Macaluso,2019-10-18 This book views late Victorian femininity the New Woman and gender through literary representations of the figure of the monster an appendage to the New Woman The monster an aberrant occurrence performs Brecht's alienation effect making strange the world that she inhabits thereby drawing veiled conclusions about the New Woman and gender at the end of the fin de siècle The monster reveals that New Women loved one another complexly not just as friend or lover but both friend and lover The monster like the fin de siècle British populace mocked the New Woman's modernity She was paradoxically viewed as a threat to society and as a role model for women to follow The tragic suicides of monstrous New Women of color suggest that many fin de siècle authors especially female authors thought that these women should be included in society not banished to its limits This book the first on the relationship between the figure of the monster and the New Woman argues that there is hidden complexity to the New Woman Her sexuality was complicated and could move between categories of sexuality and friendship for late Victorian women and the way that the fin de siècle populace viewed her was just as multifarious Further the narratives of her tragedies ironically became narratives that advocated for her survival
