Comprising critical writings in civil military relations theory and research this book of essays integrates the ideas and insights drawn from political science particularly its subfields of comparative politics theory and methodology both normative and empirical with those from the combined disciplines of philosophy of science history sociology and development studies bringing out the relevance of these ideas and insights for understanding and analysing the issues central to the place and role of military in the Nigerian society This book will be useful to students academics journalists and activists working on Nigeria in particular and Africa in general Print edition not for sale in Nigeria Human Rights, Inc. Joseph R. Slaughter, 2009-08-25 In this timely study of the historical ideological and formal interdependencies of the novel and human rights Joseph Slaughter demonstrates that the twentieth century rise of world literature and international human rights law are related phenomena Slaughter argues that international law shares with the modern novel a particular conception of the human individual The Bildungsroman the novel of coming of age fills out this image offering a conceptual vocabulary a humanist social vision and a narrative grammar for what the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and early literary theorists both call the free and full development of the human personality Revising our received understanding of the relationship between law and literature Slaughter suggests that this narrative form has acted as a cultural surrogate for the weak executive authority of international law naturalizing the assumptions and conditions that make human rights appear commonsensical As a kind of novelistic correlative to human rights law the Bildungsroman has thus been doing some of the sociocultural work of enforcement that the law cannot do for itself This analysis of the cultural work of law and of the social work of literature challenges traditional Eurocentric histories of both international law and the dissemination of the novel Taking his point of departure in Goethe's Wilhelm Meister Slaughter focuses on recent postcolonial versions of the coming of age story to show how the promise of human rights becomes legible in narrative and how the novel and the law are complicit in contemporary projects of globalization in colonialism neoimperialism humanitarianism and the spread of multinational consumer capitalism Slaughter raises important practical and ethical questions that we must confront in advocating for human rights and reading world literature imperatives that today more than ever are intertwined The Cold War and National Assertion in Southeast Asia Matthew Foley, 2009-12-16 This book is a detailed case study of post colonial transition in Asia in the context of the emerging Cold War it charts British and

American approaches to Burma between the country's independence from the United Kingdom in 1948 and the military coup that ended civilian government in 1962 Nation Making Robert John Foster, 1997 Examines the process of nation making in Fiji Papua New Guinea the Solomon Islands and Vanuatu Nationalism and Modernism Prof Anthony D Smith, Anthony Smith, 2013-04-15 The first major study in over three decades to explore the essential arguments of all the major theoretical interpretations of nationalism from the modernist approaches of Gellner Nairn Breuilly Giddens and Hobsbawm to the alternative paradigms of van den Bergh and Geertz Armstrong and Smith himself In a style accessible to the student and the general reader Smith traces the changing view of this hotly discussed topic within the current political cultural and socioeconomic arena He also analyses the contributions of such historians sociologists and political scientists as Seton Watson Reynolds Hastings Horowitz and Brass The survey concludes with an analysis of post modern approaches to national identity gender and nation making it indispensable reading to all those interested in gaining full and authoritative knowledge of nationalism National Character Alex Inkeles, 2017-07-12 Seen in modern perspective the concept of national character poses fundamental problems for social science theory and research To what extent do conditions of life in a particular society give rise to certain patterns in the personalities of its members What are the consequences Alex Inkeles surveys various definitions of national character tracing developments through the twentieth century His approach is to examine the regularity of specific personality patterns among individuals in a society He argues that modal personality may be extremely important in determining which new cultural elements are accepted and which institutional forms persist in a society Reviewing previous studies Inkeles canvasses the attitudes and psychological states of different nations in an effort to discover a set of values in the United States He concludes that despite recent advances in the field there is much to be done before we can have a clear picture of the degree of differentiation in the personality structure of modern nations Until now there were few formal definitions and discussions on national character and the limits of this field of study This book will be of great interest to psychologists sociologists philosophers and political theorists Cities in Motion Su Lin Lewis, 2016-07-19 In the 1920s and 1930s the port cities of Southeast Asia were staging grounds for diverse groups of ordinary citizens to experiment with modernity as a rising Japan and American capitalism challenged the predominance of European empires after the First World War Both migrants and locals played a pivotal role in shaping civic culture Moving away from a nationalist reading of the period Su Lin Lewis explores layers of cross cultural interaction in various spheres the urban built environment civic associations print media education popular culture and the emergence of the modern woman While the book focuses on Penang Rangoon and Bangkok three cities born amidst British expansion to the region it explores connected experiences across Asia and in Asian intellectual enclaves in Europe Cosmopolitan sensibilities were severely tested in the era of post colonial nationalism but are undergoing a resurgence in Southeast Asia's civil society and creative class today National Culture in Post-Apartheid Namibia Michael Akuupa, 2015-05-01 National Culture in Post Apartheid

Namibia addresses the challenges of creating a national culture in the context of a historical legacy that has emphasised ethnic diversity The state sponsored Annual National Culture Festival ANCF focuses on the Kavango region in north eastern Namibia Akuupa critically examines the notion of Kavango ness as a colonial construct and its subsequent reconstitution and appropriation He analyses the way in which cultural representations are produced by local people in the postcolonial African context of nation building and national reconciliation by bringing visions of cosmopolitanism and modernity into critical dialogue with the colonial past
