Politics, Bureaucracy, and Rural Development in Senegal Edward J. Schumacher, 1975 The Politics of African and Middle Eastern States Anne Gordon Drabek, Wilfrid Knapp, 2013-10-22 The Politics of African and Middle Eastern States An Annotated Bibliography is a record of books written about the politics history and the lives of the leaders of Africa and the Middle East The book is divided per chapter according to the geographical area being discussed Each chapter contains a list of books that fall under the following categories Political History Political Systems and Government Biographies Memoirs Speeches and Writings and External Relations Chapters I to VII cover different regions of Africa while Chapters VIII to XI cover the Middle East The text is a recommended for historians and political scientists especially those interested in the areas mentioned in the book The selection also serves a guide to those who plan to have further readings or make a paper about the political history government and development of the areas mentioned Anthropology And Rural Development In West Africa Michael M Horowitz, Thomas M Painter, 2019-03-11 Anthropology and Rural Development in West Africa documents the experiences of anthropologists with development in West Africa during the past ten years It presents case study material to bring out the actual and potential contributions of social science to solving development problems found in Africa and in other parts of the Third World The book is not a manual that seeks to present solutions rather it describes some of the kinds of development situations in which anthropologists participated and examines the kind of tensions under which they operated The Political Economy of Risk and Choice in Senegal John Waterbury, 2005-08-12 First Published in 1987 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Boundaries, Communities and State-Making in West Africa Paul Nugent, 2019-06-06 By examining three centuries of history this book shows how vital border regions have been in shaping states and social contracts Political Reform In Francophone Africa John F Clark, 2018-02-07 Most African states experienced only a few fleeting years of democratic rule after independence before succumbing to authoritarianism During the 1970s and 1980s Africans and Westerners alike came to view dictatorship to be as much a part of the region s social landscape as its grinding poverty Yet the end of the Cold War and the sharpening of the economic crisis at the end of the 1980s have breathed new life into campaigns for democracy in Africa shaking the foundations of many long standing autocracies In some cases dramatic transitions took place though the fate of the new democracies is far from certain This volume explores the origins and evolution of political reform movements in several states of francophone Africa The authors first make the case for the distinctiveness of francophone Africa based on the influences of colonial history language and France s contemporary role in Africa then survey the challenges of reform including the problems of transition from authoritarianism and consolidation of democratic regimes Case studies of thirteen former French and Belgian colonies follow organized by level of reform achieved peaceful regime change incremental reforms repressed reform efforts and reform in the midst of war Political Topographies of the African State Catherine Boone, 2003-10-27 This study brings Africa into the mainstream of studies of state formation in agrarian societies Territorial integration is the challenge institutional linkages and political deals that bind center and periphery are the solutions In African countries rulers at the center are forced to bargain with regional elites to establish stable mechanisms of rule and taxation Variation in regional forms of social organization make for differences in the interests and political strength of regional leaders who seek to maintain or enhance their power vis a vis their followers and subjects and also vis a vis the center

Beyond Ethnic Politics in Africa Dominika Koter,2016-10-13 Why do ethnic politics emerge in some ethnically diverse societies but not others Focusing on sub Saharan Africa Dominika Koter argues that the prevailing social structures of a country play a central role in how politicians attempt to mobilize voters In particular politicians consider the strength of local leaders such as chiefs or religious dignitaries who have historically played a crucial role in many parts of rural Africa Local leaders can change the electoral dynamics by helping politicians secure votes among people of different ethnicities Ethnic politics thus can be avoided where there are local leaders who can serve as credible electoral intermediaries between voters and politicians Koter shows that there is widespread variation in the standing of local leaders across Africa as a result of long term historical trends which has meant that politicians have mobilized voters in qualitatively different ways resulting in different levels of ethnic politics across the continent

Democratization, Development, and the Patrimonial State in the Age of Globalization Eric N. Budd,2004-01-01 Postcolonial Third World states have historically faced two major challenges the promotion of economic development and the creation of stable democracies These challenges persist today in the face of globalization While some developing former colonial countries have gotten a foothold up on globalization others are not so fortunate In Democratization Development and the Patrimonial State in the Age of Globalization author Eric Budd investigates and compares forms of patrimonialism in several developing states The traditional criticism of development countries leveled by liberal democracies and their constituents is that too much patrimonialism acts as a barrier in the face of economic development and democratization The author considers this criticism through a comparative study of the Philippines Peru Taiwan Chile Ecuador and Indonesia Each case holds a specific relationship to patrimonialism As a result these cases provide the author with a unique window into the question of patrimonialism and its effect on economic development and the development of democratic societies Democratization Development and the Patrimonial State in the Age of Globalization offers a significant contribution to disciplinary discussions in international relations economics sociology development studies and globalization studies

D. Fage,Roland Anthony Oliver,Michael Crowder,1975 The eighth and final volume of The Cambridge History of Africa covers the period 1940 75 It begins with a discussion of the role of the Second World War in the political decolonisation of Africa Its terminal date of 1975 coincides with the retreat of Portugal the last European colonial power in Africa from its possessions and their accession to independence The fifteen chapters which make up this volume examine on both a continental and regional scale the extent to which formal transfer of political power by the European colonial rulers also involved economic social and cultural decolonisation A major theme of the volume is the way the African successors to the colonial rulers dealt with their inheritance and how far they benefited particular economic groups and disadvantaged others The contributors to this volume represent different disciplinary traditions and do not share a single theoretical perspective on the recent history of the continent a subject that is still the occasion for passionate debate Africa in the World Frederick Cooper,2014-03-24 Of the many pathways out of empire why did African leaders follow the one that led to the nation state whose dangers were recognized by Africans in the 1940s and 50s Frederick Cooper revisits a long history in which Africans were empire builders the objects of colonization and participants in events that gave rise to global capitalism
