Quest For Identity:

The Quest for Identity Allen Wheelis, 1958 The Quest for Identity in so-called Mainline Churches in South Africa Ernst M Conradie, John Klaasen, 2014-05-01 This volume of essays forms part of a series on the interface between ecumenical theology and social ethics in the South African context This contribution is the result of a public conference hosted at the University of the Western Cape in May 2013 under the same title It explores the quest for identity in so called mainline churches in South Africa given the history of the establishment of various denominations of mainly European origin in Southern Africa ecumenical efforts to find common ground between such churches and breakaway movements among independent and Pentecostal churches where this search for identity is evidently found wanting Quest for Identity

Randall Bennett Woods, 2005-07 Quest for Identity is a survey of the American experience from the close of World War II through the Cold War and 9 11 to the present It helps students understand postwar American history through a seamless narrative punctuated with accessible analyses Randall Woods addresses and explains the major themes that punctuate the period the Cold War the Civil Rights and Women s Rights movements and other great changes that led to major realignments of American life The pageantry drama irony poignancy and humor of the American journey since World War II are all here

Christian Identity E. M. Conradie, 2005-07-01 This book is rooted in the quest for Christian identity in the Southern African context where Christianity is faced with many stark challenges internal tensions and experiences of rapid social change The book explores six aspects of the highly complex notion of Christian identity namely Christian institutions a Christian ethos Christian rituals Christian experiences with specific reference to the notion of faith Christian narratives with specific reference to the category of revelation and the place of the Bible in the Christian tradition and Christian doctrine

Cultural identity in the East African novel Regina Hartmann, 2014-04-11 Inhaltsangabe Introduction As the Black African writers have taught us we must dance our word for in human speech as in dance lies an offering to speak and to write is also to offer oneself to the other it is to be reborn together This quotation by M Rombaut locates African literature close to the performing arts According to his statement African literature seems to transcend the conventional European conception of writing which is conceiving literature as something planned and permanent The idea of a literary performance in African writing places the author much closer to the story teller who is dependent on his audience and trying to keep in touch with them By processing their feelings in his performance he gives expression to a common consciousness In contrast to the Western author who often wants to stand apart from his society African authors tend to aim their participation in the formation of a shared identity This paper tries to find out how authors from the framework of East Africa conceive of cultural identity Basically I will proceed in two steps part A is dedicated to the development of a pattern within which the complex issue of identity can be adequately discussed in an East African context In Part B I will then apply this discussion scheme to three novels which as I will explain are representative for East African writing in far as this term is justified Part A starts off from some basic observations about identity on the foundation of which I want to deduce the structure of my analysis I will argue that identity is based on one's observation of the environment and on the influence of outsiders All this is to some extent true for two concepts individual and cultural identity The latter develops when a group of individuals feels or is ascribed a common bond apt to correspond to several individual self concepts These individuals may then share a feeling of home which can act as a physical but also mental commitment Departing from these ideas I will show that four issues might be interesting in dealing with cultural identity which can be expressed by some central questions 1 Identity imposed and adopted In how far can others influence our identity 2 Identity rediscovered and reinvented To what extent does our history work on identity 3 Identity displaced How does our feeling of physical or mental bond to a physical or mental space I will call home work on identity 4 Identity integrated How

A Common Spring Nadya Aisenberg, 1979 Nadya Aisenberg discusses the potentialities of the crime novel its implications principles and scope and its analogy of myth and the fairy tale She proposes that the detective story and the thriller have made an unacknowledged contribution to serious literature Her discussion of Dickens Conrad and Green indicate that each borrowed many important ingredients from the formulaic novel

Moses Hess and Modern Jewish Identity Ken Koltun-Fromm, 2001-07-31 Koltun-Fromm's reading of Hess is of crucial import for those who study the construction of self in the modern world as well as for those who are concerned with Hess and his contributions to modern thought a reading of Hess that is subtle judicious insightful and well supported David Ellenson Moses Hess a fascinating 19th century German Jewish intellectual figure was at times religious and secular traditional and modern practical and theoretical socialist and nationalist Ken Koltun-Fromm's radical reinterpretation of his writings shows Hess as a Jew struggling with the meaning of conflicting commitments and impulses Modern readers will realize that in Hess's life as in their own these commitments remain fragmented and torn As contemporary Jews negotiate multiple often contradictory allegiances in the modern world Koltun-Fromm argues that Hess's struggle to unite conflicting traditions and frameworks of meaning offers intellectual and practical resources to re-examine the dilemmas of modern Jewish identity Adopting Charles Taylor's philosophical theory of the self to uncover Hess's various commitments Koltun-Fromm demonstrates that Hess offers a rich textured though deeply conflicted and torn account of the modern Jew This groundbreaking study in conceptions of identity in modern Jewish texts is a vital contribution to the diverse fields of Jewish intellectual history philosophy Zionism and religious studies Jewish Literature and Culture Alvin H Rosenfeld editor Published with the generous support of the Koret Foundation

Violence, Otherness and Identity in Isaiah 63:1-6 Dominic S. Irudayaraj, 2017-04-20 Violence disturbs And violent depictions when encountered in the biblical texts are all the more disconcerting Isaiah 63 1 6 is an illustrative instance The prophetic text presents the Arriving One in gory details trampling down people pouring out their lifeblood v 6 Further the introductory note that the Arriving One is coming from Edom cf v 1 may suggest Israel s unrelenting animosity towards Edom These two themes the gory depiction and coming from Edom are addressed in this book Irudayaraj uses a social identity reading to show how Edom is consistently pictured as Israel s proximate and yet other ed entity Approaching Edom as such thus helps situate the animosity within a larger prophetic vision of identity construction in the postexilic Third Isaian context By adopting an iconographic reading of Isaiah 63 1 6 Irudayaraj shows how the prophetic portrayal of the Arriving One in descriptions where it is clear that the Arriving One is a marginalised identity correlates with the experiences of the stooped exiles cf 51 14 He also demonstrates that the text leaves behind emphatic affirmations mighty and splendidly robed cf v 1 alone cf v 3 by which the relegated voice of the divine reasserts itself It is in this divine reassertion that the hope of the Isaian community s reclamation of its own identity rests
