Regression And Apocalypse Studies In North American Literary Expressionism:

Regression and Apocalypse Sherrill Grace, 1989 Expressionism continues to fascinate scholars and in fact has recently passed through yet another revival From its roots in German history aesthetics painting theatre and literature it has spread to become an international phenomenon In this analysis of Expressionist writing by Canadian and American authors Sherrill Grace adds important new dimension to our understanding of the works of a number of playwrights and novelists Working from a set of topoi and structural paradigms Grace discusses selected examples of expressionistic texts by Eugene O'Neill Herman Voaden Malcolm Lowry Ralph Ellison Djuna Barnes and Sheila Watson Each of these writers was demonstrably conversant with and influenced by German Expressionism in one or more media taken together they suggest an alternative modernism to that of Joyce Woolf or Stein and a common articulation of problems in stylistics genre and form and thematics Grace concludes by relating the expressionism of these modernists to the neo expressionism of postmodernist art pointing out a number of contemporary painters and writers who exploit the legacy of Expressionism in new ways Indigenous psychoanalytical atonement with himself and his environment in Ultramarine Swinging the Maelstrom The Forest Path to the Spring and October Ferry to Gabriola It also discusses the odyssey on which Lowry and his literary protagonists embark to connect with the past and to gain a deeper insight into human nature in Dark as the Grave Wherein My Friend is Laid La Mordida and Through the Panama Scholars of cultural studies history humanities Latin American studies literature and Russian studies will find this book particularly useful Joyce/Lowry Patrick A. McCarthy, Paul Tiessen, 2021-10-21 While James Joyce was a central figure of high modernism Malcom Lowry spoke for the next generation of modernist writers and despite his denials was almost certainly influenced by Joyce Wherever the truth lies there are correspondences and differences to be explored between Joyce and Lowry that are far more interesting than the question of direct influence Despite numerous differences their works have much in common verbal richness experimentation with narrative structure and perspective a fascination with cultural and historical forces as well as with the process of artistic creation and the inclusion of artist figures who are in varying degrees ironic self portrayals The contributors to Joyce Lowry examine the relationship of these two expatriate writers both to each other and to broader issues in the study of literary modernism and its aftermath This collection embraces a variety of approaches The volume begins with a consideration of Joyce and Lowry as practitioners of Expressionist art and concludes with an essay on John Huston's cinematic interpretation of works by both writers In between are explorations of nationalism anti-Semitism syphilis mental illness and authorial design rethinking of the nature of war They capture the limitations and hypocrisies of the Canadian social contract and argue for a more just and spiritual society His stories humanize his social vision by dramatizing the psychological and emotional cost of Canada's transition into a modern civilization In turn devastating penetrating and poignant Brooker's prose works offer a sharply focused window into the turbulent interwar years in Canada Published in English
