The Regionalist Movement in France, 1890-1914 N. J. G. Wright, 2003 The Regionalist Movement in France, 1890-1914 N. J. G. Wright, 2003 This is the first full academic study of the political thought of the French regionalist movement in the Belle Epoque Julian Wright has examined the private papers of Jean Charles Brun founder of the Federation Regionaliste Francaise in detail He has rethought the conceptual basis of regionalism through Charles Brun s intellectual biography showing that it penetrated the political debates of the period as a commonplace in Republican arguments about state reform Despite the often made association of regionalism with the right Dr Wright reveals the diversity of political views expressed and demonstrates that the connection to left wing federalism was emphatically present in the intellectual background Interwoven with this discussion is an examination of the personal mission of Charles Brun He saw himself as a reconciler using his regionalism within a mission to heal the divisions of French politics and society He argued that France s instability stemmed from an obsession with reforms that followed a priori political models and that politicians who sought to rethink the shape of the Republic needed to attend to the cultural or economic realities expressed in France s regions Charles Brun and his regionalist movement continue to have resonance in current debates about decentralization in France

Alsace to the Alsations? Christopher J. Fischer, 2014-04-01 The region of Alsace located between the hereditary enemies of France and Germany served as a trophy of war four times between 1870 1945 With each shift French and German officials sought to win the allegiance of the local populace In response to these pressures Alsations invoked regionalism articulated as a political language a cultural vision and a community of identity not only to define and defend their own interests against the nationalist claims of France and Germany but also to push for social change defend religious rights and promote the status of the region within the larger national community Alsatian regionalism

however was neither unitary nor unifying as Alsatians themselves were divided politically socially and culturally The author shows that the Janus faced character of Alsatian regionalism points to the ambiguous role of regional identity in both fostering and inhibiting loyalty to the nation Finally the author uses the case of Alsace to explore the traditional designations of French civic nationalism versus German ethnic nationalism and argues for the strong similarities between the two countries conceptions of nationhood

Resentment and the Right Sarah Shurts, 2017-06-05 Resentment and the Right French Intellectual Identity Reimagined 1898 2000 examines a century long struggle between cultural spokesmen on the extreme right and left to dominate and define the concept of the intellectual This struggle began with the introduction of the intellectual during the Dreyfus Affair of 1898 and continues even today among the intellectuals of the Nouvelle Droite This struggle to monopolize the public perception of intellectual identity and the status of moral and political guide the title conferred consumed the intellectual leaders of the extreme right and left and saturated their engagement in political affairs Because the left was the first to claim the title of intellectual in 1898 they defined the concept according to their own values and experiences Hereafter when intellectuals of the extreme right felt called to engage in public affairs they portrayed their struggle for recognition as one of an oppressed and ostracized minority against a hegemonic left Their resentment of this perceived repression became integral to their linguistic tropes professional trajectories cultural practices and their self conceptualization as intellectuals The book is organized around the argument that at each perceived national crisis throughout the century when intellectuals felt called to engage the right wing struggle to define true intellectual identity for the public followed a similar cycle self identification as intellectuals perception of exclusion by the intellectual left resentment of this ostracism and development of linguistic tropes of left wing hegemony and right wing repression differentiation revaluation and reappropriation of cultural values self imposed segregation of social networks and professional trajectories internalization and revaluation of their perceived role as intellectual pariahs and eventual isolation alienation and radicalization from the mainstream intellectual and political world All together this has resulted in a very different experience of intellectual life and a distinctive understanding of what it means to be an intellectual over the century

Between the New Country and the Old World Erin E. Edgington,2025-09-12 Poet and provocateur William Chapman 1850 1917 wrote patriotic verse recounting the history of New France envisioning a glorious future for its descendants Despite his many literary achievements he was a two time laureate of the Acad mie fran aise and a nominee for the Nobel Prize in Literature Chapman is more often remembered for his explosive feud with Louis Fr chette a rivalry that pitted the two national poets against one another and played out in vicious invective across the pages of Quebec newspapers Chapman s lifelong quest to glorify French Canada and accumulate literary prestige in North America and Europe positioned him squarely between the new country and the old world Over the course of his forty year career Chapman published five collections of poetry Les Qu becquoises 1876 Les Feuilles d'érable 1890 Les Aspirations 1904 Les Rayons du Nord 1909 and Les Fleurs de givre 1912 whose very titles underscore his devotion to French Canadian identity as well as his literary ambition Integrating close readings of Chapman's verse with archival material related to his writing life Erin Edgington revisits his full oeuvre on its own terms and in context discerning the particular ways Chapman expressed the ideas of literary value and national literature that motivated him from a young age from juvenilia like Les Mines d'or de la Beauce 1881 to his polemical essays and his unfinished magnum opus Le peuple canadienne Between the New Country and the Old World challenges the prevailing narrative that has labelled Chapman a second rate forgettable poet showing how his life and work reveal important insights into literary fame poetics in a transitional moment at the turn of the century and the history of French literature in North America

D?at de S?rac Robert F. Waters, 2017-07-05 D at de S rac 1872 1921 is best known for his piano music but his compositions included orchestral and vocal works including opera cantata and incidental music Claude Debussy described S rac s music as exquisite and rich with ideas The early works were influenced by Impressionist harmonies church modes cyclic techniques folk like melodies and Andalusian motives S rac s style changed dramatically in 1907 when he left Paris and began to include Catalan elements in his compositions a transition that has hitherto gone unrecognized Robert Waters provides a much needed study of the life and works of S rac focusing on the composer s regionalist philosophy S rac s engagement with folk music was not a patriotic gesture in the vein of nationalistic composers but a way of expressing regional identity within France to counter the restrictive styles sanctioned by the Paris Conservatory His musical philosophy mirrored larger social and political debates regarding anti centralist positions on education politics art and culture in fin de si e France Such debates involved political and social leaders whom S rac knew and personally admired including the writer Maurice Barr and the poet Fr ric Mistral The book will appeal to those specializing in French music European ethnic musics piano music and French music history

Wine, Sugar, and the Making of Modern France Elizabeth Heath,2014-10-09 Reveals how empire and global economic crisis redefined republican citizenship and laid the foundations of a racial state in France

Civic Continuities in an Age of Revolutionary Change, c.1750-1850 Judith Pollmann,Henk te Velde,2023-01-05 This open access book explores the role of continuity in political processes and practices during the Age of Revolutions It argues that the changes that took place in the years around 1800 were enabled by different types of continuities across Europe and in the Americas With historians of modernity tending to emphasise the rise of the new scholarship has leaned towards an assumption that existing modes of action thought and practice simply became extinct irrelevant or at least subordinate to new modes In contrast this collection examines continuities between early modern and modern political cultures and organization in Europe and the Americas Shifting the focus from political modernization the authors examine the continued relevance of older often local practices in post revolutionary politics By doing so they aim to highlight the role of local political traditions and practices in forging and enabling political change The book argues that while political change was in fact at the centre of both the old and new polities that emerged in the Age of Revolutions it coexisted with and was indeed enabled by continuities at other levels

The Rise of Heritage Astrid Swenson,2013-12-19 A richly illustrated book exploring the origins of the modern fascination for heritage comparing preservation in France Germany and England

Inventing the modern region Talitha Ilacqua,2024-03-12 This book explores the process by which the French Basque country acquired a folkloric regional identity in the long nineteenth century It argues that despite its origins in pre modern customs this stereotypical identity was invented as part of France s process of nation building The abolition of privileges in 1789 prompted a new interest in local culture as the defining feature of provincial France shaping the transition from the pre modern province to the modern region The relationship between the region and the nation however was difficult Regional culture favoured the integration of the French Basque provinces into the French nation state but also challenged the authority of the central state As a result Basque region building reveals the strengths and weaknesses of the unitary model of French nationhood in the nineteenth century as well as today Bronzes to Bullets, 2008-11-12 This text tells the story of French statues and monuments that were melted down and shipped to Nazi munitions factories during the Second World War Terror and terroir Andrew W. M. Smith, 2016-09-19 Terror and terroir investigates the Comité Régional d'Action Viticole CRAV a loose affiliation of militant winegrowers in the sun-drenched southern vineyards of the Languedoc. Since 1961 they have fought to protect their livelihood. They were responsible for sabotage, bombings, hijackings and even the shooting of a policeman. Against the backdrop of European integration and decolonisation they have rallied around banners of Resistance and their strong Republican heritage whilst their peasant protests fed into Occitan and anti-globalisation movements. At heart however the CRAV remain farmers championing the right of people to live and work the land. Between the romantic mythology of terroir and the misguided passionate violence of terror this book unpicks the contentious issues of regionalism, protest and violence. It offers an insight into a neglected area of France's past that continues to impinge on its future infused with one of the most potent symbols of French culture wine.
