the contemporary Irish philosopher Takeshi Morisato offers a clear presentation of contemporary comparative solutions to the problems of the philosophy of religion. Importantly this is the first book length English language study of Tanabe Hajime's philosophy of religion that consults the original Japanese texts. Considering the examples of Christianity and Buddhism, Faith and Reason in Continental and Japanese Philosophy focuses on finding the solution to the problem of philosophy of religion through comparative examinations of Tanabe's metanoetics and Desmond's metaxology. It aims to conclude that these contemporary thinkers while they draw their inspiration from the different religious traditions of Christianity and Mahayana Buddhism successfully reconfigure the relation of faith and reason. Faith and Reason in Continental and Japanese Philosophy marks an important intervention into comparative philosophy by bringing into dialogue these thinkers both major figures within their respective traditions yet rarely discussed in tandem.

Before They Were Titans Elizabeth Cheresch Allen, 2019-08-28 Dostoevsky and Tolstoy are the titans of Russian literature. As mature artists they led very different lives and wrote vastly different works but their early lives and writings display provocative kinships while also indicating the divergent paths the two authors would take en route to literary greatness. The ten new critical essays here written by leading specialists in nineteenth century Russian literature give fresh sophisticated readings to works from the first decade of the literary life of each Russian author: for Dostoevsky the 1840s for Tolstoy the 1850s. Collectively these essays yield composite portraits of these two artists as young men finding their literary way. At the same time they show how the early works merit appreciation for themselves before their authors were Titans.

The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000 Translation has been a crucial process in world culture over the past two millennia and more. In the English speaking cultures many of the most important texts are translations from Homer to Beckett, the Bible to Freud. Although recent years have seen a boom in translation studies there has been no comprehensive yet convenient guide to this essential element of literature in English. Written by eminent scholars from many countries the Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation meets this need and will be essential reading for all students of English and comparative literature. It highlights the place of translation in our culture, encouraging awareness of the issues raised, making the translator more visible. Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Korean, from Swahili to Russian. For some works, e.g. Virgil's Aeneid which have been much translated, the discussion is historical and critical, showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions. Elsewhere, with less familiar literatures, the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available. The Guide is divided into two parts. Part I contains substantial essays on theoretical questions, a pioneering outline of the history of translation into English, and discussions of the problems raised by specific types of text, e.g. poetry, oral literature. The second, much longer part consists of entries grouped by language of origin; some are devoted to individual texts, e.g. the Thousand and One Nights, or writers, e.g.

Ibsen Proust but the majority offer a critical overview of a genre e g Chinese poetry Spanish Golden Age drama or of a national literature e g Hungarian Scottish Gaelic There is a selective bibliography for each entry and an index of authors and translators

Dostoevsky as Suicidologist Amy D. Ronner, 2021-01-12 In Dostoevsky as Suicidologist Amy D Ronner illustrates how self homicide in Fyodor Dostoevsky's fiction prefigures Emile Durkheim's etiology in Suicide as well as theories of other prominent suicidologists This book not only fills a lacuna in Dostoevsky scholarship but provides fresh readings of Dostoevsky's major works including Notes from The House of the Dead Crime and Punishment The Idiot Demons and The Brothers Karamazov Ronner provides an exegesis of how Dostoevsky's implicit awareness of fatalistic altruistic egoistic and anomic modes of self destruction helped shape not only his philosophy but also his craft as a writer In this study Ronner contributes to the field of suicidology by anatomizing both self destructive behavior and suicidal ideation while offering ways to think about prevention But most expansively Ronner tackles the formidable task of forging a ligature between artistic creation and the pluripresent social fact of self annihilation

A Gentle Creature and Other Stories Fyodor Dostoevsky, 2009-04-23 In the stories in this volume Dostoevsky explores both the figure of the dreamer divorced from reality and also his own ambiguous attitude to utopianism themes central to many of his great novels In White Nights the apparent idyll of the dreamer's romantic fantasies disguises profound loneliness and estrangement from living life Despite his sentimental friendship with Nastenka his final withdrawal into the world of the imagination anticipates the retreat into the underground of many of Dostoevsky's later intellectual heroes A Gentle Creature and The Dream of a Ridiculous Man show how such withdrawal from reality can end in spiritual desolation and moral indifference and how in Dostoevsky's view the tragedy of the alienated individual can be resolved only by the rediscovery of a sense of compassion and responsibility towards fellow human beings This new translation captures the power and lyricism of Dostoevsky's writing while the introduction examines the stories in relation to one another and to his novels
