Regional Dynamics Elgar Reference Collection:

Alternative Approaches in Macroeconomics Philip Arestis, 2018-02-07 This book honours Professor John McCombie's retirement by exploring a variety of themes theories and debates in non orthodox macroeconomics With contributions from leading scholars the book covers diverse ground in economic thought policy empirical work and modelling It demonstrates ongoing presumptions and asks probing questions of topical questions from the increase of income equality to the international variation of productivity investment This collection will appeal to academics and students with an interest in the history of macroeconomic thinking Index of Economic Articles in Journals and Collective Volumes American Economic Association, 2003

Index of Economic Articles in Journals and Collective Volumes, 2003

Enacting Regional Dynamics and Entrepreneurship Bengt Johannisson, Åsa Lindholm Dahlstrand, 2013-09-13 In present digital times the focus is on globalization and the dynamics and complexities that it creates However in spite of being dominated by technology the world remains populated by human beings practising a localized everyday life This contrast should challenge every researcher who is concerned with business and societal development and how that is contingent upon the institutional and cultural national context In this book Swedish researchers reflect upon entrepreneurship as a possible mediator between local and global economic and social concerns Using as a point of departure the tensions between a functional footloose rationale and a territorial rationale tied to place the authors provide different aspects on regional development in a globalised world A shared concern is the importance of recognizing the many appearances of entrepreneurship that brings it beyond being an innovative force in the market The book thus presents different strategies and tactics for pursuing localized economic development and it also critically reviews adopted public support programmes and measures of the local business climate The conclusive message is that only by bridging the functional and territorial views will it be possible to sustain and possibly enhance economic and social life in local places as well as in our shared world This book was originally published as a special issue of European Planning Studies

Spatial Economic Science Aura Reggiani, 2012-12-06 With the dawn of the twenty first century comes the awareness that current rapid political economic social and technological transformations will affect our of living by producing new forms of information communications common way market work style and leisure In this context human behaviour will certainly change its fixed parameters It is likely that the relationships between internal structures and external influences between individual components and collective behaviour as well as between multi scale networks and interrelated dynamics will show spatio temporal patterns which will be difficult to predict by means of our usual tools As a consequence academic research is increasingly being required to play an active role in addressing new ways of understanding and forecasting the sets of interacting structures ranging from the technical to the organizational and from the social to the economic and political levels while at the same time incorporating concerns about the new economy environment society information and technology It is now evident that social science especially spatial and economic scienc needs innovative paths together with continuous cross fertilization among the many disciplines involved In order to investigate these intriguing perspectives we seem to have embarked on an era of methodological reflections rather than developing strong theoretical foundations This volume aims to provide an overview of these new insights and frontiers for theoretical methodological studies and research applications in the space economy

Global and Regional Dynamics in Knowledge Flows and Innovation Chris Van Egeraat, Dieter Kogler, Phil Cooke, 2015-10-14 Innovation which in essence is the generation of knowledge and its subsequent application in the marketplace in the form of novel products and processes has become the key concept in inquiries concerning the contemporary knowledge based economy Geography plays a decisive role in the underlying processes that enable and support knowledge formation and diffusion activities Place specific characteristics are considered especially important in this context however more recently investigation into innovative capacity of places has also turned its attention to external knowledge inputs through innovation networks and increasingly recognize the evolutionary character of the processes that lead to knowledge creation and subsequent application in the marketplace The chapters that comprise this book are embedded at the intersection of the dynamic processes of knowledge production and creative destruction The first three contributions all discuss the role of global innovation networks in the context of territorial and or sectoral dynamics while the following two chapters investigate the evolution of regional or metropolitan knowledge economies The final three contributions adopt a knowledge base approach in order to provide insight into the organisation of innovation networks and spatiality of knowledge flows This book was published in a special issue of European Planning Studies

Asia-Pacific Transitions D. Andersson, J. Poon, 2001-01-19 Modern focus on the Asia Pacific has centred on its rapid transformation in the span of a mere two decades Since the 1997 economic crisis however attention has now turned to transition issues as the region faces the challenge of global structural transformation that has and will affect the direction of the region's long term development Drawing from a range of contributors from several disciplines this book seeks to capture some of the multifaceted dimensions of these transitions as the region adjusts to new global realities

Drivers of Innovation, Entrepreneurship and Regional Dynamics Karima Kourtit, Peter Nijkamp, Roger R. Stough, 2011-06-10 The need for informed and effective insights into key concepts and models of regional development and growth from an endogenous growth perspective has risen over the past decade These recent advances address in particular local and regional assets and characteristics comprising inter alia creativity knowledge innovation forces and entrepreneurship Access to and exploitation of these modern forms of human and social capital are of paramount importance for the dynamic regional economic environment in a city or region This volume offers an overview and critical treatment of the spatial economic roots opportunities and impacts of new growth strategies mainly from an evidence based perspective In the various contributions to this volume relevant findings and strategic options are interpreted and discussed from both an analytical and a policy perspective to help cultivate creativity human capital development and innovation as well as entrepreneurial activity with a view to exploit the drivers of economic development in order to strengthen the competitive edge of cities and regions

Dynamic Capabilities Between Firm Organisation and Local Systems of Production Riccardo Leoncini, Sandro Montresor, 2007-12-21 This book offers an analysis of how firms manage to reconfigure their pool of resources to deal with the turbulent environments in which they are embedded thus tackling the issue of how dynamic capabilities must be defined and conceptualized Journal of Economic Literature, 2007 Regional Analysis and Policy Harry Coccossis, Yannis Psycharis, 2008-08-02 Regional development is attracting the attention of policy makers and scientists again as regions urban centers and rural areas experience substantial pressures particularly in Europe as a consequence of globalization and geopolitical changes which lead to changes in spatial structures and dynamics This book is based on the contributions of Greek regional science research presented at the 2006 Congress of the European Regional Science Association at Volos Greece The contributions selected to be presented in this book address these changes offering a fresh look into regional development They provide an overview of regional development concerns from Greek regional scientists but the issues discussed pervade Greek particularities and stimulate thinking about regional science regional development and regional policy in the early twenty first century The Impact of U.S.-Mexican Economic Integration on National and Subsector Competitiveness Ellen T. Fitzpatrick, 1999 The Dynamics of the Innovation Divide between China and Europe Arkadiusz Michal Kowalski, 2022-03-13 This book examines the problem of the innovation divide in the world economy and convergence in innovation performance between leaders and followers analysed through the prism of Chinese experiences and explored from an European Union EU perspective The rationale for research conducted in this book is an observation of a significant change in the geography of world innovation reflected in the emergence of innovation hubs in developing countries and in the shift of manufacturing activity including high and medium high technology industries to emerging economies mainly China The book analyses the factors of Chinese innovation success in recent decades such as China s science technology and innovation policy increased R D expenditures human capital development and the development of clusters and highly specialized industries It also focuses on the challenges for developed European economies which are being at risk of losing their knowledge related sources of competitive advantage It also offers recommendations for future policy actions The book s analysis goes beyond a cross country comparison taking into account a regional perspective The reason for this regional dimension is the increasingly recognized importance of proximity in stimulating innovation processes and an observed strong geographical polarization of innovation activity at specific regions seen in the emergence of clusters particularly visible in China The monograph will provide an up to date reference for academics and students across a variety of disciplines It will be of particular interest to researchers in the area of innovation and practitioners doing business in China as well as policymakers at international national and regional levels involved in designing and implementing innovation policy

International Bibliography of Economics 1998 Compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science,1999-12-16 Renowned for its international coverage and rigorous selection procedures this series provides the most comprehensive and scholarly bibliographic service available in the social sciences Arranged by topic and indexed by author subject and place name each bibliography lists and annotates the most important works published in its field during the year of 1997 including hard to locate journal articles Each volume also includes a complete list of the periodicals consulted Handbook of Computable General Equilibrium Modeling Peter B.

Dixon,Dale Jorgenson,2013-01-08 Top scholars synthesize and analyze scholarship on this widely used tool of policy analysis in 27 articles setting forth its accomplishments difficulties and means of implementation Though CGE modeling does not play a prominent role in top U S graduate schools it is employed universally in the development of economic policy This collection is particularly important because it presents a history of modeling applications and examines competing points of view Presents coherent summaries of CGE theories that inform major model types Covers the construction of CGE databases model solving and computer assisted interpretation of results Shows how CGE modeling has made a contribution to economic policy Meeting Global Challenges National Research Council,Policy and Global Affairs,Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy,Committee on Comparative National Innovation Policies: Best Practice for the 21st Century,2012-10-25 While nations have always competed for territory mineral riches water and other physical assets they compete most vigorously today for technology based innovations and the value that flows from them Much of this value is based on creating scientific knowledge and transforming it into new products and services for the market This process of innovation is complex and interdisciplinary Sometimes it draws on the genius of individuals but even then it requires sustained collective effort often underpinned by significant national investments Capturing the value of these investments to spur domestic economic growth and employment is a challenge in a world where the outputs of innovation disseminate rapidly Those equipped to understand apply and profit from new knowledge and technical advances are increasingly able to capture the long term economic benefits of growth and employment In response to this new more distributed innovation paradigm the National Academies Board on Science Technology and Economic Policy STEP convened leading academics business leaders and senior policymakers from Germany and the United States to examine the strengths and challenges of their innovation systems More specifically they met to compare their respective approaches to innovation to learn from their counterparts about best practices and shared challenges and to identify cooperative opportunities The symposium was held in Berlin and organized jointly by the German Institute for Economic Research DIW and the U S National Academies with support of the German Federal Ministry for Education and Research BMBF and the American Embassy in Berlin Both U S and German participants described common challenges on a wide variety of issues ranging from energy security and climate change to low emissions transportation early stage financing and workforce training While recognizing their differences in approach to these challenges participants on both sides drew out valuable lessons from each other s policies and practices Participants were also aware of the need to adapt to a new global environment where many countries have focused new policy measures and new resources to support innovative firms and promising industries Meeting Global Challenges U S German Innovation Policy reviews the participants meeting and sets goals and recommendations for future policy Innovation and Regional Technological Convergence Tomasz Kijek,Arkadiusz Kijek,Anna Matras-Bolibok,2023-02-06 This open access book explores the role of innovation in technological convergence processes in the EU regional space and shifts the focus from absolute and conditional income convergence to technological convergence and its determinants Presenting new theoretical and empirical evidence on the determinants and trajectory of the EU region s development and convergence this book will appeal to scholars of economics and regional science as well as practitioners and policymakers interested in the policy implications of regional technological convergence The presented findings will also contribute to the development of the knowledge based economy paradigm in the regional context This is an open access book Gateway Cities in Global Production Networks Moritz Breul,2019-04-26 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the role of gateway cities in contemporary circuits of global production Apart from facilitating the interlinking of economic activities in the surrounding regions with the global economy gateway cities have enormous implications for how certain regions participate in the global economy Based on a case study of the oil and gas industry in Southeast Asia the book maps gateway cities explores why these cities have come to occupy a gateway role and evaluates their implications for regional economic development To this aim the book links components from research on the World City Network with Global Production Network research and demonstrates how this intersection creates synergies for studying the role of cities in economic globalization The main audiences that this book appeals to are researchers and students interested in debates on regional development and the role of cities in the global economy The book is also attractive to scholars interested in the organization of extractive industries River, Coastal and Estuarine Morphodynamics: RCEM 2007, Two Volume Set C.
