Role Of Subject Knowledge In The Early Years:

The Role of Subject Knowledge in the Early Years of Schooling Carol Aubrey, 2022-11-21 Originally published in 1994 the aim of the authors was to provide a comprehensive introduction to recent advances in research which had been made in learning and teaching in the early years of schooling at the time Emphasis is placed on how subject knowledge is constructed or acquired and the organization of teaching to promote the learner's active construction of meaning through the integration of new knowledge with existing understanding The National Curriculum is founded in subject knowledge though little examination appears to have been made of this in terms of how subject matter is transformed into the content of teaching that young children can understand It this remains for the teacher to develop instruction through the creation of a curriculum content and sequence which both reflects and advances the structure of existing forms of representation problem solving and knowledge which the child brings to the school The whole thrust of the book challenges the conventional early years ideology with its emphasis on child centred concrete and empirical approaches to learning with a view of teaching which is concerned with making sense of children's understanding and allowing their active construction of knowledge and information processing to develop expertise in context

The Role of Subject Knowledge in the Early Years of Schooling Carol Aubrey, 1994 National Curriculum In The Early Years Dr Theo Cox, Theo Cox, 2014-05-01 The child centred principles of early years education which emphasize play and holistic learning are being challenged by the implementation of a subject based National Curriculum The contributors to this book explore this challenge and offer some ways of meeting it practically and productively Issues covered include pedagogical issues such as the cross curricular topic based teaching teacher's attitudes to subject knowledge assessment issues including baseline assessment at the age of five and parental attitudes to the National Curriculum and its content at Key Stage 1

Researching the Early Years Continuum Pat Broadhead, 1996 Makes a case for considering the years from birth to eight as a continuum of development and learning The text draws on research undertaken by nursery and primary teachers in conjunction with LEAs and by HE staff

Mathematics Teaching in the Early Years Carol Aubrey, 2013-04-03 Young children start school already able to do a surprising amount of mathematics This book examines the nature and origin of subject knowledge and is based on information gathered from observing the interactions between teachers and their first year pupils It demonstrates the necessity of the classroom teacher to draw on many kinds of knowledge in order to deal with various issues surrounding classroom learning and teaching Two important core areas are knowledge of lesson structure and of subject matter this book address the area of subject matter and as such it should be of interest to classroom teachers and lecturers in education

The Early Years Reflective Practice Handbook Avril Brock, 2014-07-17 What do early childhood practitioners need to know about reflection and reflective practice Ongoing reforms in early childhood care and education social policy affect all aspects of young children's and their families' lives Decisions are being undertaken at a rapid pace and there is a need for those working in the field of Early Years to consolidate and reflect on their knowledge and practice building on what they already know This timely new book aims to support reflective practice for those working with young children in everyday work and in the wider political context whatever their professional role and whatever level of qualification they hold It takes a fresh look at a breadth of issues relating to early childhood care and education reflecting on policy knowledge and practice Incorporating practical reflection activities case studies exemplar scenarios and questions in each chapter the book considers policy developments and how these have affected young children and their families issues around socio culturalism language ethnicity disposition gender inclusion and socio economics when working with families learning through play and the notions of quality observation and assessment and continuity contemporary issues that practitioners and students on placement may encounter in their everyday work deepening reflective thinking and practice through ongoing and continuing professional development With practical guidance to help the reader reflect on their own practice this text offers invaluable support to early years practitioners looking to develop their career and achieving higher qualification at both undergraduate and at Master s level The book is a must for students on early years courses including early childhood studies initial teacher training and early years teacher status

Children's Mathematics Elizabeth Carruthers, Maulfry Worthington, 2006-08-30 In Case Study 5 a grassroots Children s Mathematics Network group the initiative supported the participants in their professional change by giving them a space for the detailed and joint consideration of children s mathematical thinking Another significant feature of this initiative is its focus on careful consideration and analysis of children s mathematics and the ways in which professionals can support and encourage the children s mathematical thinking and reasoning The standard of the mathematical understanding thinking and reasoning that the displays revealed was far higher than the specified curriculum objectives for children of this age Researching Effective CPD in Mathematics Education RECME project NCETM 2009 The review also plays great score by play based learning of a mathematical nature and makes specific recommendations regarding early mark making as a precursor to abstract mathematical symbolism Section 115 features children s mathematical graphics and emphasises The role of mark making in children s cognitive development is set out in the taxonomy Carruthers and Worthington 2006 The report recommends that local authorities leaders managers and head teachers should provide a culture with a significant focus on mathematical mark making and a learning environment that encourages children to choose to use their own mathematical graphics to support their mathematical thinking and processes The Williams Maths Review DCSF 2008 At the very heart of the success of the book is the authors ability to see mathematics through young children s eyes by listening to and reflecting on the constant efforts made by children to make sense of their world This is a liberating book which proposes that the teaching of mathematics could and should be a highly creative and enjoyable process Branwen Llewelyn Jones Early Years Consultant at PACE Ltd TACTYC Ground breaking To single out any one chapter would be unfair because there is something thought provoking and inspirational throughout If you want to expand your understanding upwards and outwards then get a copy soon Times Educational Supplement I first read Children s Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning a couple of years ago and it had an immediate impact on my own thinking and teaching and the work I do with trainee teachers I m sure you will find it compelling reading too I think it has the potential to change in a fundamental way how we think about early mathematical development Lynne McClure Editor Math Coordinator s

File Mathematics Association In their exceptionally readable and informative book Children's Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning Carruthers and Worthington 2006 draw attention to one of the main goals of early years teaching that is to help children make links between the mathematics they have already encountered and continue to engage with at home and the more abstract mathematics of the school These authors suggest that by encouraging children to represent mathematical ideas in their own ways and crucially by talking to the pupils about the marks they have made we are given a window onto their thinking that may otherwise be inaccessible Liz Pumphrey NRICH This book draws on the authors many years of teaching children aged three to eight years and also on their extensive research with children in the home nursery and school The authors explain the development and range of young children's mathematical marks and visual representations showing how children make mental connections between their own early marks and subsequent abstract mathematical symbolism and go on to develop their own written methods Combining theory and practice this acclaimed book demonstrates how children's own mathematical graphics are highly creative and show deep levels of thinking The authors show how this is the key to success in school mathematics and to higher levels of achievement The authors are winners of TACTYC's 2003 Jenefer Joseph Award for the Creative Arts 3 8 awarded for their innovative work with children on mathematical graphics SAGE
