Sport and Politics in Canada Donald Macintosh,C. E. S. Franks,1988 Active Canadian government in sport is recent Even after the passage of the Fitness and Amateur Sport Act in 1961 government activity was limited to small grants to national sport governing bodies and cost sharing agreements with the provinces aimed at increasing participation in sport By the end of the 1960s sport had come to be seen as an instrument which could be used to promote national unity Government involvement increased and by the 1980s the federal government was pouring increasing funds into the support of elite athletes and the construction of sports facilities Sport Politics Jonathan Grix,2017-08-24 This innovative new text examines sport s relationship with politics and argues that sport has always been political even as far back as antiquity However in the last 30 years there has been an unprecedented politicization of sport through increasing government intervention Jonathan Grix takes a comprehensive and engaging look at sport politics by examining state involvement in initiatives from sports mega events through to grass roots and community sport activities Providing an accessible introduction to this growing area of study the text examines a number of approaches to the topic including theories from Political Science Sociology and International Relations and adopts a critical framework throughout In doing so the text discusses the relationship between social capital and sport how governments use sport for non sporting objectives and the role of governance in sport policy Real world examples demonstrate just how entwined sport and politics are from ardent soccer fans effectively locked in by ever increasing ticket prices to taxpayer s money funding ever more extravagant international sports mega events to the moral and political implications of doping

Current Issues in Contemporary Sport Development Kay Biscomb, Gerald Griggs, Richard Medcalf, 2016-02-08 This collection of essays is the result of the debate and discussion at the European Sport Development Network s ESDN annual conference in 2014 ESDN s vision is to help create an environment where sports policies programmes and practices are positively influenced by innovative research informed insight and collaborations between academics and practitioners The chapters in this book closely reflect the remit and purpose of the ESDN in that they come from a variety of academics and sport practitioners Under a broad theme of Opportunity through sport the chapters reflect the nature and breadth of outcomes which are possible through active participation in sport The contributions to this book touch upon many of these issues They are all written from the perspective of either academic researchers or applied practitioners working in sport development in line with the aims of ESDN of providing a common forum to bring together research and practice Four chapters are written from the applied practitioner perspective five chapters emerge from academic research and one chapter is a hybrid of PhD research located within a county sports partnership These contributions will be useful for scholars students and practitioners alike
