Politics and Elections in Nineteenth-Century Liverpool Neil Collins, 2017-07-05 This monograph provides a detailed account of one of England's most important cities at a crucial period in the development of popular democracy. It traces the sectarian conflicts, ethnic tensions and social adjustments of Liverpool as they affected and indeed still affect the city's politics. It addresses the historical anomaly of Liverpool's loyalty to the Conservative party, anomalous because the Liberals had a firm grip on power in every other great northern city of the period.

Politics and Elections in Nineteenth Century Liverpool Neil COLLINS, 1975 Trade and Traders in Mid-Victorian Liverpool Graeme J. Milne, 2000-01-01 This book charts the development of Liverpool's trade, shipping and business culture in the third quarter of the nineteenth century. It assesses the causes and consequences of major changes in the port's economy.

Breaking Into the Monopoly Yukihisa Kumagai, 2012-11-08 In Breaking into the Monopoly Yukihisa Kumagai examines how the commercial pressure groups of Glasgow, Liverpool and Manchester organised campaigns to end the British East India Company's monopoly from 1812, 1813 and 1829, 1833.

The Liberal Unionist Party Ian Cawood, 2012-08-14 The Liberal Unionist party was one of the shortest lived political parties in British history. It was formed in 1886 by a faction of the Liberal party led by Lord Hartington which opposed Irish home rule. In 1895 it entered into a coalition government with the Conservative party and in 1912, now under the leadership of Joseph Chamberlain, it amalgamated with the Conservatives. Ian Cawood here uses previously unpublished archival material to provide the first complete study of the Liberal Unionist party. He argues that the party was a genuinely successful political movement with widespread activist and popular support which resulted in the development of an authentic Liberal Unionist culture across Britain in the mid 1890s. The issues which this book explores are central to an understanding of the development of the twentieth century Conservative party, the emergence of a national political culture and the problems both organisational and ideological of a sustained period of coalition in the British parliamentary system.

Museum Architecture Suzanne MacLeod, 2013-04-12 Recent decades have witnessed an explosion of museum building around the world and the subsequent publication of multiple texts dedicated to the subject. Museum Architecture A new biography focuses on the stories we tell of museum buildings in order to explore the nature of museum architecture and the problems of architectural history when applied to the museum and gallery. Starting from a discussion of the key issues in contemporary museum design, the book explores the role of architectural history in the prioritisation of specific stories of museum building and museum architects and the exclusion of other actors from the history of museum making. These omissions have contemporary relevance and impact directly on the ways in which the physical structures of museums are shaped. Theoretically, the book places a particular emphasis on the work of Pierre Bourdieu and Henri Lefebvre in order to establish an understanding of buildings as social relations, the outcome of complex human interactions and relationships. The book utilises a micro history, an in depth case study of the National Gallery of the North, the Walker Art Gallery in Liverpool, to expose the myriad ways in which museum architecture is made Coupled with this detailed exploration is an emphasis on contemporary museum design which utilises the understanding of the social realities of museum making to explore ideas for a socially sustainable museum architecture fit for the twenty first century

Beauty Amy Woodson-Boulton, 2012-03-21 Why did British industrial cities build art museums By exploring the histories of the municipal art museums in Birmingham Liverpool and Manchester Transformative Beauty examines the underlying logic of the Victorian art museum movement These museums attempted to create a space free from the moral and physical ugliness of industrial capitalism Deeply engaged with the social criticism of John Ruskin reformers created a new prominent urban institution a domesticated public space that not only aimed to provide refuge from the corrosive effects of industrial society but also provided a remarkably unified secular alternative to traditional religion Woodson Boulton raises provocative questions about the meaning and use of art in relation to artistic practice urban development social justice education and class In today s context of global austerity and shrinking government support of public cultural institutions this book is a timely consideration of arts policy and purposes in modern society The Nineteenth Century, 1879 Networks of

Influence and Power Robert Lee, 2023-12-01 During the nineteenth century Liverpool became the heart of an international maritime network As the second city of Empire its merchants and shipowners operated within a transnational commercial and financial system while its trading connections stimulated the development of new markets and their integration within an increasingly global economy This ground breaking volume brings together ten original contributions that reflect upon the development of the city s business community from the early nineteenth century to the outbreak of the First World War with an emphasis on the period from 1851 to 1912 It offers the first detailed analysis of Liverpool s merchant community within a conceptual and historiographical framework which focuses on the economic social and cultural role of business elites in the nineteenth century It explores the extent to which business success was predicated on the maintenance of networks of trust analyses the importance of business culture in structuring commercial operations and discusses the role of ethics trust and reputation within the changing framework of the business environment Particular attention is paid to the role of women and the important contribution of the family to commercial success and the maintenance of social networks Changes in business practice and social networks are also examined within a spatial context in order to assess the impact of the development of a distinct commercial centre and the clustering of commercial activity on interaction reputation and trust while particular attention is paid to the effect of suburbanization on existing associational networks the social cohesiveness of business culture and the cultural identity of the merchant community as a whole The Nineteenth Century and After, 1920

Patronage and Piety Dermot Quinn, 1993 For English Catholics the years from 1850 to 1900 were stirring times Emerging from a long period of social obscurity they became confident that a Second Spring would bring them to a position of moral authority and influence in Victorian England Their leaders Manning and Newman were figures of the first rank Their numbers boosted by Irish immigration seemed to herald genuine political strength In this lively and well written study Dr Quinn examines that confidence and finds it misplaced He shows how Catholics frequently misread the political signs Attaching themselves sometimes to the Liberals sometimes to the Tories they tended to forget that both parties in their different ways found it easier to cultivate anti Catholicism At certain times when the Catholic hierarchy was restored when the Syllabus of Errors was promulgated when Gladstone denounced Vaticanism this anti Catholicism was virulent In calmer days Catholics were usually regarded with sullen suspicion Seeking to examine Catholic political strength Dr Quinn investigates the careers of leading Catholics such as the Marquis of Ripon and the Duke of Norfolk He also traces the attitudes of the party leaders Gladstone and Disraeli especially to their Catholic followers He shows how for some lesser Catholics denomination was regarded as a reason for personal preferment Finally he demonstrates how at constituency level Catholicism was never the electoral force that many claimed it to be      A History of Modern Britain Ellis
