Remaking Pacific Pasts Diana Looser, 2014-10-31 Since the late 1960s drama by Pacific Island playwrights has flourished throughout Oceania Although many Pacific Island cultures have a broad range of highly developed indigenous performance forms including oral narrative clowning ritual dance and song scripted drama is a relatively recent phenomenon Emerging during a period of region wide decolonization and indigenous self determination movements most of these plays reassert Pacific cultural perspectives and performance techniques in ways that employ adapt and challenge the conventions and representations of Western theater Drawing together discussions in theater and performance studies historiography Pacific studies and postcolonial studies Remaking Pacific Pasts offers the first full length comparative study of this dynamic and expanding body of work It introduces readers to the field with an overview of significant works produced throughout the region over the past fifty years including plays in English and in French as well as in local vernaculars and lingua francas The discussion traces the circumstances that have given rise to a particular modern dramatic tradition in each site and also charts routes of theatrical circulation and shared artistic influences that have woven connections beyond national borders This broad survey contextualizes the more detailed case studies that follow which focus on how Pacific dramatists actors and directors have used theatrical performance to critically engage the Pacific's colonial and postcolonial histories Chapters provide close readings of selected plays from Hawaii i Aotearoa New Zealand New Caledonia Kanaky and Fiji that treat events figures and legacies of the region's turbulent past Captain Cook's encounters the New Zealand Wars missionary contact the overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy and the Fiji coups The book explores how in their remembering and retelling of these pasts theater artists have interrogated and revised repressive and marginalizing models of historical understanding developed through Western colonialism or exclusionary indigenous nationalisms and have opened up new spaces for alternative historical narratives and ways of knowing In so doing these works address key issues of identity genealogy representation political parity and social unity encouraging their audiences to consider new possibilities for present and future action This study emphasizes the contribution of artistic production to social and political life in the contemporary Pacific demonstrating how local play production has worked to facilitate processes of creative nation building and the construction of modern regional imaginaries Remaking Pacific Pasts makes valuable contributions to Pacific literature world theater history Pacific studies and postcolonial studies The book opens up to comparative critical discussion a geopolitical region that has received little attention from theater and performance scholars extending our understanding of the form and function of theater in different cultural contexts It enriches existing discussions in postcolonial studies about the decolonizing potential of literary and artistic endeavors and it suggests how theater might function as a mode of historical enquiry and debate adding to discussions about ways in which Pacific histories might be developed challenged or recalibrated Consequently the book stimulates new discussions in Pacific studies where theater has to date suffered from a lack of critical exposure Carefully researched and original in its approach Remaking Pacific Pasts will appeal to scholars graduate students and upper level undergraduate students in theater and performance studies and Pacific Islands studies it will also be of interest to cultural historians and to specialists in cultural studies and postcolonial studies Cultural Identity and Ethnicity in the Pacific Jocelyn Linnekin, Lin Poyer, 1990-01-01

Telling Pacific Lives Vicki Luker, Brij V. Lal, 2008-06-01 This volume of essays is an exploration of the way in which scholars from different disciplines standpoints and theoretical orientations attempt to write life stories in the Pacific It is the product of a conference organised by the Division of Pacific and Asian History at The Australian National University in December 2005 The aim of the conference was to explore ways in which Pacific lives are read and constructed through a variety of media films fiction faction history under four overarching themes The first Framing Lives sought to explore various ways of constructing a life from a classic western perspective of birth formation experiences and death of an individual to other ways for example life as secondary to a longer genealogical entity life as a symbol of collective experience individual lives captured and fragmented in a mosaic of others lives made meaningful by their implication in a particular historical or cultural web the underlying values and world views that inform one or another approach to framing a life The second theme the Stuff of Life looked at materials methods and collaborative arrangements with which the biographer autobiographer and recorder work their objectives constraints inspirations challenges and tricks The third section Story Lines focused on formats and genres such as edited diaries collections of writings voice recordings genres of biography autobiography truth and fiction verse dance novels and the varieties and different advantages of narrative shapes that crystallise the telling of a life The final section Telling Lives Changing Lives focused on biography autobiography and the consciousness of identity history purpose lives as witness and windows telling lives as change for those involved in the tale the telling the listening The overall aim was to bring out both the generic or universal challenges of telling lives as well as to highlight the particular tendencies and trends in the Pacific Yet these four themes which seemed analytically promising at the outset proved in practice difficult to disentangle from the presentations at the workshop Provided by publisher Governing natives Ben

Silverstein,2018-10-16 In the 1930s a series of crises transformed relationships between settlers and Aboriginal people in Australia s Northern Territory By the late 1930s Australian settlers were coming to understand the Northern Territory as a colonial formation requiring a new form of government Responding to crises of social reproduction public power and legitimacy they re thought the scope of settler colonial government by drawing on both the art of indirect rule and on a representational economy of Indigenous elimination to develop a new political dispensation that sought to incorporate and consume Indigenous production and sovereignties This book locates Aboriginal history within imperial history situating the settler colonial politics of Indigeneity in a broader governmental context Nation Making Robert John Foster,1997

Examines the process of nation making in Fiji Papua New Guinea the Solomon Islands and Vanuatu Mandates and Missteps Anna Kent,2024-02-02 Mandates and Missteps is the first comprehensive history of Australian government scholarships to the Pacific from the first scheme in 1948 to the Australia Awards of 2018 The study of scholarships provides a window into foreign and education policy making across decades and the impact such policies have had on individuals and communities This work demonstrates the broad role these scholarships have played in bilateral relationships between Australia and Pacific Island territories and countries The famed Colombo Plan is here put in its proper context within international aid and international education history Australian scholarship programs it is argued ultimately reflect Australia and its perception of itself as a nation in the Pacific more than the needs of Pacific Island nations Mandates and Missteps traces Australia s role as both a coloniser in the Territory of Papua and New Guinea and a participant in the process of decolonisation across the Pacific This study will be of interest to students and scholars of international development international education and foreign policy Australia and the Pacific Islands ,1989 The Ivory Tower and Beyond

Susan Cochrane,Doug Munro,Max Quanchi,2009-03-26 There is a tradition of participant history among historians of the Pacific Islands unafraid to show their hands on issues of public importance and risking controversy to make their voices heard This book explores the theme of the participant historian by delving into the lives of J C Beaglehole J W Davidson Richard Gilson Harry Maude and Brij V Lal They lived at the interface of scholarship and practical engagement in such capacities as constitutional advisers defenders of civil liberties or upholders of the principles of academic freedom As well as writing history they made history and their excursions beyond the ivory tower informed their scholarship Doug Munro s sympathetic engagement with these five historians is likewise informed by his own long term involvement with the sub discipline of Pacific History Mr Tulsi's Store Brij V. Lal,2013-03-01 Professor Lal has been remarkably successful in combining scholarship with autobiography in Mr Tulsi's Store In the essays which cover the author's childhood and education up to university diligent scholarship combines with evocative autobiographical details to reveal a philosophical pattern that encompasses the experience of the descendants of all Indian indentured workers everywhere Professor Frank Birbalsingh York University Canada Globalization and Culture Change in the Pacific Islands Victoria S. Lockwood, 2004 Offering insight into the major changes that are taking place in the context of increasing globalization in Pacific Island societies the authors seek to ground globalization in concrete real life cases of communities that are dealing with specific processes of globalization and formulating their own responses in their own cultural terms The case studies presented reflect the many different cultural contexts of island societies as they deal with global politics nation states and ethnic conflict global economic integration and transnationalism evolving identities and cultural representations changes in patterns of social and community relations and increasing integration into global religions For anyone interested in the effects of globalization on the peoples and cultures of the Pacific Bearing Witness Doug Munro, Jack Corbett, 2017-07-13 Brij V Lal is a singular scholar His work has spanned disciplines from history to politics and genres from conventional monograph history to participant history political commentary encyclopaedia biography and fiction Brij is without doubt the most eminent scholar Fiji has ever produced He also remains the most significant public intellectual of his country despite having been banned from entering it in 2009 He is also one of the leading Pacific historians of his generation and an internationally recognised authority on the Indian diaspora This Festschrift volume celebrates reflects upon and extends the life and work of this colourful scholar The essays whose contributors are drawn from across the globe do more than review Brij's work they also probe his contribution to both scholarly and political life This book will therefore serve as an invaluable guide for readers from all walks of life seeking to better situate and understand the impact of Brij's scholarly activism on Fiji and beyond Clive Moore University of Queensland It is a pleasure to commend this collection of very different essays that celebrate reflect upon and extend the life and work of a remarkable scholar Although I have had at times a close association with Brij Lal's life and work I have learned much from reading this book It provokes further thought about the course of democracy in Fiji and the very sorry state and future of Pacific history and the humanities in academia Here is a timely assertion of the significance and major contribution that courageous scholars such as Brij have made to the study and public awareness of these areas of concern Jacqueline Leckie University of Otago Kala Pani Crossings, Gender and Diaspora Judith Misrahi-Barak, Ritu Tyagi, H. Kalpana, 2023-12-15 This volume explores the intersections of diaspora and gender within the diasporic and Indian imagination It investigates the ways in which race class caste gender and sexuality intersect with concepts of home belonging displacement and the reinvention of the nation and of self Positioning itself as a companion to Kala Pani Crossings Revisiting 19th century Migrations from India's Perspective Routledge 2021 the present book examines whether indentureship and diasporic locations marginalised women and men or empowered them how negotiations or resistances have been determined by race class caste or ethnicity how traditional standards of Indianness and gender relations have been reshaped how ideas of home self and the nation have been impacted in the diaspora and in India after the 19th and early 20th century indentureship migration and what 21st century Indians stand to gain by theorizing the legacy of 19th century indenture through a gender framework To understand how fiction and non fiction writers have negotiated the legacy of indentureship to create spaces where normative practices can be interrogated and challenged the book gives pride of place to interviews with writers such as Cyril Dabydeen Ananda Devi Ramabai Espinet Davina Ittoo Brij Lal Peggy Mohan Shani Mootoo and Khal Torabully Thus rooted in critical analyses but also in subjective and creative perspectives this volume is a major intervention in understanding Indian indenture and its legacy in the diaspora and in India It will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of literature history Indian Ocean studies migration and South Asian studies
