Practical Approaches To Individualizing Staff Development For Adults:

Practical Approaches to Using Learning Styles in Higher Education Rita Dunn, Shirley A. Griggs, 2000-04-30 Dunn and Griggs challenge the traditional instructional process of lecture discussion in college classroom and describe the theory practice and research that support a wider variety of approaches to better accommodate the learning style preferences of each student Twenty five practitioners from varied backgrounds and disciplines representing 14 colleges and universities outline alternative strategies they use with diverse students in their institutions of higher education Some of these practitioners have been using learning style for decades Others have conducted research to test the various tenets of the Dunn and Dunn Learning Style Model and a few only for the past five years have begun providing instructional strategies that are congruent with their students preferences A road map is provided for college faculty to assist them in moving toward accommodating students learning style strengths by comparing the major theories of learning styles that range from uni to multi dimensional in scope Strategies include identifying and administering valid and reliable instruments for assessing college students learning styles interpreting assessment results so that each student becomes aware of his her own strengths and is provided a computer generated prescription for improving their study skills and successfully completing assignments designing instruction to respond to both global and analytic students processing styles developing course content and materials to accommodate the learning style preferences of college students and evaluating the impact of learning styles based instruction

Practical Approaches to Individualizing Staff Development for Adults Kenneth Dunn, Rita Dunn, Rita Stafford Dunn, 1998-03-10 Staff developers are presented with an introduction to learning styles that is how people learn new or difficult information When staff development is based on a learning style approach the same information is introduced in alternative ways and participants can choose to learn through the resources or approaches most closely matched to their style The editors have compiled many interesting and practical strategies that presenters in staff development sessions can use to involve participants in experimenting with new ideas These methods will provide enrichment resulting in a successful staff development

Assessing and Evaluating Adult Learning in Career and Technical Education Wang, Viktor, 2010-07-31 This book advances a framework a process and meaningful approaches for assessing and evaluating adult learning in career and technical education CTE Provided by publisher

How to Design and Teach a Hybrid Course Jay Caulfield, 2023-07-03 This practical handbook for designing and teaching hybrid or blended courses focuses on outcomes based practice It reflects the author s experience of having taught over 70 hybrid courses and having worked for three years in the Learning Technology Center at the University of Wisconsin Milwaukee a center that is recognized as a leader in the field of hybrid course design Jay Caulfield defines hybrid courses as ones where not only is face time replaced to varying degrees by online learning but also by experiential learning that takes place in the community or within an organization with or without the presence of a teacher and as a pedagogy that places the primary responsibility of learning on the learner with the teacher's primary role being to create opportunities and environments that foster independent and collaborative student learning. Starting with a brief review of the relevant theory such as andragogy, inquiry-based learning, experiential learning, and theories that specifically relate to distance education, she addresses the practicalities of planning a hybrid course taking into account class characteristics such as size, demographics, subject matter, learning outcomes, and time available. She offers criteria for determining the appropriate mix of face-to-face, online, and experiential components for a course and guidance on creating social presence online. The section on designing and teaching in the hybrid environment covers such key elements as promoting and managing discussion, using small groups, creating opportunities for student feedback, and ensuring that students' learning expectations are met. A concluding section of interviews with students and teachers offers a rich vein of tips and ideas.

Teaching and Learning Marjorie S. Schiering, Drew Bogner, Jorun Buli-Holmberg, 2011-06-16. Learners are multi-faceted, unique people. Discovering the whole individual is incumbent upon realizing the teaching/learning environments, common social and societal realities, and belief and value systems respective of academic and socio-societal factors that establish who one is as a learner and teacher. In Learning and Teaching, the authors offer practical strategies for interactive instruction to facilitate optimum learning. This book addresses the theoretical framework that includes the relationship between thoughts and feelings, the effect of past experiences on present and future behaviors, universal connectivity, and a strong understanding of who one is as a teacher and learner.

Reading Comprehension Gary Woolley, 2011-05-21. Reading Comprehension: Assisting Children with Learning Difficulties examines the complex nature of reading comprehension. It introduces a model for classifying reading comprehension based on an expanded Simple View of Reading. Issues related to assessment, diagnosis, and remediation of reading comprehension difficulties are discussed and translated into clear recommendations to inform reading intervention design and practice. It gives an informed understanding as to why reading comprehension is difficult for some children with learning disabilities such as ADHD, autism, language difficulties, and dyslexia. From leading literacy research, the book develops a deeper understanding of thinking processes that facilitate comprehension at the word, discourse, and metacognitive levels. Children will benefit from the introduction of evidence-based methods for teaching reading comprehension using structured multiple strategy frameworks.
