Role of Plantation Crops in Agriculture Development Somu Giriappa, 2022 Plantation crops have been traditional export earners but their importance declined when industrial and engineering goods become major export products Interest in them was revived through new technology and marketing methods Plantation crop development is another way of containing the environmental deterioration caused by the modern agro systems Plantation and forestry could go hand in hand and could develop what is called a forestry plantation system Plantation development if it is in wasteland could propagate mixed crop species along with soil conservation and linkage with other sectors thus improving the role of plantation crops Thous coconut and arecanut are classified as palms an attempt is made in this study to include them and study some other plantation crops like cashewnut to the development of agricultural and the rural sector in the particular region The study is divided into two parts Part I comprising coconut arecanut and Part II Cashewnut

Soil Fertility

Decline in the Tropics Alfred E. Hartemink, 2003 Wide coverage of soils and perennial cropping systems in the tropics Synthesis of decades of research Challenges assumptions on the benefits of plantations for soil fertility It is generally assumed that soil fertility decline is widespread in the tropics and that this is largely associated with annual cropping and subsistence farming In contrast perennial plant cover as in plantation agriculture provides better protection for the soil This book reviews these concepts focusing on soil chemical changes under different land use systems in the tropics These include perennial crops annual crops and forest plantations Two case studies on sisal plantations in Tanzania and sugar cane in

Papua New Guinea are presented for detailed analysis The author demonstrates that soil fertility decline is also a problem on plantations

Arecanut Production and Marketing in India S. Giriappa,1994 One such crop is arecanut in the west coast and in the north east An attempt is made in this book to study the cultivation and marketing of arecanut in the producing and consuming centers This book will be of great value for those interested in the marketing of agricultural commodities especially with regard to arecanut

Agricultural Development in Asia and Africa Jonna P. Estudillo,Yoko Kijima,Tetsushi Sonobe,2022-12-01 This Open Access book explores the multifaceted nature of agricultural and rural development in Asia and examines the extent to which the Asian experience is being replicated in contemporary Africa This volume compiles the works of top scholars who provided analyses and evidences from household level surveys collected for many years in several parts of Asia and Africa The most important finding presented in this book is that African agricultural development has evolved following the pathways of Asian agricultural development The common pathways are borrowed technology from abroad and adaptive research in rice farming secured property rights on natural resources adoption of ICTs investments in human capital including training and launching of the high value agriculture In both continents agricultural development started in the crop sector which had a strong tendency to induce the dynamic development of other sectors in rural areas

CROPPING PATTERN AND AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT IN KARNATAKA STATE: A STUDY OF HYDERABAD KARNATAKA REGION Dr. Ramesh T Pote,2018-05 Agriculture being the largest sector forms the backbone of the Indian economy It has been a widely accepted view that the economic growth of less developed countries depend heavily upon improving the performance of the agricultural sector Speedy agricultural development helps the process of economic growth in backward areas in many respects

Developmental Change Allan A. Spitz,2014-07-15 Developmental change and the related problems of modernization have attracted the attention of scholars in many disciplines In this bibliography derived and expanded from an earlier compilation by Mr Spitz and Edward Weidner the author orders and annotates nearly 2 500 articles appearing between 1945 and 1969 in 234 journals from 25 countries Organized by subject and indexed by both author and journal the citations include studies of social problems economic factors political questions public administration and international cooperation and assistance Special emphasis has been given to new and little known sources In addition a selected bibliography of monographs and book length studies dealing with the modernization of underdeveloped countries and areas is included in the volume      Climate Change Adaptation Strategies in Agriculture and Allied Sectors GSLHV Prasad Rao,2011-03-01 Weather related disasters like occurrence of floods droughts heat wave and cold waves is not uncommon across the Country It is true world over Increase in sea surface temperature and sea level has potential impact on monsoon uncertainties water resources shift in coastal population and marine products Vulnerability to extreme weather events is higher than vulnerability to changing average climatic conditions The society linked sectors like agriculture biodiversity fisheries forestry water resources human and animal health and infrastructure are the worst sufferers in the event of weather uncertainties As a result it is realized that food security is under threat due to global warming The book deals with climate change impacts and adaptation strategies in agriculture horticulture plantation crops in the humid tropics livestock fisheries forestry water resources and biodiversity The invited and research papers included in the book provide clues for developing adaptation and mitigation strategies in coping up with the expected climate change in future Although global foodgrains production is likely to increase in tune with rising population and demand in ensuing decades it may suffer unless new approaches to adapt crop plants to climate change are adopted Therefore Research and education policy in climate change adaptation and mitigation is the need of the hour to address the climate issues in various sectors as the frequency of occurrence of floods and droughts cold and heat waves are likely to increase under projected climate change scenarios and a threat to food security      Developing Agricultural Trade M. Hubbard,2002-12-12 Food security is of vital importance to all nations but particularly so in developing countries Governments worldwide are seeking to liberalize agricultural trade and to change their role from one of controlling trade and prices Instead these governments seek new roles in encouraging market developments ensuring quality and providing food security by giving income assistance rather than controlling food supplies The issue of how this process is being managed in developing countries is the focus of this book A series of case studies including India Sri Lanka Ghana

Zimbabwe Kenya and Ivory Coast highlights the individuality of approaches and the varying capability and will of governments to take on these new roles
