Politics Of Hunger:

The Politics of Hunger John W. Warnock, 2019-07-19 Originally published in 1987 This important and provocative book explains the persistence of hunger poverty and the lack of balanced development in many countries and the central role of agriculture in economic development Most theories of agricultural development are based on the experiences of western Europe and the United States while the two models for successful late development have been Japan and the Soviet Union This book surveys the evolution of agriculture under colonialism in Latin America Africa and Asia and concludes that this long period distorted the development prospects for these areas and retarded the production of food Under strong state capitalist governments a few underdeveloped countries have broken the colonial patterns of development However other post revolutionary societies are having far less success because of economic blockades and outside military intervention While the primary focus of the book is on the short run problems of inequality the author examines the long run ecological and resource constraints to a sustainable food system and raising the standard of living in the underdeveloped world The Politics of Hunger Charles Paul Vincent, 1985 In his study of the Allied blockade of 1915-1919 Vincent examines the rationale and impact of this first large scale use of food as a weapon in the twentieth century Vincent demonstrates that the collapse of the German war effort was induced as much by prolonged hunger as by military reversal Under blockade since 1915 the starving Germans were by 1918 in a state of growing anarchy Remarkably however the armistice ending hostilities specifically required the continuation of the blockade until such time as German signatures had been affixed to a peace treaty

Exodus from Hunger David Beckmann, 2010-01-01 The world has made progress against hunger and poverty and we have the opportunity now to win changes that will reduce hunger and poverty in the United States and around the world God is calling people of faith and conscience to change the politics of hunger David Beckmann and Bread for the World have done an extraordinary job not only in providing positive responses in the fight against hunger but in helping to lead the way in terms of development and urging the United States to improve coordination and better target our investments and to learn from local communities Hillary Clinton Secretary of State It has been my privilege to work with Bread for the World and witness their remarkable work on behalf of hungry people Senator Richard Lugar Ranking Republican Senate Foreign Relations Committee I am delighted to endorse David Beckmann's new book I have the highest regard for him and his work Cardinal Theodore McCarrick Catholic Archbishop Emeritus of Washington This is a message for which the church and the world are hungry Mark Hanson Presiding Bishop Evangelical Lutheran Church in America When people of hope engage politically effective change can and does happen To learn how read this book and act Katherine Jefferts Schori Presiding Bishop Episcopal Church David points to the potential for far greater progress if individual Christians and churches will continue to offer grassroots compassionate care to those in need while also boldly challenging our government to more generously and wisely participate with us in the battle against poverty and hunger Lynne Hybels Cofounder Willow Creek Community Church Exodus from Hunger tells us how God is moving in history with a concern for the poor and invites us to join that movement Jim Wallis President Sojourners Beckmann tells the truth in ways that empower Walter Brueggemann Professor Emeritus Columbia Theological Seminary The Politics of Hunger John A. Hamilton, 1969 The Politics of Hunger K. Prabhakar Nair, 2008 The Politics of Hunger Carl J. Griffin, 2022-10-18 Systematically explores what it is conceived as hunger politics the articulations of hunger as a tool of protest by poor consumers its framing as a problem in the making of public policy and its elite political languages and the attendant effects The Politics and Aesthetics of Hunger and Disgust Michel Delville, Andrew Norris, 2017-03-27 This study examines how hunger narratives and performances contribute to a reconsideration of neglected or prohibited domains of thinking which only a full confrontation with the body's heterogeneity and plasticity can reveal From literary motif or psychosomatic symptom to revolutionary gesture or existential malady the double crux of hunger and disgust is a powerful force which can define the experience of embodiment Kafka's fable of the Hunger Artist offers a matrix for the fast while its surprising last page revelation introduces disgust as a correlative of abstinence conscious or otherwise Grounded in Kristeva's theory of abjection the figure of the fraught body lurking at the heart of the negative grotesque gathers precision throughout this study where it is employed in a widening series of contexts suicide through overeating starvation as self performance or political resistance the teratological versus the totalitarian the anorexic harboring of death In the process writers and artists as diverse as Herman Melville Percy Bysshe Shelley Christina Rossetti George Orwell Knut Hamsun J M Coetzee Cindy Sherman Pieter Breughel Marina Abramovic David Nebreda Paul McCarthy and others are brought into the discussion By looking at the different acts of visceral affective and ideological resistance performed by the starving body this book intensifies the relationship between hunger and disgust studies while offering insight into the modalities of the dark grotesque which inform the aesthetics and politics of hunger It will be of value to anyone interested in the culture politics and subjectivity of embodiment and scholars working within the fields of disgust studies food studies literary studies cultural theory and media studies The Growth of Hunger René Dumont, Nicholas Cohen, 1980 Monograph on the origins of hunger malnutrition and starvation in developing countries examines causes of food shortages such as colonialism unequal Terms of Trade population growth illustrated by several case studies discusses natural resources power consumption green revolution food aid etc And outlines more appropriate agricultural policies involving social participation of the rural population References Politics and Suicide Nicholas Michelsen, 2015-10-08 Politics and Suicide argues that whilst the historical lineage of suicidal politics is recognised the fundamental significance of autodestruction to the political remains under examined It contends that practices like suicide bombing do not simply embody a strange or abnormal suicidal articulation of the political but rather that the existence of suicidal politics tells us something fundamental about the political as such and thinking about political violence more broadly Recent world events have emphatically shown our need for tools with which to develop better understandings of the politics of suicide Through the exploration of several arresting case studies including the Kamikaze bombers of World War Two Jan Palach s self immolation in 1969 Cold War nuclear deterrence and the suicide terrorist attacks of 9 11 Michelsen asks how we might talk of a political suicide in any of these contexts The book charts how political processes go suicidal and asks how we might still consider them to be political in such a case It investigates how suicide can function as politics A strong contribution to the fields of philosophy and international relations theory this work will also be of interest to students and scholars of political theory and terrorism political violence Hunger in the Balance Jennifer Clapp,2015

Relational Poverty Politics Victoria A. Lawson,Sarah Elwood,2018 This collection examines the power and transformative potential of movements that fight against poverty and inequality Broadly poverty politics are struggles to define who is poor what it means to be poor what actions might be taken and who should act These movements shape the sociocultural and political economic structures that constitute poverty and privilege as material and social relations Editors Victoria Lawson and Sarah Elwood focus on the politics of insurgent movements against poverty and inequality in seven countries Argentina India Brazil South Africa Thailand Singapore and the United States The contributors explore theory and practice in alliance politics resistance movements the militarized repression of justice movements global counterpublics and political theater These movements reflect the diversity of poverty politics and the relations between bureaucracies and antipoverty movements They discuss work done by mass and other types of mobilizations across multiple scales forms of creative and political alliance across axes of difference expressions and exercises of agency by people named as poor and the kinds of rights and other claims that are made in different spaces and places Relational Poverty Politics advocates for poverty knowledge grounded in relational perspectives that highlight the adversarial relationship of poverty to privilege as well as the possibility for alliances across different groups It incorporates current research in the field and demonstrates how relational poverty knowledge is best seen as a model for understanding how theory is derivative of action as much as the other way around The book lays a foundation for realistic change that can directly attack poverty at its roots Contributors Anton dia Borges Dia Da Costa Sarah Elwood David Boarder Giles Jim Glassman Victoria Lawson Felipe Magalh es Jeff Maskovsky Richa Nagar Genevieve Negr n Gonzales LaShawnDa Pittman Frances Fox Piven Preeti Sampat Thomas Swerts and Junjia Ye Hunger John R. Butterly,Jack Shepherd,2010-12-14 A timely and provocative look at the role political developments and the biology of nutrition play in world famine The Politics of Destination in the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals Clive Gabay,Suzan Ilcan,2018-08-13 This book represents an unusual intervention in debates about the nature of contemporary international development where the majority of scholarship tends to concern itself with measuring or collating goal performance Through a series of analyses of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals this book explores development as a political construct and is concerned with the kinds of epistemological hegemonic or politico economic assumptions built into contemporary development policy and the ensuing effectiveness the SDGs will have in terms of addressing or perpetuating the historical impoverishment of large groups of people living in poverty The contributors to the book take issue with many of the assumptions upon which SDGs rest while also broadening the conversation to pay attention to knowledge production modernity colonialism exclusion citizenship and other conceptual insights In this context the book raises questions about the discourses and practices of the SDGs especially in relation to how they can define the limits of what can be said and what can be done shape development logics through notions of division and forms of exclusion construct political problems as technical problems create certain spaces of imagination as a field of activity and endorse particular ideas and forms of knowledge in models for sustainable development This book was originally published as a special issue of Globalizations

Levinas's Politics Annabel Herzog, 2020-03-13 A compelling account of politics and social philosophy in Levinas's Talmudic commentaries Emmanuel Levinas 1906 1995 was a French philosopher known for his radical ethics and for his contribution to Jewish thought in his commentaries on Talmudic sources In Levinas's Politics Annabel Herzog confronts a major difficulty in Levinas's philosophy the relationship between ethics and politics Levinas's ethics describes the encounter with the other that is with any other human being For Levinas the face to face encounter is a relationship in which the ego is commanded by a transcendent and unquestionable order to take responsibility for the other person Politics on the other hand presupposes at least three people the ego the other and any third party Among three people nothing can be transcendent on the contrary everything must be negotiated Against the conventional view of Levinas's conception of the political as the interruption and collapse of the ethical Herzog argues that in the Talmudic readings Levinas constructed politics positively She shows that Levinas's Talmudic readings embody a pragmatism that complements revises and challenges the extreme ethical analyses he offers in his phenomenological works Totality and Infinity Otherwise than Being and Of God Who Comes to Mind Her analysis illuminates Levinas's explanations of the relationship between ethics and politics ethics is the foundation of justice justice contains a necessary violence that must be moderated by mercy and justice general laws and national aspirations must be linked in an attempt to improve universality itself

The Politics of Famine in European History and Memory Ingrid de Zwarte, Miguel Ángel del Arco Blanco, 2025-05-15 This is the first book to bring together groundbreaking scholarship focusing on the various ways in which famines result from political decision making and how the threat occurrence relief or memory of famine is instrumentalized as a political and military tool Contributions to this volume reveal the complexities variations and motivations behind the instrumentalization of famine by political actors and regimes and how the politics of perpetrating hunger and the politics of relieving it have often been intertwined They also address how famine legacies have been subsequently politicized in public debates educational practices and popular media and how these socially and politically constructed memories and myths in turn have shaped broader narratives about hunger and humanitarianism both in history and today The Politics of Famine in European History and Memory provides a crucial resource for scholars and students from all disciplines interested in the study of famines as well as those interested in the history of war and troubled pasts more generally

The Politics of Size Ragen Chastain, 2014-11-25 This book presents an unprecedented opportunity for people to hear from a simultaneously ostracized ridiculed and ignored group fat Americans Find out how the members of this very diverse group of people describe their actual lived experiences quality of life hopes and dreams and demands Our society is body size obsessed The result An environment where fat people are consistently shunned and discussed disparagingly behind their backs Although fat people typically bear the brunt of the institutionalized oppression around being oversized pervasive closeminded attitudes about body size in America affect everyone of all sizes from people who are shamed for being too thin to those whose lives revolve around the fear of becoming fat This book talks about a topic that is important to all readers regardless of their physical size providing an anthology of first person accounts of what it s like to be part of the fat acceptance movement and on the front lines of activism in the war on obesity The Politics of Size Perspectives from the Fat Acceptance Movement supplies a frank discussion of the issues surrounding being fat and the associated health concerns both physical and mental and reframes the discussion about obesity from a medical issue to a social one The essays serve to correct misinformation about obesity and fat people that is commonly accepted by the general public such as the idea that fat and healthy are mutually exclusive Subject matter covered includes fat friendly workplace policies fat dating experiences and the intersections of being fat and also a person of color a person with disabilities a transgender person or a member of another sub group of society
