Politics Writing Mutilation:

Politics, Writing, Mutilation Allan Stoekl, 1985-01-01      Writing Against Death Susan Bainbrigge, 2005 Aims to re-evaluate Simone de Beauvoir's extensive autobiographical oeuvre exploring its place in relation to the French autobiographical canon This study presents readings which engage critically with existentialism feminist theory and autobiography studies generally in particular focusing on the question of autothanatology      The Dismembered Community Milo Sweedler, 2009 This book examines the intersecting communitarian endeavors of Georges Bataille Maurice Blanchot Michel Leiris and Colette Peignot known posthumously as Laure Through detailed analysis of a series of interlocking texts that the four authors wrote on for and to one another on such topics as love friendship and fraternity it explores these authors' theoretical elaborations of community their actual communities and the relation between the two

Bataille Fred Botting, Scott Wilson, 2001-04-04 One of the most profound thinkers of the twentieth century Georges Bataille has only recently come to prominence in the Anglophone academy partly through the influence of post-structuralism Once seen as no more than a philosopher of eroticism and a writer of avant-garde pornography Bataille is emerging as an absolutely central figure to discussions of culture economy subjectivity and difference Bataille is the first volume of its kind to offer lucid diverse and relevant examples of the ways of reading literary and cultural texts in the light of Bataille's work The essays explore the significance of Bataillean notions like heterology general economy transgression and eroticism through detailed readings of Shakespearean Elizabethan and Jacobean literature in analyses of Gothic and postmodern fiction and in critiques of popular culture rock music and Hollywood movies In order to make Bataillean notions more comprehensible to contemporary readers his concepts are situated in relation to the ideas of renowned critical and cultural theorists like Baudrillard Deleuze Derrida Kristeva Lacan as well as Hegel Freud Nietzsche and Marx Here the influence of Bataille is outlined in intellectual and historical terms and the significance of his work can be seen for both contemporary and future modes of cultural analysis

Songs of Experience Martin Jay, 2005-01-10 Few words in both everyday parlance and theoretical discourse have been as rhapsodically defended or as fervently resisted as experience Yet to date there have been no comprehensive studies of how the concept of experience has evolved over time and why so many thinkers in so many different traditions have been compelled to understand it Songs of Experience is a remarkable history of Western ideas about the nature of human experience written by one of our best known intellectual historians With its sweeping historical reach and lucid comparative analysis qualities that have made Martin Jay's previous books so distinctive and so successful Songs of Experience explores Western discourse from the sixteenth century to the present asking why the concept of experience has been such a magnet for controversy Resisting any single overarching narrative Jay discovers themes and patterns that transcend individuals and particular schools of thought and illuminate the entire spectrum of intellectual history As he explores the manifold contexts for understanding experience epistemological religious aesthetic political and historical Jay engages an exceptionally broad range of European and American traditions and thinkers from the American pragmatists and British Marxist humanists to the Frankfurt School and the French poststructuralists and he delves into the thought of individual philosophers as well including Montaigne Bacon Locke Hume and Kant Oakeshott Collingwood and Ankersmit Provocative engaging erudite this key work will be an essential source for anyone who joins the ongoing debate about the material linguistic cultural and theoretical meaning of experience in modern cultures Maurice Blanchot Gerald L. Bruns, 2005-04-13 Ch 9 pp 207 234 Blanchot's holocaust discusses the French thinker's philosophy of the Holocaust

Philosophy and Desire Hugh J. Silverman, 2014-04-23 Philosophy and Desire the seventh book in the well known Continental Philosophy series examines questions of desire desire for another person desire for happiness desire for knowledge desire for a better world desire for the impossible desire in text desire in language and desire for desire itself The theme of desire is explored through readings of contemporary figures such as Merleau Ponty Bataille Sartre de Beauvoir Levinas Irigaray Barthes Derrida and Derrida A hot timely topic in philosophy today Expands the contemporary debates

Blood Cinema Marsha Kinder, 1993-12-06 This is the most complete in depth sophisticated study of Spanish cinema available in any language Marvin D Lugo author of The Films of Carlos Saura Male Matters Calvin Thomas, 1996 According to Calvin Thomas maybe he shouldn't Maybe he should embrace his abjection his cast off humiliated and discounted status as a way of renegotiating his identity and of interrupting the historical displacement of that status onto the feminine or the marginalized other This embrace of abjection says Thomas begins as a confrontation with the issue of the male body The straight man unfamiliar and unfriendly and uncomfortable with his body the excretory urinary and seminal aspects of his body in particular will find that Thomas's Male Matters explores the complicated relationships between masculinity and the male body revealing the act and production of writing as a bodily material process that transgresses the boundaries of gender Statecraft and the Political Economy of Capitalism Scott G. Nelson, Joel T. Shelton, 2023-01-01

Rising inequality the advance of far right populism ecological and climatic catastrophe and the scourge of global pandemic disease these are among the defining crises of our time Addressing the governing challenges posed by each requires a more expansive vision of the scope and possibilities of state action than political scientists and economists have furnished to date In Statecraft and the Political Economy of Capitalism political economists Scott G Nelson and Joel T Shelton examine several key social and political dynamics of advanced capitalism for insights into the fate of equality community and solidarity In chapters addressing divergent problems and spanning several centuries statecraft is presented as a conceptual lens through which the art and practice of public action is continually rearticulated in response to the shifting economic social and political conditions of a given epoch The authors examine several consequential moments in the long tradition of political economy in relation to the governing predicaments of the present day highlighting those predicaments that bear upon the well being of all people especially society's most vulnerable The book thus reintroduces the creative and purposive aspects of governing to the study and practice of Political Economy a field that has been too preoccupied with technical institutional and procedural aspects of economic management Framing problems of governing national and global economies in relation to the craft of the state means searching out continuities between capitalism's early promise and present peril Negative Ecstasies Jeremy Biles, Kent L. Brintnall, 2015-08-03 Despite Georges Bataille's acknowledged influence on major poststructuralist thinkers including Foucault, Derrida, Kristeva, Lacan, Baudrillard, and Barthes and his prominence in literary, cultural, and social theory, rarely has he been taken up by scholars of religion even as issues of the sacred were central to his thinking Bringing together established scholars and emerging voices Negative Ecstasies engages Bataille from the perspective of religious studies and theology, forging links with feminist and queer theory, economics, secularism, psychoanalysis, fat studies, and ethics As these essays demonstrate, Bataille's work bears significance to contemporary questions in the academy and vital issues in the world We continue to ignore him at our peril Visions of Excess Georges Bataille, 1985 Intrigues Gabriel Riera, 2006 This book examines the possibility of writing the other and explores whether an ethical writing that preserves the other as such is possible It also discusses what the implications are for an ethically inflected criticism Emmanuel Levinas and Maurice Blanchot whose works constitute the most thorough contemporary exploration of the question of the other and of its relation to writing are Riera's main focus Critics in recent years have discussed an ethical moment or turn characterized by the other's irruption into the order of discourse The other becomes a true crossroads of disciplines since it affects several aspects of discourse: the constitution of the subject, the status of knowledge, the nature of representation, and what that representation represses: gender, power Through close readings of texts by Heidegger, Levinas, and Blanchot, this book examines how the question of the other engages the very limits of philosophy, rationality, and power The Self and Its Pleasures Carolyn J. Dean, 2016-11-01 Why did France spawn the radical poststructuralist rejection of the humanist concept of man as a rational knowing subject In this innovative cultural history, Carolyn J. Dean sheds light on the origins of poststructuralist thought, paying particular attention to the reinterpretation of the self by Jacques Lacan, Georges Bataille, and other French thinkers Arguing that the widely shared belief that the boundaries between self and other had disappeared during the Great War helps explain the genesis of the new concept of the self, Dean examines an array of evidence from medical texts and literary works alike The Self and Its Pleasures offers a pathbreaking understanding of the boundaries between theory and history The Cambridge Companion to Foucault Gary Gutting, 2005-07-18 For Michel Foucault, philosophy was a way of questioning the allegedly necessary truths that underpin the practices and institutions of modern society He carried this out in a series of deeply original and strikingly controversial studies on the origins of modern medical and social scientific disciplines These studies have raised fundamental questions about the nature of human knowledge and its relation to power structures and have become major topics of discussion throughout the humanities and social sciences The essays in this volume provide a comprehensive overview of Foucault's major themes and texts from his early work on madness through his history of sexuality. Special attention is also paid to thinkers and movements from Kant through current feminist theory that are particularly important for understanding his work and its impact. This revised edition contains five new essays and revisions of many others and the extensive bibliography has been updated.

The Reading of Theoretical Texts Peter Ekegren, 2002-01-04 Since the structuralist debates of the 1970s the field of textual analysis has largely remained the preserve of literary theorists. Social scientists while accepting that observation is theory laden have tended to take the meaning of texts as given and to explain differences of interpretation either in terms of ignorance or bias. In this important contribution to methodological debate Peter Ekegren uses developments within literary criticism, philosophy and critical theory to reclaim this study for the social sciences and to illuminate the ways in which different readings of a single text are created and defended.

Dali and Postmodernism Marc J. LaFountain, 2016-02-24 By taking Dali's paranoiac critical method to the delirious extents Dali himself recommended LaFountain demonstrates that Dali's Surrealism anticipates tactics practiced by postmodern and poststructural critics. In particular LaFountain advances the notion that phantom meaning displaced Surrealism's phantom object thereby creating a crisis of the subject and the object far in excess of that sought by Surrealist revolutionaries. Focusing on Dali's magnificent painting Endless Enigma LaFountain inaugurates New Dali Studies by offering an original interpretation of Dali's close yet strained relationship with Andr  Breton and the Surrealist canon.

Politics and Literature Deborah M. Hess, 1999 The role of politics in literary creation and interpretation is discussed for the French intellectual tradition and the critical period in France from 1931 to 1948. Maurice Blanchot's early fiction is analyzed as a symbolic expression of its sociopolitical context. He portrays the plight of the Jewish people and of the French nation in his fiction published between 1936 and 1949. A recent storm of critical reaction raises questions about the rights and limits of the literary critic and about moral and personal aspects of the author-text and reading process. Politics and Literature offers a model for critical interpretation that takes into account complexity, process and the sociopolitical context of the literary text.

Literature, Ethics, and Decolonization in Postwar France Daniel Just, 2015-02-09 A wide-ranging account of French literature of the 1950s and 1960s showing how politically engaged leading writers were.

Michel Foucault and Power Today David A. Gabbard, Alain Beaulieu, 2005-12-22 Foucault's thought finds innumerable applications across the social sciences from studies in the social aspects of the medical practices and criminal sociology to juridical and economic sciences. Owing to their philosophical ramifications his ideas have also impacted the spheres of literary studies, ethics, political thought and critical ontology. Few thinkers have left such an influence across such a diverse range of studies. Contributors attempt to pay homage to that diversity by presenting a multidisciplinary series of analyses dedicated to the question of power today. Drawn from a number of papers presented at an international conference entitled Michel Foucault and Social Control conducted at Maison de la culture C te des Neiges in Montreal on May 8-10 2004 to commemorate the twentieth anniversary of Foucault's death the essays that comprise this volume address the issue at both a theoretical level and as it pertains to specific fields of practice. In addition to paying tribute to Foucault's achievements and situating his thought within the French and larger European context from which it emerged, these essays also re-evaluate the relevance of Foucault's ideas for understanding contemporary conditions. This book is suited for a broad academic audience in the humanities and Social Sciences, especially philosophy, sociology, and cultural studies.
