural theory politics media analysis social psychology and the cognitive humanities Arguing Identity and Human Rights

Doug Cloud, 2023-09-29 Arguing Identity and Human Rights poses open questions about how to best argue for human rights to help us think through the advantages and trade offs of different rhetorical strategies identify rival options and ultimately choose our own paths Modeling a humane approach to human rights argument this book offers four deep rhetorical analyses of some of the most vexing and fascinating challenges facing human rights arguers in the United States How do we want to frame difference in human rights advocacy are we trying to downplay difference or something else How can we best answer dismissive responses to human rights arguments Should we portray people in marginalized categories as having no choice about their identity and what would alternatives look like What are the possibilities and perils of trying to afflict audiences with hegemonic identities to persuade them on human rights issues Offering clear practical and theoretical implications while resisting easy answers the book provides a concise introduction to the relationship between identity discourse and social change Designed for both theorists and practitioners for current and aspiring human rights arguers this insightful text will be of use to students of rhetoric argumentation persuasion and communication studies more generally as well as human rights social activism and social change political science sociology and race and gender studies
