Politics Of Writing:

The Politics of Writing Romy Clark, Roz Ivanič, 1997 First Published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Politics, Writing, Mutilation Allan Stoekl, 1985 Politics Writing Mutilation was first published in 1985 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions

Five twentieth century French writers played and continue to play a pivotal role in the development of literary philosophical thinking that has come to be known in the United States as post structuralism The work of Georges Bataille Maurice Blanchot Raymond Roussel Michel Leiris and Francis Ponge in the 1930s and 1940s amounts to a prehistory of today's theoretical debates the writings of Foucault and Derrida in particular would have been unthinkable outside the context provided by these writers In Politics Writing Mutilation Allan Stoekl emphasizes their role as precursors but he also makes clear that they created a distinctive body of work that must be read and evaluated on its own terms Stoekl's critical readings of their work selected novels poems and autobiographical fragments reveal them to be battlegrounds not only of disruptive language practices but of conflicting political drives as well These irreconcilable tendencies can be defined as progressive political revolution on the one hand with its emphasis on utility conservation and labor and on the other hand a notion of dangerous and sinister production that stresses orgiastic sexuality and delirious expenditure Caught between these forces is the intellectual of Bataille's time and indeed of ours locked in impotence self betrayal and automutilation Stoekl develops his critique through dual readings of each writer's central work the first reading deconstructive the second a search for the political meaning excluded by a deconstructive approach Repeating this process on a larger scale he shows how Derrida and Foucault are indebted to their precursors even while they have betrayed them by stripping their work of political conflict and historical specificity And he acknowledges that one of the most painful questions faced in prewar and Occupied France that of the unthinkable guilt and duplicity of the intellectual may not be as remote from contemporary theoretical concerns as some would have us believe

French Women in Politics: Writing Power Raylene L. Ramsay, 2003 Although more women in France have entered political life than ever before the fact remains that there are fewer women representatives in the French parliament than there were after the Second World War In a new and original approach the author presents an overview and analysis of the emerging body of text by or on women who have held high political office in France The argument is that writing about women and politics has not just described or reflected women's slow but now substantial entry into political life it has played a major part in shaping the parity debate and its outcomes Interviews with political women such as Huguette Bouchardeau Simone Veil or Edith Cresson inserted in the text demonstrate the emergence and circulation of a new common discourse focused on the issue of whether women in politics make or should make a difference A close reading of the various texts examined in this book and their connection to new public counter discourses in France suggest that a re writing of power is indeed occurring

Ritual and

Politics: Writing the History of a Dynastic Conflict in Medieval Poland Zbigniew Dalewski, 2008-03-31 Referring by way of example to the chronicler's story about a dynastic conflict in medieval Poland this book offers an insight into the modes of using ritual as an effective tool of political action in the Middle Ages both in the practice of political entreprising and on the level of narrative information about that practice and then reflects about the nature of the relationship between the reality of the written account and the reality of the practical activities described in it It demonstrates the ways in which the reality of the narrative account and the reality of practices ritual in text and ritual in performance overlaid and interlaced one another and exercised a mutual impact thereby jointly creating a framework within which in the earlier and high Middle Ages political activity took place

The Politics of Writing, 2000 Points of Departure David Montenegro, Adrienne Cecile Rich, 1991 Ten of the world's leading writers speak out on the crucial issues of art censorship and political oppression

Politics and the Writing of Australian History John Lechte, 1979 Canadian Magazine of Politics, Science, Art & Literature, 1922 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1906 The Flesh of Words Jacques Rancière, 2004 This new collection of challenging literary studies plays with a foundational definition of Western culture the word become flesh But the word become flesh is not or no longer a theological already given It is a millennial goal or telos toward which each text strives Both witty and immensely erudite Jacques Rancière leads the critical reader through a maze of arrivals toward the moment perhaps always suspended when the word finds its flesh That is what he a valiant and good humored companion to these texts goes questing for through seven essays examining a wide variety of familiar and unfamiliar works A text is always a commencement the word setting out on its excursions through the implausible vicissitudes of narrative and the bizarre phantasmagorias of imagery Don Quixote's unsent letter reaching us through generous Balzac lovely Rimbaud demonic Althusser The word is on its way to an incarnation that always lies ahead of the writer and the reader both in this anguished democracy of language where the word is always taking on its flesh

The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science, Art, and Finance, 1877 Individualism, a System of Politics Wordsworth Donisthorpe, 1889 Chapter IX appeared originally in the Westminster review July 1886 cf Pref The Ship Subsidy Question in United States Politics Marguerite Miller McKee, 1923 Abortion Politics Frederick S.
