Politics Of Ethnicity Identity And Religion:

Politics of Ethnicity, Identity, and Religion Talip Küçükcan, 1999 A study of a micro Muslim community in Britain The book analyzes how Turkish identity is constructed in the diaspora through an ethnographic study of the role of family culture organizations and religious groups in the reproduction and transmission of traditional values to the young generation This book informs students academics politicians and policy makers in particular about the traditions values beliefs and cultural traits of an ethnic community with a multicultural context This study shows that Turkish and Islamic identities are not fixed and Muslims and Europe do not have a monolithic nature There is a large diversity of perspectives and approaches to Islam which indicate that any essentializing of others as a fixed category undermines pluralisms and multiculturalism The book also argues that there is an emergent identity construction and a sense of belonging among young Muslims who would like to see themselves as a permanent part of European civic culture because their loyalty lies in where they live Ethnicity, Religion and Politics Georgi Fotev, 1999 The Politics of Ethnicity, Identity and Religion Among Turks in London Talip Kucukcan, 1996 Religion, Identity and Politics in Northern Ireland Claire Mitchell, 2017-03-02 Has conflict in Northern Ireland kept political dimensions of religion alive and has religion played a role in fuelling conflict Conflict in Northern Ireland is not and never will be a holy war Yet religion is more socially and politically significant than many commentators presume In fact religion has remained a central feature of social identity and politics throughout conflict as well as recent change There has been an acceleration of interest in the relationship between religion identity and politics in modern societies Building on this debate Claire Mitchell presents a challenging analysis of religion in contemporary Northern Ireland arguing that religion is not merely a marker of ethnicity and that it continues to provide many of the meanings of identity community and politics In light of the multifaceted nature of the conflict in Northern Ireland Mitchell explains that for Catholics religion is primarily important in its social and institutional forms whereas for many Protestants its theological and ideological dimensions are more pressing Even those who no longer go to church tend to reproduce religious stereotypes of them and us Drawing on a range of unique interview material this book traces how individuals and groups in Northern Ireland have absorbed religious types of cultural knowledge belonging and morality and how they reproduce these as they go about their daily lives Despite recent religious and political changes the author concludes that perceptions of religious difference help keep communities in Northern Ireland socially separate and often in conflict with one another Ancient Religions, Modern Politics Michael A. Cook, 2016-12-06 Why Islam is more political and fundamentalist than other religions Why does Islam play a larger role in contemporary politics than other religions Is there something about the Islamic heritage that makes Muslims more likely than adherents of other faiths to invoke it in their political life If so what is it Ancient Religions Modern Politics seeks to answer these questions by examining the roles of Islam Hinduism and Christianity in modern political life placing special emphasis on the relevance or irrelevance of their heritages to today's social and political concerns Michael Cook takes an in depth comparative look at political identity social values attitudes to warfare views about the role of religion in various cultural domains and conceptions of the polity In all these fields he finds that the Islamic heritage offers richer resources for those engaged in current politics than either the Hindu or the Christian heritages He uses this finding to explain the fact that despite the existence of Hindu and Christian counterparts to some aspects of Islamism the phenomenon as a whole is unique in the world today The book also shows that fundamentalism in the sense of a determination to return to the original sources of the religion is politically more adaptive for Muslims than it is for Hindus or Christians A sweeping comparative analysis by one of the world s leading scholars of premodern Islam Ancient Religions Modern Politics sheds important light on the relationship between the foundational texts of these three great religious traditions and the politics of their followers today

Religion and Human Security in Africa Ezra Chitando, Joram Tarusarira, 2019-01-23
Across diverse countries and contexts in Africa religion has direct implications for human security While some individuals and groups seek to manipulate and control through the deployment of religion religious belief is also a common facet of those working towards peace and reconciliation Despite the strategic importance of religion to human security in Africa there are few contemporary publications that explore this issue on an international scale This volume redresses that imbalance by examining religion s impact on human security across Africa Written by an international team of contributors this book looks in detail at the intersection of religion and security in a variety of African contexts Case studies from a diverse set of countries including Nigeria Ghana South Africa Burkina Faso and more are used to illustrate wider trends across the continent Acknowledging that religion can be used to incite violence as well as encourage peace the chapters employ an interdisciplinary exploration of the ethics sociology and politics around these issues This is much needed volume on religion s capacity to effect human security It will therefore be of significant interest to any scholar of religious studies African studies political science the sociology of religion and anthropology as well

Handbook of Language & Ethnic Identity Joshua A. Fishman, Ofelia García, Oxford University Press, 2010 This volume presents a comprehensive introduction to the connection between language and ethnicity Religious Identities and the Global South Felix Wilfred, 2021-01-04 This book offers a comprehensive and interdisciplinary account of religious identities in the Global South Drawing on literature in various fields Felix Wilfred analyzes how religious identities intersect with the processes of globalization modernity and postmodernity He illustrates how the study of religion in the Global North often revolves around questions of secularism and fundamentalism whereas a neo Orientalist quality often attends study of religion in the Global South These approaches and theorizing fail to incorporate the experiences of lived religion in the South especially in Asia Historically the religions in the South have played a highly significant role in resistance to the domination by the colonial forces an important reason for the continued attachment of the peoples of the South to their religious universe This book puts the two regions and their scholarly norms in conversation with one another exploring the social political cultural and economic implications Perspectives on Race, Ethnicity, and Religion Valerie

Martinez-Ebers, Manochehr Dorraj, 2010 This reader is an introduction to the relevant history current issues and dynamics of select minority groups in the United States While previously written books on these topics usually confine their group coverage to African Americans Hispanics Asians and Pacific Islanders and American Indians this volume expands the number of groups examined to include those previously noted plus Jewish and Muslim Americans First the significance of globalization on individual group and national identity is examined Then the social impact of immigration and the common experiences of immigrants are considered Later chapters review the historical legal and political experiences of each aforementioned group as well as their attitudes and behaviors The two fold objective of the book is to provide students with the prerequisite information to evaluate the importance of race ethnicity and religion for understanding the outcomes of American politics in particular to help them see how the structure and operation of our political system sometimes obstructs the efforts of these groups to gain the full benefits of freedom and equal treatment promised under the American Constitution One of the advantages of this reader is that the contributing authors belong to the minority groups that they write about but they also are all credentialed experts in their field of expertise with advanced degrees in political science sociology history or religion Thus they are able to draw upon the experiences of a group of people that they are intimately familiar with while at the same time using the rational systematic approach of social scientists

Identity Politics and Elections in Malaysia and Indonesia Karolina Prasad, 2015-12-14 In recent social research ethnicity has mostly been used as an explanatory variable It was only after it was agreed that ethnicity in itself is subject to change were the questions of how and why it changes possible to answer This multiplicity of ethnic identities requires that we think of each society as one with multiple ethnic dimensions of which any can become activated in the process of political competition and sometimes several of them within a short period of time Focusing on Malaysia and Indonesia this book traces the variations of ethnic identity by looking at electoral strategies in two sub national units It shows that ethnic identities are subject to change induced by calculated moves by political entrepreneurs who use identities as tools to maximize their chances of winning elections or expanding support base and highlights how political institutions play an enormous role in shaping the modes and dynamics of these ethno political manipulations The book suggests that in societies where ethnic identities are activated in politics instead of analysing politics with ethnic distribution as an independent variable ethnic distribution can be taken as the dependent variable with political institutions being the explanatory one It examines the problems of voters behaviour and parties and candidates strategy in a polity that is to a significant extent driven by ethnic relations Pushing the boundaries of qualitative research on Southeast Asian politics by placing formal institutions at the centre of its analysis this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Southeast Asian Politics Race and Ethnic Studies and International Relations

Multicultural Politics Tariq Modood,2005 Examines the modern problem of religious identity and cultural racism

Ethnicity and Religion Joseph Ruane,Jennifer Todd,2014-06-11 Religion has regained political prominence in the twenty first century and not least for the manner in which it intersects with ethnicity Many ethnic conflicts have a strong religious dimension and religion appears as a powerful force for mobilisation solidarity and violence Religion and ethnicity can each act as a powerful base of identity group formation and communal conflict They can also overlap with ethnic and religious boundaries coinciding partially or completely internally nested or intersecting This volume maps the different forms of intersection cases where religion is prioritised in private life and ethnicity in public where each coexists in tension in political life and where the distinctions reinforce each other with dynamic effects It maps the different patterns with case studies and comparisons from Ireland Northern Ireland France Zimbabwe Ghana and Malaysia It shows how ordinary people construct their solidarities and identities using both ethnic and religious resources This opens up analysis of the socially transformative as well as politically antagonistic potential of religion in situations of ethnic division This book was published as a special issue of Ethnopolitics

Alevism as an Ethno-Religious Identity Celia Jenkins,Suavi Aydin,Umit Cetin,2019-10-23 Until recently the importance of religion in the modern world has often been underestimated in Western societies whereas its significance is absolutely crucial in the Middle East Religion is critical to a sense of belonging for communities and nations and can be a force for unity or division This is the case for the Alevis an ethnic and religious community that constitutes approximately 20% of the Turkish population its second largest religious group In the current crisis in the Middle East the heightened religious tensions between Sunnis Shias and Alawites raise questions about who the Alevis are and where they stand in this conflict With an ambiguous relationship to Islam historically Alevis have been treated as a suspect community in Turkey and recently whilst distinct from Alawites have sympathised with the Assad regime's secular orientation The chapters in this book analyse different aspects of Alevi identity in relation to religion politics culture education and national identity drawing on specialist research in the field The approach is interdisciplinary and contributes to wider debates concerning ethnicity religion migration and trans national identity within and across ethno religious boundaries The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the National Identities journal

Ethnic Identity, Social Mobility and the Role of Soulmates Marieke Sloomman, 2018-09-21 Based on a study among higher educated adult children of lower class Turkish and Moroccan immigrants in the Netherlands this open access book explores processes of identification among social climbers with ethnic minority backgrounds Using both survey data and open interviews with these minority climbers the study details the contextual and temporal nature of identification The results illustrate how ethnicity is contextual but has tangible and inescapable effects at the same time Also the findings call for a more reflexive use of terms like ethnic ingroup outgroup and bonding bridging Overall the book helps us understand the emergence of middle class segments that articulate their minority identities and as such it will be of great interest to academics policy makers and all those interested in processes of integration and or diversity

Ethnoreligious Conflict in the Late Twentieth Century Jonathan Fox, 2002-01-01 Jonathan Fox's new work provides the first systematic empirical study of the role that religion plays in ethnic violence Ethnoreligious Conflict in the Late Twentieth Century critiques the existing literature on religion and ethnic conflict then presents and analyzes original quantitative data gathered from a variety of sources Fox draws upon the Minorities at Risk model of ethnic conflict to develop and test a dynamic and comprehensive theory of religion and conflict He applies this theory to resurgent conflicts between ethnic groups of different religions from the Iranian revolution and the Afghan struggle against the Soviets in the 1980s to the ongoing Middle East conflict to pinpoint the ways in which religion has become intertwined in and lent legitimacy to conflicts in the contemporary world
